Former Student Returns To Lead Episcopal Church

(Ed. Note: This is the sixth in a series of articles designed to acquaint students with churches in the area in connection with Religious Emphasis Week.)

By ROBBIE GODWIN Battalion Staff Writer The story of the Rev. William Oxley, rector of the St. Thomas Episcopal Chapel, is one of an Aggie who came back to lead others.

The Rev. Oxley graduated with the Class of '39 in chemical engineering after coming to A&M from Arizona. He worked as an engineer for two years before entering the seminary in Berkeley, Calif.

Before returning to Aggieland, the Rev. Oxley served as pastor of a mission church at the University of Texas.

Working closely with the Rev. Oxley in the church is a UT man, Chaplain Earle Martin, but Rev. Oxley said they get along fine. "We just don't bring up the subject," he said.

The present chapel was built in 1938. It was first planned for construction at North Gate. But when plans for the New Corps area were complete, they built it on its present location on Jersey Street, set back in a grove of trees and surrounded with an air of serenity.

In 1947, Parish Hall was built in back of the chapel and serves as a nursery at the present time. The minister's office is located in a white frame building next to the chapel. It once served as a rectory.

Before the buildings were erected, the group met in Guion Hall and the YMCA, and was served by laymen or a Bryan pastor.

"The thing we have to offer is two ministers who are able to make personal contacts among the students and better fill their needs," the Rev. Oxley said.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY? THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH. The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
