Stock Show Prize Winner

Hudson Glimp and Donald Beerwinkle, Saddle & Sirloin Club members proudly display their Houston Fat Stock Show prize winning steer. In the center is Edgar Brown of Orange, who purchased the show animal. Brown, a former member of the A&M Board of Directors, paid $1 a pound for the 985-pound steer and then donated him to the club.

Campanella Boy Judged Delinquent

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy Campanella's son David, 15, Wednesday was adjudged a juvenile delinquent again, this time for a drugstore burglary. He was freed in the trust of his family and his church for formal sentencing April 10.

Children's Court Justice Sylvia Liese laid down a list of conditions to be followed by the boy, son of the former Dodger baseball star. She implied that should the boy disregard them, he may land in a reform school.

On the other hand, she told reporters after a closed court session, compliance may win the youth continued freedom on probation. She said she places rehabilitation of a juvenile delinquent ahead of punishment.

Campanella is one of six children in a Negro family. His father, long a leader in the battle against juvenile delinquency, was star catcher of the Dodgers baseball team. An auto accident a year ago left him paralyzed and confined to a wheelchair.

The elder Campanella now is in Florida as a coach with the Dodgers.

Taking note of David's background, Justice Liese told reporters: "I don't expect him to get any special treatment because he is the son of a famous father. I don't think he should be treated any worse on that account either."

Young Campanella first got into trouble Feb. 23 when he was among a number of boys arrested in a street fight in Queens. He was adjudged to be a juvenile delinquent at that time and released to his family with a warning.

Police questioned David about the Feb. 15 burglary of a Queens drugstore. They said he admitted he and a white companion took $9 in cash and some cigarettes.

Justice Liese said David admitted to her that he broke into the drugstore on a dare but denied taking anything.

US, British Disagree On Summit Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—A British-American split has developed backstage over whether a summit meeting should be called regardless of whether foreign ministers succeed in easing tension over Germany.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, fresh from talks in Moscow with Premier Nikita Khrushchev, is reported to favor a heads-of-government parley even if an advance foreign ministers conference fails to ease East-West differences.

President Eisenhower and his top advisers, on the other hand, favor summit talks only if the foreign ministers make progress in bridging the East-West gulf on concrete issues.

This conflicting British-American attitude toward the summit became known Wednesday in advance of Macmillan's arrival eight days hence for strategy talks with Eisenhower.

Macmillan is understood to believe there is no substitute for summit talks. In his view Khrushchev makes all the critical decisions for the Soviet Union and would be unlikely to entrust Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko with anything but power to draft an agenda.

The British leader and his top aides are reported fairly pessimistic about prospects on Germany even at a summit session.

S&S Animals Win Prizes At Houston Show

The Saddle & Sirloin Club walked away with five awards at the Houston Fat Stock Show last week.

A&M entered five show animals in competition and only one failed to win an award. In the fat lamb division, A&M won a first place, a fourth place and a championship rating during the open show. Seventh and tenth place awards were presented for the show calves entered.

Following the open show, these animals were sold at auction Friday. Proceeds of the sale will be used for Saddle & Sirloin Club activities including judging team trips, Little Southwestern Livestock Show awards and to purchase livestock to feed and exhibit next year.

Climaxing a year of hard work, the show committee of the club has exhibited 13 head of livestock at various stock shows this year. Exhibition livestock have won one first place award, two third place awards and one tenth place award.

The club sponsored this project to enable its members to receive experience and training in feeding, showing and management of livestock.

Members of the club have done all the work on these projects on a voluntary basis and have not received any pay for their work.

Law Dorm Council Plans for Barbecue

The Law Hall Dorm Council has laid plans for their annual barbecue to be held in Hensel Park March 20, according to Lee Griggs, dorm master.

All students living in Law Hall who have paid their dorm dues are invited, he said.

The purpose of the barbecue is to give the students an opportunity to get better acquainted with each other and as a kickoff for Civilian Weekend, Griggs said.

Barbecued beef or fish, along with salad, pickles and beans are the scheduled menu.

Skipper Calls Sub 'Greatest in World'

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The skipper of America's speediest submarine—the Skipjack—said Wednesday that it is the greatest in the world.

"The Skipjack will have no trouble in holding every submarine record," said the skipper, Cmdr. W. W. Behrens Jr., 36, of Harrisburg, Pa.

Commenting on the nuclear-powered vessel's first builders trials, he said: "We won't be out to set any records, just to do our job. But we probably will be breaking records without even trying."

"Fabulous—absolutely fabulous" was the way he described the Skipjack's performance in the two-day trials that ended Tuesday.

The Navy has described the 252-foot ship—of radically new design—as the world's fastest but has said only that it will exceed 20 knots.

He said the Skipjack—controlled with an airplane-type "joystick"—was extremely maneuverable. It went through rapid course changes, course reverses and depth changes without a hitch.

The same type atomic power plant as aboard the Skipjack is being turned over to Great Britain.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced in Washington that the transfer to Britain of a complete Skipjack-type propulsion plant, together with spare parts, design information and related secret data, has been authorized by the government.

It will be used in the British submarine Dreadnought, now under construction.

The Skipjack, in its sea trials, operated submerged most of the time.

"We could stay down for months if circumstances demanded," Behrens said.

The Skipjack, launched May 26, is expected to be commissioned this spring.

Mary Baker Eddy became the founder of Christian Science in 1870. She was born at Bow, N. H.

It is the first of a new class of attack submarines, using a streamlined hull form, a sail-like superstructure, a single propeller and a nuclear reactor with long life and high power.

Circuit Art Show Scheduled In MSC

A circuit show of art, consisting of 20 paintings, will be on exhibit in the Memorial Student Center Sunday, according to Mrs. Emalita Terry, advisor and instructor of the Memorial Student Center Fine Arts Committee.

The exhibit will include both modern and classical works done in oil, water color and casein.

Two local people, Mrs. Terry and John Lester, a Bryan businessman, will each exhibit a painting in the show.

Paintings in the exhibit were selected at the fall conference of the Texas Fine Arts Ass'n and are part of a group of paintings scheduled to make a circuit tour of Texas.
