

Farmers Deflate Steers, 4-2; Face Rice Tuesday, Thursday

Coach Tom Chandler's Aggie nine tackles the Rice Owls today in a rematch at Houston with both teams needing the victory to stay in the conference race.

The Farmers are a half game behind the Steers who boast a 9-4 record. A&M is 8-4 in the conference trailed by Rice who is 7-5.

The Cadets second game with the Owls is scheduled for Thursday at College Station with game time set at 3:30 p.m.

Big Wayne Schaper was the victor in the Friday contest that saw the Aggies down the Steers for the third time this season, 4-2. The senior from Galveston faced only 30 batters and gave up four hits, one of them a homer.

Aggie scoring started in the fourth inning when reliever Paul Zavorskas, credited with the loss, hit Byron Barber with a pitched ball to send the left-fielder to first.

First baseman Bo Paradowski tripled down the right field line to score Barber and then trotted home on a single to left by Stuffy Davis.

Texas tied up the game in the seventh when Butch Crain, pinch hitting for Roy Enderlin, reached first on an error. Pete Embry then latched onto a pitch for a homer over the right field fence to score the two runs.

The Cadets went ahead to stay in the eighth on three errors and a single. Windel Reed reached first on an error by Texas' second baseman Phil Hipps and scored on Barber's bunt that was fielded by Zavorskas and thrown into right field. Barber took third on the throw back from first and an error by Embry and then scored on a single by Randy Wortham.

Tech, SMU Linksters Tie For Title in SWC Tourney

John Farquhar of Texas Tech, shot a 2-under-par 68 on the final 18 holes Saturday to tie Gene Teter of Southern Methodist for the championship of Southwest Conference golf.

Each wound up with 284 for 72 holes and will be co-champions. Teter had a 72 on the final 18.

Farquhar, making a great finish, could have won the title had he sunk an 8-foot birdie putt on the last hole.

Don Kaplan of Texas Tech was third with 288.

Don Massengale of Texas Christian, the defending champion, finished well down the list with 294.

John Paul Cain of Texas Tech's championship team tied Billy Martindale and Binky Mitchell of Texas A&M for fourth place at 290 while Charles Coody of Texas Christian was seventh with 293. Massengale and Chris Blocker of Texas Tech tied for eighth with 294. Johnny Arreaga of Baylor was tenth with 295 while Don Harmon of Baylor finished 11th with 296.

Other scores: Beryl Anthony, Arkansas, 304; Frank Mackey, Texas Christian, and Bob Nelson, Texas, 307; Tom Williams, Rice, 315.

Teter's card for the tournament showed 71-70-71-72-284. Farquhar's was 74-70-72-68-284.

Norm Van Brocklin of the Philadelphia Eagles was the fourth leading National Football League passer last season with Los Angeles.

Texas Relay's Champ

Blustery winds failed to halt the Texas Longhorns Friday and Saturday at College Station as they swept to their sixth straight Southwest Conference track and field championship.

The Steers won nine events and tied for first in the 10th to run away with the title, collecting 87½ points while runner-up SMU garnered 42½ trailed by the Aggies with 37½.

A&M, Texas Tech, Rice and TCU each provided one winner in the track and field carnival.

Owen Hill was the gold medal winner for the Farmers with a heave of 165-8¾ in the discus.

Tech's James Pettit won the low hurdles, Dale Mosely won the broad jump while TCU's James Livergood scored a first in the 880-yard run.

Eddie Southern, the Texas flash, failed in his bid to set a new conference record in the 440-yard dash with strong winds in the back stretch holding him to a timing of 47.0.

Only one runner managed to beat the wind for a new record, and it was SMU's Jan Ahlberg who raced home for a new mark in the two-mile run in 9:18.7.

High point man of the meet was Texas' Hollis Gainey with 13 points, dethroning last year's winner, Southern. Ralph Alspaugh was runner-up with 12½ points. Gainey finished second in both dashes and ran on two winning relay teams to collect his points.
