The Aggie baseball nine completed the Southwest Conference Cinderella story of the year Saturday when they downed the Baylor Bears to win the SWC championship.

A&M, picking up their sixth undisputed title in 44 years, won three games last week to take the honors. First they beat Rice 8-7, squeaked by them again 2-1, and finished in a blaze of glory by defeating Baylor 3-1 to clinch the championship.

The Arizona Wildcats will travel to Bryan the end of this month to play the Farmers, the winner of the series scheduled to advance into the NCAA Tournament at Omaha next month.

Games will be played at 8 p.m. Monday, June 1, and will continue through Wednesday, June 3, in a best two-out-of-three series. If either team wins two games straight, the third tilt will not be necessary.

Four years ago the Aggies, 1955 SWC champions, played Arizona a three-game series in Bryan's Travis Park. The three-game series drew 14,000 fans and grossed $9,100.

All three games were tight, the Farmers dropping the opener, 6-2; winning the second game, 5-0, and losing the final game by a 2-1 score.

The City of Bryan has agreed to let the series be played in Travis Park and said they would fix up the field for the series. The diamond is the only one in this area with lights for night games.

A&M has played only one game under night conditions this year, although the Wildcats have lighting in the Border Conference which they represent.

Coach Tom Chandler said his team will begin working out under lights later this week in order to prepare them for the series, but practice will have to be at Travis Park since Kyle Field has no lighting except on the football practice field.

Chandler gave the Cadets Monday off to rest after their victory over the Bears Saturday, but moved them out onto the playing field yesterday and today in preparation for the Arizona series.
