Insurance Rate Methods Explained At Lions Meeting

The two automobile insurance rate making systems, flexible and merit, were explained by Lions member M. L. Cashion at the weekly meeting of the College Station Lions Club in the Memorial Student Center Monday.

According to Cashion, an insurance company, when using the flexible method of rate making, can charge any rate and write any kind of policy.

In explaining the merit system, he said that a person's insurance policy can be lowered by not having any accidents. Because of this Cashion favored the merit rating system, but added "we cannot predict who will have accidents and this is the only problem with the system."

During his talk, Cashion pointed out why insurance rates are going up. Among these reasons were new auto designs, cost of new autos, cost of labo and parts, theft losses and etc.

In other business, the Lions members discussed the nearing fourth of July program, the A&M Consolidated Community event. Various members volunteered to help with various phases of the program.

Math Prof Serves On Institute Staff

R. L. Nolen, assistant professor of mathematics, is serving on the staff of the Summer Institute for High School Teachers of Mathematics to be held on the campus of Our Lady of the Lake College in San Antonio.

He is serving the institute as visiting professor and associate director.

Thoughtfulness Costs

William Cochrane is shown with his sign he displayed at Galveston. Cochrane meant well but local police took a dim view of his thoughtfulness. He was fined $10 and cost on a charge of interfering with an officer. (AP Wirephoto).

The Little League Corner

By RUSSELL BROWN

The dust has settled on the American League South's action in the first half with the Red Sox victors in the first section of play. The Red Sox compiled a 7-2 record beating out the Senators by one game as the Senators sported a 6-3 mark. In third place with a 5-4 record were the White Sox while the Orioles brought up the rear with a 0-9 mark.

Last Wednesday's play found the Red Sox trouncing the Orioles, 15-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Jimbo Robison and the Senators clipping the White Sox, 5-2.

In the first game the Sox used two big frames to rack up the win scoring seven times in the third and six times in the fourth. Randy Hall and Derrill Nixon took the batting honors with two-for-three nights with Hall pounding out his first round tripper. Tim Erskine and Rob Haley got the only hits off Robison as the little hurler walked three and struck out three. Rodney Greer took the defeat for the Birds.

In the second game the Senators used the strong pitching of Larry Godfrey, the hitting of Russell Hanna, Walter Varvel, and Howard Nelson and the fielding blunders of the Sox to nail down the victory. Hanna broke a 2-2 deadlock in the third with his first homer of the season and the Senators went on to win. Godfrey allowed only four hits while walking five and whiffing six. Joe Powell took the loss, giving up only one earned tally as he walked none and struck out eight.

On Friday the Sens downed the Orioles, 10-1 while the White Sox nipped a sixth inning Red Sox rally to win 6-5.

Extra base blows gave the Sens their victory as Godfrey, Hanna and Varvel paced the winners. Randy Storms threw a four-hitter at the Orioles, losing his shutout in the sixth when Jerry Davis pounded a homer. Mark Hayes took the defeat as the Orioles failed to chalk a victory in the first half.

In the second tilt John Skrabanek and Hubert Hearne mixed it up in a pitcher's battle as Skrabanek, with the help of reliever Eddie Putz, bested the Red Sox.

The White Sox broke a 3-3 tie in the fifth when they combined a hit, an error, a passed ball and two wild pitches to score three runs. The Red Sox came back and had the bases loaded with two out and two runs in on Bob Jones' double when Jimbo Robison attempted to steal home. Reliever Putz, who had his back turned, whirled and threw to James Carter to nip the sliding Robison.

Hubert Hearne slammed his seventh homer in the third after Powell had reached over the center field fence to rob Hall of a sure four-bagger.
