

Weather

Partly cloudy today and Friday with scattered thunder-showers. No important changes in temperatures.

THE

BATTALION

STUDY NOW

Published Daily on the Texas A&M College Campus

Number 132: Volume 58

COLLEGE STATION, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 13, 1959

Price Five Cents

Journalism Workshop Ends Friday

A&M Organization Gets Minor Change

Several organizational changes at A&M were announced today by President Earl Rudder.

"In order to make the student life program more efficient, certain changes have been effected," Rudder said. "Formerly dual setups in student activities existed, one headed up by the Memorial Student Center, and the other in a Student Activities office. Also, the golf course and intramurals were in the office of Student Activities," Rudder continued.

"The new organization consolidates student activities in the Memorial Student Center, and places recreational sports in the Department of Physical Education," the president explained.

The specific personnel reassignments are as follows:

W. L. Penberthy, formerly director of Student Activities, has been assigned to the Physical Education Department as professor; Barney Welch, director of intramurals, goes to the Physical Education Department in the same capacity;

Joe Fagan, manager of the golf course, is assigned to the Physical Education Department in the same capacity;

C. G. "Spike" White and W. D. "Pete" Hardesty, formerly in the Department of Student Activities, have been assigned to the Memorial Student Center in charge of student activities;

William Turner, director of the Music Department, formerly in the Department of Student Activities, has been assigned to the Memorial Student Center in the same capacity;

Tom Puddy, manager of Guion Hall, assigned to the MSC in the same capacity;

Col. E. F. Sauer, formerly director of Student Labor and Loans in the Placement Office, will be assigned to the Division of Business Administration. Student Labor and Loans will remain in the Placement Office under the direction of Bill Hensel.

New Dean Takes Over

James (Jim) P. Hannigan, center, has assumed the duties as dean of students at A&M this week. He is shown conferring with Col. Joe Davis, left, commandant, School of Military Sciences and Bennie Zinn, right, director of Student Personnel Services.

Activities under the direction of Davis and Zinn will be under the leadership of Dean Hannigan. The new organization promises more efficiency in the student life program at A&M.

First Event Brings 347 to Aggieland

It was a touch of coeducation at A&M this week as the campus was invaded with some 200 high school girls here for the First Annual Journalism Workshop.

All in all, including high school students and faculty members, the delegation attending the bright, educational event still being held, numbers 347. They are housed in Milner and Leggett Halls.

The workshop, which will come to a close tomorrow, is a concentrated course of instruction in the fundamentals of high school newspaper and year book production.

It is being conducted by the Department of Journalism and the Department of Education and Psychology and is co-sponsored by the Texas Daily Newspapers Assn. and the Texas Press Assn.

Dr. Otha Spencer, head of the Division of Mass Communications at East Texas State College, is in charge of the conference section on yearbooks, and Mrs. Edith King, head of the Department of Journalism at San Antonio College, directs the newspaper section.

Professional men and women in the conference program included Jack Donahue, managing editor of the Houston Post; Betty Rose Cravens, women's editor of the Houston Chronicle; Walter Robertson, assistant sports editor of the Dallas Morning News; James E. Wagner, managing editor of the Houston Press; Murray Neal, city editor of the Waco News-Tribune, and Phil R. North, vice president of the Fort Worth Star Telegram and president of the Texas Daily Newspaper Assn.

The program is being coordinated by Donald D. Burchard, head of the Department of Journalism, and Dr. Grady P. Parker, head of the Department of Education and Psychology.

"The spirit which motivates you to attend this Journalism Workshop speaks well for your journalistic future," Dr. M. T. Harrington, chancellor of the A&M System, said Monday in welcoming the high school boys and girls and teachers to the campus.

"We are proud and honored to have you on the campus of Texas A&M College. I know you will derive the kind of benefit you seek at this workshop."

"Professor Burchard, head of the Journalism Department, has lined up outstanding newspapermen and women, in practically all phases of the profession, to counsel and guide you in the workshop. Please come again and let us know if we can be of further service."

Certificates of participation will be presented at a luncheon that will close the conference tomorrow.

Attending from Bryan and College Station are, Bryan: Linda Plagens Jackie Conrad, Cassandra Lang, Judy Rountree, Sarah Sidall, Joyce Cargill, Beverly Ogg and Mrs. Lela Edwards, sponsor.

College Station: Russell E. Brown and Marilyn Whatley, sponsor.

Nineteen high school journalism teachers and school publications sponsors are attending the workshop on scholarships awarded by the Newspaper Fund, Inc., of New York City.

They are Mrs. Lela Edwards, Stephen F. Austin, Bryan; Miss Martha Van Meter, Ray High School, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Joan Leon, Highlands High School, San Antonio; Mrs. Jack Van Beber, Dumas High School; Ben Brock, Newman High School, Sweetwater; Mrs. Frances Hall, Travis High School, Austin; Mrs. Joan Reese, Pasadena High School; Mrs. Billie Wise, Spring Branch High School, Houston; Mrs. Jewel Gibson, Cypress Fairbanks High School, Cypress; Royce Brown, Arlington High School; Miss Hazell Bechtold, Beaumont High School; Mrs. Margaret Caskey, Paschal High School, Fort Worth; Mrs. Louise Early, Reagan High School, Houston; Miss Jean Dugat, A. C. Jones High School, Beeville; Mrs. Nell Benson, Winters High School; Mrs. Marie Barfield, South Houston High School; Mrs. C. E. Jopling, Wharton High School; Mrs. H. M. Gibson, Birdville High School, Fort Worth; and Jack O. Hazlerigg, Aransas Pass High School.

CS Chamber To Present Program Soon

The College Station Chamber of Commerce will present its work program and proposed budget to an open meeting of the citizens of College Station in September, said L. S. Paine, president.

The preceding announcement was made following a meeting of the Board of Directors earlier this week.

A tentative program designed to improve the business and living conditions in College Station and to improve communications, cooperation and public relations within the community has been designed by the Chamber.

The program has been discussed at great length by the directors and is the result of many hours of discussion.

"To be successful," Paine pointed out, "the program will need the support of all the interested citizens of College Station, and this is the purpose of the open meeting Sept. 1."

The board of directors is composed of the following: W. A. Bradley, H. E. Burgess, Don Hale, Lee Duewall, W. D. Fitch, Phil Goode, Mrs. R. A. Knapp, K. A. Manning, Lucian Morgan, Lacey McCall, L. S. Paine, John Pruitt, Mrs. Marior Pugh, Herb Shaffer and Gene Sutphen.

Move Continues Against Magazines

A movement advocating the banning of "filthy" magazines in the College Station area gained more momentum Monday when Mrs. William E. Kidd spoke at the Lions Club in the MSC.

Mrs. Kidd had earlier spoken to the Kiwanians at their meeting which was held last Tuesday.

Similar campaigns are now in progress in Houston and Austin with their purpose to clear all city news stands of "filthy" magazines.

Mrs. Kidd, a local housewife, said that several petitions are being circulated in the community to request the City Council to pass an ordinance to ban the circulation of these magazines in the city.

Mrs. Kidd did not mention the names of any of the magazines to be considered as "filthy." However, she did present a number of her publications at the Lions and Kiwanis meetings.

The first action toward banning was already taken place in College Station's city government. Mayor Earnest Langford instructed City Attorney C. E. Dillon to investigate the possibilities of passing a city ordinance calling for the banning of "filthy" magazines.

Dillon said that he has sent requests to Houston and to the Texas League of Municipalities for sample ordinances. He said that the council would study these ordinances to determine which course of action would best suit College Station.

A major problem for the council is to determine which magazines will be censored. Dillon reported that most cities appoint citizen's committees to determine which publications should be banned. Dillon, when asked how these committees would decide on which magazines they would ban, replied, "They usually go by what has been done in the past by other communities."

Dillon's report will be turned in and studied at the August meeting of the City Council.

Experiment Group Conducts Survey Of Galveston Area

A recent economic survey and evaluation of Galveston reveals it to be suitable for 10 specialized types of industries. The work was conducted by the Texas Engineering Experiment Station, a part of the A&M System.

The industries are those for production or operations as follows: aluminum castings; air conditioning units (assembly); rolling, drawing and extruding of aluminum; boats (aluminum or plastic or wood); metal outdoor furniture; meat packing; plastic film extruding; rubber and plastics molding; frozen seafoods and electrical industrial apparatus (assembly).

The study emphasized also that Galveston possesses a number of characteristics which can properly be counted as positive attractions to new industry. Among these are (1) more than adequate transportation facilities including deep water shipping; (2) proximity to new and growing markets; (3) an abundance of fuel and power at attractive rates; and (4) potential industrial land fronting deep water.

Staff members Bill R. Shelton and Russell H. Thompson and L. S. Paine, head of the Industrial Economics Research Division of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station, conducted the survey and made the evaluation. They worked in cooperation with the Galveston Chamber of Commerce. A comprehensive report covers the findings.

Seventy Foreign Students Enrolled

A total of 70 foreign students representing 25 countries, are enrolled for the second term of the summer session at A&M.

Pakistan leads the list with 15 students, Mexico is second with seven and India and Venezuela are third with six each.

The breakdown shows that Afghanistan, Chile, China, Costa Rica, Greece, Jordan, Korea, Lebanon, Nicaragua, Scotland and Thailand, have one each.

Brazil, Colombia, Egypt, Honduras, Indonesia and the Philippines have two each.

Bolivia, El Salvador, Peru, three each; Panama four; India, Venezuela, six each; Mexico, 7 and Pakistan, 15.

MSC Music Series

Wilson, Mitchell Entertain Sunday

The Memorial Student Center Summer Music Series will present Carolyn Ann Wilson, soprano, and Charles M. Mitchell Jr., baritone, on its final program of the season Sunday at 4 p.m. in the MSC Main Lounge.

On the same program will be Peter Dehlinger and Gordon Reynolds, flutists, who will perform a special duet. Miss Wilson's accompanist will be Anita Mowery, and Dorothy Berry will accompany Mitchell. MSC Summer Directorate hostess for the presentation will be Jo Anna White.

Classical, Popular

Combining classical and popular selections, Miss Wilson's program will include "Voi Lu Sapete" by Mascagni, Robyn's "A Heart That's Free", "Baubles, Bangles, and Beads" by Wright and Forrest, and a Rodgers and Hammerstein favorite, "A Wonderful Guy".

Romberg, Rodgers and Hammerstein, Herbert and Friml are a few of the composers whose music will be sung by Mitchell, who has selected "The Riff Song", "Oh, What a Beautiful Mornin'", "Pretty as a Picture" and "Rose Marie" among others on his program.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wilson, 712 Garden Acres, Miss Wilson is a sophomore at the University of Houston, attending college on a voice scholarship. Soloist in the University of Houston's annual performance of "Elijah" this year, she also sang the feminine lead in the summer operetta "Trial By Jury", sponsored in July by the A&M Department of Student Activities.

Chorus Soloist

While at A&M Consolidated High School, the young artist was a chorus soloist for four years, a "night of music" soloist for three years, two-year winner of the high school talent show, and twice a first place soloist in the state contest. She has been a soloist for the A&M Methodist Church choir for the past five years.

Well-known locally, Mitchell has also participated in the A&M summer operettas, singing the role of the judge in this year's "Trial By Jury". A soloist for many churches and civic clubs, he also has taken part in the Lion's minstrel show.

The baritone was a member of Stephen F. Austin High School's a capella choir and has studied privately under Elizabeth Boldenweick, Mrs. Bill Guthrie and Mrs. Joe Barron.

Carolyn Ann Wilson ... soprano

Charles M. Mitchell ... baritone

Secretaries Hold Monthly Meeting

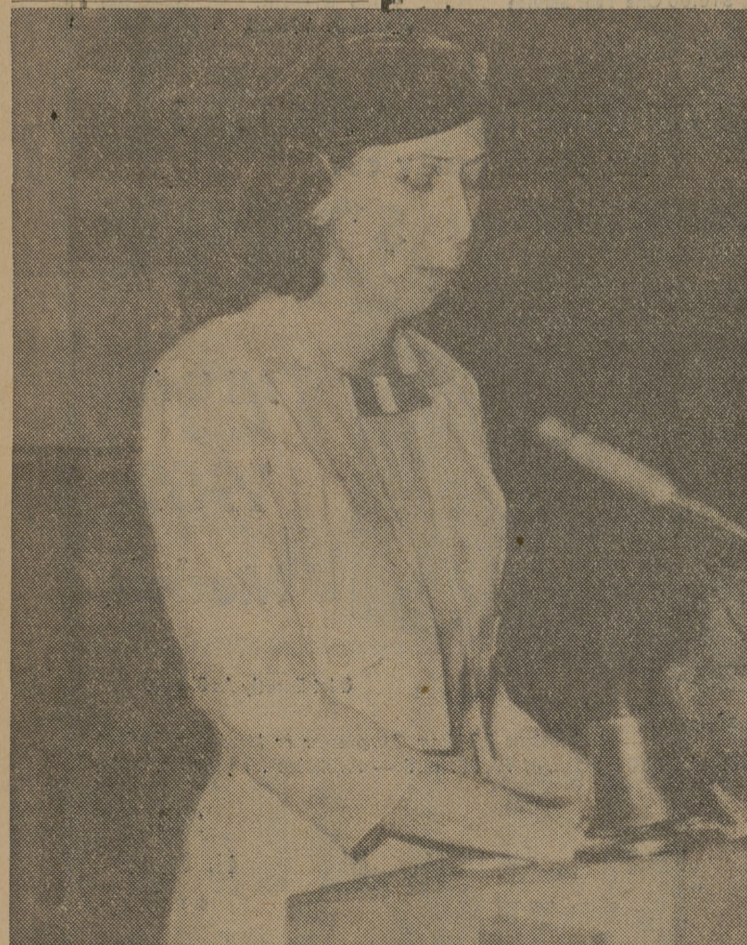

Fifteen members were present at the monthly meeting of the Bryan-College Station Chapter of the National Secretaries Assn. at the Triangle Restaurant, 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Special guest for the evening was Mrs. Dale Leipper, wife of the speaker.

"Glimpses of Life and Science in the USSR" was the presentation of Dr. Dale Leipper, speaker for the evening. Leipper made a tour of Russia in 1958 and showed many interesting slides from his trip. His comments on the women in the USSR presented quite a contrast from the life we enjoy here in the United States. Leipper is Head of the Department of Oceanography and Meteorology, and is widely known in his field.

At the business meeting which followed President Margaret Coleman introduced a new member, Mrs. Benita Williams, who is employed by the Texas Transportation Institute.

Plans for the Seminar to be held Jan. 9, 1960 will be centered around the theme "Destination: Success". Co-chairmen for the seminar are Mrs. Florence Hall and Miss Alma Kasner.

Mrs. William E. Kidd ... speaks at Lions Meeting

Guide Posts

To go along that road and to reach the goal, is all one with the will to go; but it must be strong and single will, not a broken-winged wish fluttering hither and thither, rising with one pinion, struggling and falling with the other.—St. Augustine.