

Athletic Officers Make Plans For Fall Intramural Schedule

By JOE CALLICOATE
Assistant Sports Editor

Intramural organization for the 1959-60 season began yesterday with a meeting of Corps and civilian athletic officers.

Barney Welch, intramural director, presided at the meeting and gave the aims and instruction for the intramural program this year.

Welch gave the officers entry cards, schedules and intramural handbooks. The handbooks will be distributed to each room on the campus as well as to students who live off campus.

Swimming intramurals will begin Oct. 6. The freshman division will swim in the afternoon and the upperclassmen at night.

After swimming is over the freshmen will start football, horse-shoes and ping pong while the upperclassmen will have basketball, handball and bowling.

A new sport is in store for intramural participants this year with a pig and calf scramble. The scramble will probably be a three night event with the five best times getting intramural points.

Welch said that date would be announced far enough ahead to give each organization a chance to organize a team.

Another new wrinkle for this year's intramurals will be a Pan

American team composed of students who are from Pan America, but live in different dorms. Welch added that there had been a need for such a team for several years because many of the Pan American students don't play the sports that we do.

Welch strongly stressed that the intramurals be handled by the intramural officers instead of passed on to someone else. He added that the intramural officers had been here three years and can give a better program than some of the more inexperienced men, and that certain sports should not be "pushed off" on under-classesmen. "Spectators should be left at home in regular scheduled games," said Welch. He said that there just wasn't enough room for spectators around some of the intramural fields.

Welch said that he needs 50 intramural managers and anyone interested should contact him at his office in DeWare Field House before Oct. 30. He also said that individual equipment could be picked up at the intramural office at any time.

James A. Priddy, athletic officer for College View, said that anyone living in College View and wanting to play intramurals to contact him at A-9-D.

First baseman Kent Hadley of Kansas City played with Terre Haute, Augusta and Syracuse in 1956. He formerly belonged to Detroit.
