Citizens Fellowship To Give Objectives at Meeting Tonight

The Citizens Fellowship, a local inter-racial group, will meet at 8 p. m. tonight in the adult Bible classroom of the A&M Presbyterian Church.

A program has been planned to present the objectives of the Citizens Fellowship, progress made last year and plans for future projects.

Residents of the Bryan-College Station area who are interested in furthering understanding among people of all races are invited to attend this meeting, according to the Rev. L. W. Flowers and Dr. Fred Sargent, co-chairmen of the group.

Since the Citizens Fellowship was first organized a year ago, it has sponsored several projects including an interdenominational Bible school. Members come from many churches in the community and the group has no connection with any other organization.

Emmons Riddle, veteran Yale end from Highland Park, Ill., is 6-foot-5.

Hildebrand Joins Sociology Staff

Dr. Pete E. Hildebrand has joined the staff of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology as an assistant professor.

He will teach undergraduate courses in farm management and conduct research in the "Economic Evaluation of Ranch Organization and Management" for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. He will utilize the new Data Processing Center in his work on linear programming.

Hildebrand recently received his Ph.D. degree in agricultural economics from Michigan State University. One of his graduate papers has been published in the Journal of Farm Economics.

A native of Brush, Colo., Hildebrand received his B.S. degree from Colorado State University in animal husbandry, and was a member of both the livestock and wool judging teams. His master's work in agricultural economics was also completed at Colorado State.

knee operation, and will not be able to compete this year.

All Aggies and members of the college staff are eligible to enter the events. Entry fees are $10 for all events except calf roping and steer dogging which are $15.

Gene Yeager, Rodeo Club secretary, is handling the books and interested contestants should see him to enter. Yeager lives in apartment C-9-D of College View. Also there will be a meeting of the Rodeo Club Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the Animal Industry Building. Contestants can enter events at that meeting, Bennett said.

Rodney Butler and Kenneth Beasley, two former Aggie rodeo team members, will act as arena directors. Tommy Barker will be the announcer and Royce Hudson will be the clown.

Trophy belt buckles will be awarded to all first place winners in the various events.

Oldsters Ate Bear; So Will Inmates

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Portland city jail inmates will be served bear meat, probably in stew.

A motorist telephoned police and said he had run over a bear on the Columbia Gorge Highway east of Portland.

Would the police like it? Yes. Officers anxious to dress the carcass, let the man get away without identifying himself.

The bear, which appeared to be about seven months old, yielded some 60 pounds of meat, police said.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP)—Confusion over the nation's economy, Rep. Don Teves (R-Wis.) noted, is not confined to politicians. Teves said he received a letter from a building contractor, complaining about the recession and calling for a variety of federal aid to his industry.

The letter was written, Teves discovered, from Hawaii—where the hard-pressed contractor was vacationing.

It takes two to fill the bill
