

Placement Office Director Named Association Head

F. W. Hensel, assistant director of the Placement Office at A&M, is the new president of the Southwest Placement Assn. Hensel was elected to the presidency at the meeting of the association held at Hot Springs, Ark.

Hensel succeeds John M. Brooks, director of the Business Employment Service at North Texas State College in Denton.

The delegates to the meeting heard a St. Louis banker and former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, William A. McDonnell, deliver a major address.

McDonnell said that "business, unions and the education system need to improve their ability to continuously retain experienced workers."

Happy Anniversary

Dr. W. F. Howard, left, offers congratulations and a happy anniversary to the Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Brown on their 40th anniversary and also the 40th consecutive year they have attended the Baptist Student Union Convention.

Pastor Attends 40th Convention

Special to The Battalion
FORT WORTH—A prominent Baptist pastor from College Station celebrated a significant 40th anniversary here Saturday.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Brown, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of College Station for 30 years, were special guests at the 40th annual state Baptist Student Union Convention meeting here this weekend.

The Rev. and Mrs. Brown have not missed a single BSU Convention since the students met for the first time 40 years ago.

The Rev. Brown was the first Baptist Student Union director at A&M, setting up the full-time student work here in 1920. The enthusiastic minister also organized the Bible department at A&M 12 years ago and taught in the department during its opening semester.

Although retired from the full time ministry, the Rev. Brown still pounds the pulpit every Sunday as supply pastor at the old Independence Baptist Church in Independence.
