

Local Women Take Seal Step

A group of Bryan and College Station women stuck to the job Monday until every name was stuck on the envelopes to be used in the annual Christmas Seal Sale, according to Mrs. I. W. Rupel, Sale Chairman.

"Sticking name labels on envelopes is just one of the many steps in the preparation of the letters to be mailed on Nov. 16 to Brazos County residents when the 1959 sale opens," Mrs. Rupel said.

Workers on Monday included Mrs. G. E. Madeley, Mrs. Mary E. Parker, Mrs. I. N. Kelley, Mrs. R. A. Eads, Mrs. Fred Jones, Mrs. W. C. Andres, Mrs. R. C. Potts and Mrs. W. I. Glass.

Tuesday members of the Auxiliary to the Brazos County Medical Society sorted and counted the envelopes as to keys for the records and reports to be sent to the Texas Tuberculosis Assn. at the end of the sale.

Members who helped were Mrs. R. B. Grant, Mrs. James I. Lindsay, Mrs. Jack Marsh, Jr., Mrs. L. O. Wilkerson, Mrs. R. H. Bembow and Mrs. J. F. Cooper.

Women from Kurten finished counting the envelopes on Wednesday when they took over. These volunteers were Mrs. Donald King, Mrs. Jesse Heine and Mrs. Howard Joham.

"The success of the sale depends on the work of these volunteers," Mrs. Rupel said. "It is a county wide project in which helps from every community take part."

SENATOR

(Continued from Page 1) in A-Bomb production, nine months to equal our H-Bomb and at the present time, is far in advance of our country in conquering space.

"The American people, as a whole, must wake up to the fact that the Soviet Union is far from being complacent or satisfied with their accomplishments," added the Senator. "We MUST mobilize our best brains and our most highly trained minds for the exploration of outer space—a dimension that will occupy the thinking of mankind for several centuries."

Sen. Johnson closed the informal session by complimenting A&M for the fine and outstanding leaders the college has produced and continues to produce each year.

The Senator broke into a broad smile and commented, "My only regret toward A&M College is that I never had the opportunity to be a Texas Aggie."

El Paso Inmate Named Prison Rodeo Champion

Champion inmate rider of the 28th annual Texas Prison Rodeo is Vernon Abbott, serving 10 years from El Paso, who came through four performances of the event with a total of $296.75 in prize money.

The announcement was made by Albert Moore, veteran director of the rodeo which is held each Sunday during October. Abbott unseated the 1958 champion, O'Neal Browning, a lifer from Houston, whose earnings came to $247.75. Browning won the second place spot—a spot he has virtually had to himself for eight of the past nine rodeos.

Cruz Davila, serving 99 years from Cotulla, did so well during the performance that he was able to pull his record from the bottom of the list to third place with $140 to his credit.

Two other veteran inmate riders shared in the top money. They include E. A. (Cotton) Morris, a lifer from Victoria, and Johnny McDonald, serving 12 years from Sherman. Morris earned $137, while McDonald chalked up $110.75.

With the rodeo now history, prison officials praised Texas newspapers for giving liberal space to make the the 1959 series a success.
