

'Budget' To Be Big U.S. Word in '60

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Not even a national prize for fancy phrasing could make the word budget sound exciting. But it will be one of 1960's major sore spots and talking points.

Last month the Senate Republican Policy Committee predicted budget balancing would be the big issue in Congress next year and then later, in the presidential campaign.

And because government economy, or lack of it, will hold such a high place in the national consciousness in 1960 you, who pay for the budget with your taxes, have practically no hope for a tax cut next year.

For Republicans, budget-balancing is both a rallying post and a tender point.

In the 1952 campaign President Eisenhower was pretty optimistic about reducing government spending. He hasn't always succeeded. In the last fiscal year the government went 12½ billion dollars in the red, a peacetime record.

For that fiscal year—which started July 1, 1958 and ended June 30, 1959—Eisenhower proposed spending 74 billion dollars. He was off on his estimate because the 1958 recession sent government income down and expenses up.

This year—for the 1960 fiscal year beginning July 1, 1959—the President asked 77 billion but spending may hit over 79 billion. That does not necessarily mean a deficit, because government income has picked up.

No wonder that Eisenhower—remembering the deficits, his early hopes of cutting down spending, the need for economy in dealing with inflation—went after the Democrats like a man with a mallet. He did more than just appeal to Congress for economy. He went on TV to get public support and pressure on Congress. He kept banging away on the same theme all through the 1959 congressional session.

One effect of all this was to make the Democratic-run Congress so self-conscious about spending that it pretty much ate out of his hand. He can be expected to do no less next year, his last full White House year.

He has been subjected to criticism, of course, for not pumping more money into defense and other areas to keep abreast of the Soviets or to surpass them.

This year, since relations with the Soviet Union seem a little warmer and Premier Nikita Khrushchev, is calling for world disarmament, Eisenhower has some added ammunition to use against those who believe he is not making the maximum effort.

It may be rather comforting to all sides in a dispute over government spending that they can't see 10 years into the future. It may take that long to prove who is right and who is short-sighted now.

Very possibly, since economy and government spending will be a presidential campaign issue, the Democrats may trot along beside Eisenhower in keeping down the budget.

But that won't prevent about six months of yipping and yapping on both sides during the congressional session.

Monday Eisenhower tentatively okayed part of the budget he will offer Congress in January—41 billion dollars for the military forces—which was just about what he asked this year.

That might indicate he has in mind the same kind of total budget for next year that he requested this year: 77 billion.

Even if the politicians of both parties were stricken speechless in 1960 there would still be an awful budget rumpus if only from the Army, Navy and Air Force, each of which always wants more money than Eisenhower says they need.

What's Cooking

The following clubs and organizations will meet tonight:

7:30
ASME meets in the Assembly Room of the Memorial Student Center.

AICHE meets in Room 231 of the Chemistry Building.

Pre-Med, Pre-Dent Society will meet in the Biological Sciences Building. Dr. Everett Favor, D.D.S., from Houston, will speak on "Dentistry as a Profession."

Sixty-three pulp and paper mills now operating in southern states employ 71,239 people whose payroll income totals approximately $351,306,000 annually.

CADET SLOUCH

by Jim Earle Design Student Society Plans First Meeting in MSC Tonight

The Design Student Society of the Division of Architecture will hold its first general meeting tonight at 7:30 in Rooms 3-B and 3-C of the Memorial Student Center.

Dale Hutton of Altus, Okla., will present a slide lecture on New York office practice. All freshmen and sophomore architecture students are especially urged to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

A new organization formed this year, the Design Student Society was established by the design students in the Division of Architecture. Various talks, slide lectures and movies are planned for future meetings.

Officers of the DDS include David L. Alexander of Houston, president; E. Wayne Schmidt of Temple, vice president; Jimmy R. Patterson of Seagoville, secretary; C. Harold Lundy of Dallas, and Joe Bailey Brooks of Houston, treasurers; and Rex Boone of San Angelo, fifth year adviser.

Committee Chairmen are Gordon Barker, Charles Thompson, David Alexander, E. Wayne Schmidt, Marvin Boland, Bill Canady and Jerry Wilson.

Edward J. Romieniec is faculty adviser and Joseph J. McGraw is assistant faculty adviser.

JOB INTERVIEWS

The following companies will interview applicants Wednesday in the Placement office on the second floor of the YMCA:

Eighth United States Civil Service Region will interview aeronautical, architectural, chemical, civil, electrical, geological, industrial, mechanical and petroleum engineering and geology, industrial education, accounting, chemistry, mathematics, physics, economics, English, history and journalism majors, any degree level for civil service careers.

Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co. will interview architectural and civil engineering candidates for the B.S. or M.S. degree positions as engineer trainees in their training program.

Soil Conservation Service will interview agricultural and civil engineering and agronomy and range management majors interested in careers in soil conservation.

American Institute for Foreign Trade will interview all agriculture, engineering, business administration and economics (B.S.) degree candidates for one year's post-graduate training in preparation for positions of an executive nature with firms having branches overseas.

Prudential Insurance Company of America will interview agricultural economics, business administration, economics and mathematics majors for technical jobs leading to management positions.

Arthur H. Young & Co. will interview accounting majors for on-the-job training.

U. S. Forest Service, Southwestern region, will interview B.S. degree candidates in civil engineering and range management.

Gulf Oil Corp. will interview chemical and electrical engineering and chemistry, mathematics and physics candidates for B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees and mechanical and petroleum engineering candidates for Ph.D. degrees for jobs in computational analysis, geophysics, process research and development and production engineering.

Jersey Production Research Co. will interview chemical and petroleum engineering and chemistry candidates for Ph. D. degrees.

Two Profs to Go To Conference

Special to The Battalion
AUSTIN—Two A&M faculty members will be among more than 60 leading citizens, representing every important segment of Texas society gathering at Villa Camille at Hunt, near Kerrville, Saturday through Tuesday, Nov. 19-22, to discuss "Wages, Prices, Profits and Productivity."

Dr. Alfred F. Chalk, head of the Department of Economics, will be a parrotour at the meeting. Dr. Tyrus R. Timm, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology, will be a delegate to the meeting.

Social Whirl

Civil Engineering Wives Club will meet Wednesday night at 8 in the YMCA South Solarium. The program will be presented by beauticians from the Lady Fair Beauty Salon.

A&M MENS SHOP
103 MAIN — NORTH GATE
AGGIE OWNED

8c Black And White Prints
A&M PHOTO SHOP

CIRCLE CAMPUS
TODAY THRU SATURDAY
DORIS ROCK DAY HUDSON
PILLOW TALK
KODAK COLOR CINEMASCOPE UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL RELEASE

Army & Air Force Services

NOW IS THE TIME
PLACE Your Order For Commissioning Uniforms

With LAUTERESTEIN'S

214 Varisco Bldg.

Bryan

No Payment Required
Until Active Duty

THE BATTALION

Opinions expressed in The Battalion are those of the student writers only. The Battalion is a non-tax-supported, non-profit, self-supporting educational enterprise edited and operated by students as a community newspaper and is under the supervision of the director of Student Publications at Texas A&M College.

Members of the Student Publications Board are L. A. Duwall, director of Student Publications, chairman; J. W. Amys, School of Engineering; Otto R. Kunze, School of Agriculture; and Dr. E. D. McMurry, School of Veterinary Medicine.

The Battalion, a student newspaper at Texas A&M, is published in College Station, Texas, daily except Saturday, Sunday, and holiday periods, September through May, and once a week during summer school.

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office in College Station, Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 8, 1879.

Mail subscriptions are $3.50 per semester, $6 per school year, $6.50 per full year. Advertising rate furnished on request. Address: The Battalion Room 4, YMCA, College Station, Texas.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in the paper and local news of spontaneous origin published herein. Rights of republication of all other matter herein are also reserved.

News contributions may be made by telephoning VI 6-6618 or VI 6-4910 or at the editorial office, Room 4, YMCA. For advertising or delivery call VI 6-6415.

JOHNNY JOHNSON	EDITOR
David Stoker	Managing Editor
Bob Weekley	Sports Editor
Bill Hicklin, Robbie Godwin	News Editors
Joe Callicotte	Assistant Sports Editor
Jack Hartsfield, Ken Coppage, Bill Broussard, Ben Trial, Bobby Dodson, Tommy Holbein and Bob Saile	Staff Writers
Dave Mueller	Photographer

WHERE THE BEST PICTURES PLAY
SKYWAY DRIVE-IN THEATRE
CHILDREN UNDER 12 YEARS - FREE

TUESDAY
"A PRIVATE'S AFFAIR"
With Terry Moore
Plus
"TEACHER'S PET"
With Clark Gable

Gator Hall THEATRE

TUESDAY & WEDNESDAY
THE STORY OF TODAY'S ANGRY YOUNG MODERNS!
Paul Newman "The Young Philadelphians"
PRESENTED BY WARNER BROS.

BARBARA RUSH-ALEXIS SMITH-BRIAN KEITH
DIANE BREWSTER-BILLIE BURKE-JOHN WILLIAMS

Show Opens 6 p. m.

PEANUTS
By Charles M. Schulz

YOU'RE SO SWEET, SNOOPY. I WISH I COULD GIVE YOU A BIG KISS, BUT, OF COURSE, I CAN'T...

THE CURSE OF A FUZZY FACE!

DID BEETHOVEN EVER ROLL A "THREE HUNDRED" GAME?

YOU MEAN IN BOWLING? GOOD GRIEF, HOW IN THE WORLD SHOULD I KNOW?!

I THOUGHT YOU WERE AN AUTHORITY ON BEETHOVEN?

Marterie

Ralph Marterie, maestro of the band that's No. 1 with college students and No. 1 with hit records, will be hitting college campuses again this fall as Marlboro's musical ambassador of good will. Don't miss Ralph and his Marlboro Men when they visit your campus.

Marlboro

The better the makin's, the better the smoke
You're smoking better when it's Marlboro