Many Colleges Protesting Loyalty Oath

By Associated Press

Many colleges are protesting a loyalty oath required of needy college students seeking federal loans to help pay for their education.

Some other colleges are supporting the loyalty oath. Some are participating only because they feel their withdrawal from the program would penalize deserving students.

A&M is currently participating in the program.

Yale President A. Whitney Griswold termed the affidavit "contrary to the classic principles of our colleges and universities."

Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey called it an "affidavit of misbelief."

Both Yale and Harvard are among those schools dropping out of the program in protest against the affidavit.

Princeton University refused to participate at the outset of the program because, said President Robert F. Goheen, the loyalty oath provision "offers no protection whatever against those who would abuse our heritage of freedom and of law."

Columbia University has formally expressed opposition to the affidavit but participates in the program because "many Columbia students need the help that this act may bring to them."

Other schools are opposed to the program for different reasons. The loyalty oath is required by the National Defense Act of 1958, which put the student loan fund into operation.

Required is an affidavit stating the student does not belong to, believe in or support any organization that believes or teaches the overthrow of the U. S. government by force or violence—or by any illegal or unconstitutional means.

Radio Meter Given To Study Radiation

A Barnes Industrial Radio Meter, Model R4D1, has been made available for infra-red radiation studies to be made by Dr. D. W. Rosberg and Dr. H. W. Schroeder, researchers in the A&M Department of Plant Physiology and Pathology.

The radiometer, which operates on an optical principle, is designed to instantaneously measure temperatures (zero to 3,600 degrees centigrade) at some distance from objects under study.

Dr. Rosberg and Dr. Schroeder said the machine is expected to aid current studies pertaining to agricultural application of infra-red radiation.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

Dr. Frood, Ph.T.T.

Dear Dr. Frood: I read a great deal so I never have time for girls. Am I missing anything? Literate

Dear Literate: Only a few marbles.

Dear Dr. Frood: The guy next to me copys from my paper. What should I do? Truthful

Dear Truthful: Warn him. Quick!

Dear Dr. Frood: When I refuse to go out with unattractive girls, my friends say, "Beauty is only skin-deep." What do you say? Fussy

Dear Fussy: That's deep enough.

DR. FROOD'S MORAL OF THE MONTH

Brevity is the soul of wit. Which is why the sight of a girl in a Bikini invariably brings a smile to a man's face.

Dear Dr. Frood: Do you think next year's dresses will cover the knees?
Clothes-Conscious

Dear Clothes-Conscious: They'd better cover more than that.

Dear Dr. Frood: I admire my roommate very much, so I try to be like him. He smokes Luckies. Do you think I should smoke the same cigarette he does?
Awed

Dear Awed: No. Ask him for an unused Lucky.

Dear Dr. Frood: Do you think a boy should kiss a girl on their first date?
Shy

Dear Shy: She would seem to be the logical choice.

DR. FROOD ON QUERIES BEST LEFT UNQUERIED

Years of experience have taught me never to ask a girl these questions:

- Shouldn't we skip the garlic?
- What happened to the fraternity pin?
- Wow! Is that your roommate?
- Do you mind turning out that light?
- You mean that isn't a beanie?
- How come you never wear shorts?
- Why don't you smoke your own Luckies?
