

Ags Shock Centenary, 95-38; Rack Up New Scoring Record

With all the casualness of a Marciano meeting a golden gloves champion, the Aggie basketball team out-shot, out-rebounded and out-hustled a luckless Centenary five to post a new all-time A&M record and down the Gentlemen, 95-38, to open a new basketball season at Aggieland last night in White Coliseum.

The new record, most points scored in one game, topped the old one set last year by Neil Swisher and company by three points. The old mark was set against the University of Houston Cougars and the score was 92-74. Another record of sorts was also set last night, that of the biggest point spread between two teams.

Coach Bob Rogers' team played the type of basketball that has made the former East Texas State coach famous, that of ball control. The Farmers held the Gents to a meager 15 points in the first half and a 16.7 per cent shooting from the floor.

Contrastingly the Farmers scored 36 points in the first period, with all eleven of the Aggies suiting out for the game seeing considerable action. In the first period the Cadets shot 37.8 per cent from the floor and collected 28 rebounds, against 18 for Centenary.

Top gun in the A&M shooting department was Sophomore Carroll Broussard, with 15 points, more than living up to his advance billing as the top first year man in the Southwest Conference. Only five of those points were tallied in the first period, but the 6-5 sharpshooter ended the game by shooting a perfect .500 from the hardwoods and three of six free throws.

Kelly Chapman, the jumping tobacco farmer from Kentucky, was second in the scoring race with 14 points. Broussard, Chapman and tall man Wayne Lawrence tied for rebound honors, with each athlete sweeping the boards clean seven times. Lawrence finished the night with 13 points to his credit.

The Stanley twins, the only difference between them being the numbers they wear on their uniforms, proved they didn't come to A&M overrated, scoring 19 points between them. Pat had the more points, 11 against Don's 8, but the latter collected two more rebounds than his brother to even the score.

A&M opened the game by taking a six point lead with less than three minutes gone in the contest before the Gents could score a point. The closest the Gentlemen could come to the Farmers was three points a quarter of the way through the first half. Just before the half ended the Aggies had racked up a 24-point lead, but five quick points by Centenary closed the gap to 21.

The Cadets jumped out front quickly in the second period with a 25 point lead, and then coasted the rest of the way to a 55 point victory, the largest in the school's history.

The Aggies again take to the home court Friday night when they meet Trinity University of San Antonio at 8 p.m.

Hustling Freshmen Cagers Halt Tyler Apaches, 68-54

The Aggie Fish, sparked by an alert defense and being dead eyes of the free tosses, topped the Tyler Apaches last night in G. Rollie White Coliseum to open the freshman basketball season.

From the looks of things at half time, the ball game belonged to either team with the score changing nine times. The biggest margin was four points held by the Fish.

Eight minutes deep in the second half the Apaches pulled ahead again, but a quick four points by Louis Qualls sent the Cadets into the lead again. If there had been dust on the court the Apaches would have been fighting for air the rest of the night because they never saw the score in their favor again.

Tyler's shooting from the floor was considerably better than the Ags as they hit 42.6 per cent of their shots compared to 35.7 for the Fish. However, A&M out-rebounded the Apaches 55-50.

The big man for the Cadets was Charlie Minor, a Buna product, who poured in 19 points on eight field goals and three free shots. Although Minor was the big man in the game he is the smallest man in stature on the squad and only stands 5-11. Besides being leading point maker, Minor was continually stealing the ball from the opponents.

Jerry Windham was second high scorer with 16 points, but his rebounding made him invaluable in the Aggie victory. He had 16 rebounds.

Qualls, the seven-foot wonder from Houston's Smiley, turned in a good job at the center post, but was hampered greatly by the host of Apaches crowded around his waist. He had 12 points and nine rebounds.

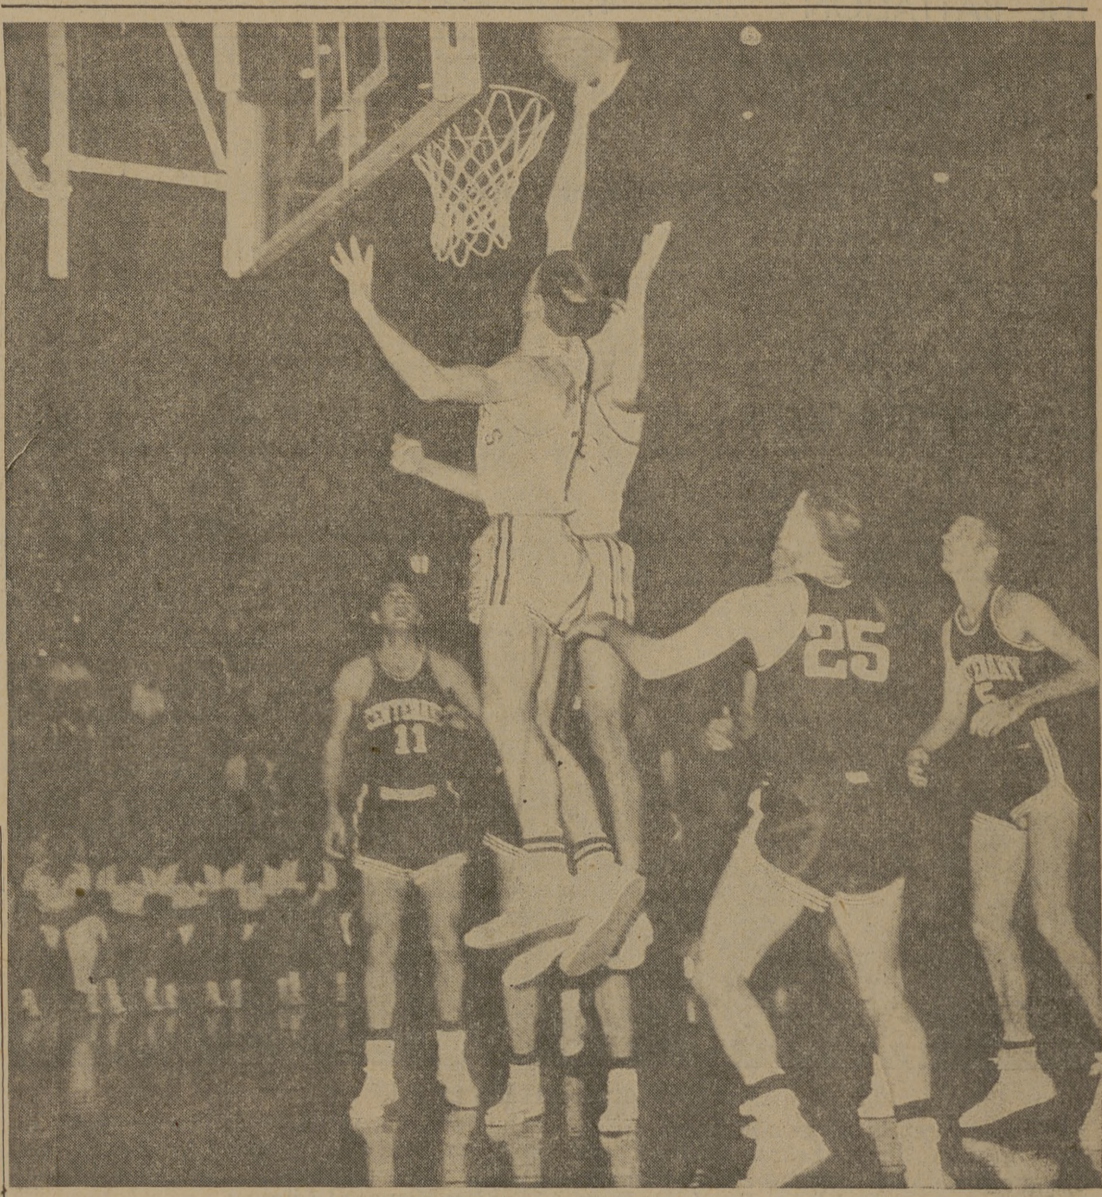

The Fish were very conservative with their fouls, which no doubt was a big factor in the outcome of the game. The only man who had three fouls was Jerry Cobb, who sometimes got a little over anxious while turning in a fine defensive game. Cobb also grabbed seven rebounds for the Fish.

The next game for the Fish will be here on Dec. 8 with Kilgore Junior College. The following week on Dec. 17 they rematch the Kilgore team in Kilgore. Another game is scheduled with Tyler on Dec. 18. The game will be played in Tyler and will be the final freshman game before the Christmas holidays.

All filter cigarettes are divided into two parts, and...

It's what's up front that counts!

"Weni, widi, Winston!" Thus did Caesar (a notoriously poor speller) hail the discovery of Filter-Blend—light, mild tobaccos specially selected and specially processed for filter smoking.

He knew that a pure white filter alone is not enough. To be a complete filter cigarette, it must have Filter-Blend up front. And only Winston's got it!

That's why Caesar would never accept another brand even when it was offered gratis. In fact, history tells us he'd glower at the extended pack and sneer, "Et tu, Brute?"

In a stirring peroration to his legions, Caesar put it this way: "For the Numeral I filter cigarette—for the best-tasting filter cigarette—for the noblest filter cigarette of all—smoke Winston!"

"Winston tastes good like a cigarette should!"

P.S. to bachelors. If you're lucky enough to find a gal who'll keep you in Winstons, Caesar!
