Friday Night Games Are Crucial to SWC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Friday night's games in the Southwest Conference basketball race can produce a clear-cut leader—or they can throw the loop in to a three-way tie.

The big game will be at College Station where Texas A&M, nationally ranked and unbeaten until beaten by Southern Methodist Tuesday, plays host to the University of Texas, current conference leaders.

In the only other game of the evening Southern Methodist, with a 2-1 loop record, will entertain the Baylor Bears at Dallas. The Bears have a 1-2 conference record.

Arkansas, 2-1, meets Rice, 0-2, at Fayetteville in the only conference game Saturday night. If the Aggies and the Mustangs win their games, the Porkers could make the race a four-way tie by beating the Rice Owls.

Victories by the Aggies and the SMU Mustangs would throw them into a three-way tie with Texas for first place.

CHS Ag Students To Participate In Houston Show

Two members of the A&M Consolidated FFA Chapter have been selected to participate in calf scrambles during the middle of February in Houston and San Antonio.

They are Jimmy McAffree, who will participate in the calf scramble at the 1960 Houston Fat Stock Show on Feb. 24, and Robert Chenuault, who will participate in the San Antonio Fat Stock Show on February 12.

The boys were selected to participate in the events by area FFA supervisor, Lester Buford.

In the Houston show, every boy who catches a calf will receive a $200 certificate. He will be expected to buy a registered calf with this certificate and enter it in the show next year.

San Antonio winners, however, receive certificates ranging from $50 to $15 (according to the order of finish) with which they can buy any animal for a project. They aren't required to return and show their animal at the next year's show. The 42-member chapter will accompany McAffree to the Houston show for an all day field trip.
