

Dr. D. M. Nelson Slated as Speaker For 18th RE Week

By TOMMY HOLBEIN
Battalion Staff Writer

The Rev. Dr. D. M. Nelson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Greenville, S. C., will be the convocation speaker during the 18th annual Religious Emphasis Week scheduled for Feb. 21 through Feb. 28.

The Rev. Dr. Nelson will speak each morning in Guion Hall, and classes will be dismissed during this hour enabling all persons on the campus to attend the services.

Discussion groups will be held in the different dormitories during the week, with 14 men available to lead the discussions and hold counseling. Topics for discussions will be taken from interest locators passed out among students prior to the Christmas holidays.

Neads Nelson, Professor of Philosophy at Rice, will lead forums and discussion groups for the faculty and staff during the week. The topics for these discussions are to be taken from interest locators passed out among the faculty and staff.

Dr. Sidney Hamilton, Professor of Education and Psychology at North Texas State College, will lead forums and discussion groups among the married couples interested in participating during Religious Emphasis Week. Hamilton has proven very popular with married students in his two previous visits to A&M to serve during the Religious Emphasis Weeks held in 1956 and 1958. Topics for discussion were selected from interest locators circulated among married students and their families.

Religious Emphasis Week began at A&M in 1942, and with the exception of two years during World War II, it has been held every year, with a great participation among the students.

Senate Queries Medical Men On Drug Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators want to know why an American buyer has to pay $5.05 a batch for tranquilizer pills that can be bought in Paris for 77 cents.

The Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee which is looking into drug pricing, called more medical experts to testify today.

Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) said he also wants more light shed on allegations that a dispute involving patent rights on newly developed medicines has been slowing the government's search for cancer cures.

"Out of Line"

Kefauver told the head of a Philadelphia firm Thursday its prices for tranquilizer drugs were "completely out of line." He said it is time to see whether something can be done about that.

was Dr. Ernest Remley, pastor of the Collegiate Presbyterian Church in Ames, Iowa.

More information concerning the counselors and discussion leaders for the dormitories will be available later on, as Religious Emphasis Week draws closer.

U.N. Official Says He'll Finish Trip In Ship Regardless

MONTEGO BAY, Jamaica (AP)—Two survivors of the Colombian airliner crash that killed 37 persons said today they will make the last leg of their jinxed trip to Ecuador by ship.

"I don't care if we have to go to Greenland to get a ship" said Ian Kelton, 46, a United Nations official traveling with his wife to a new assignment in South America.

The Keltons, two Dutch passengers and five crew members escaped virtually unhurt in the crash early Thursday of the Avianca Colombian National Airline met tragedy on this Caribbean holiday island. A coughing engine forced a 10-hour stopover for repairs in Miami. Four passengers quit the plane there.

There had been one interruption before the Super-Constellation of the Avianca Colombian National Airline met tragedy on this Caribbean holiday island. A coughing engine forced a 10-hour stopover for repairs in Miami. Four passengers quit the plane there.

Kelton, a Scotsman attached to the U. N. Food and Agricultural Organization, told relatives who telephoned that he and his wife were "both excellently all right."

"We are not even blemished," he said. "But I think we might dispense with planes for a while. We intend to wait for a ship if we can get one to Ecuador. We might have to go to Miami to get a ship. I don't care if we have to go to Greenland."

When the big plane overturned and exploded in flames after settling down here, the Keltons wrenched their way out through an emergency exit and splashed through a swampy lagoon to safety.

"There was absolutely no warning of the crash," said Kelton. "We came out of a rain squall at Montego Bay and started onto the runway."

"We hit with a crunch, bounced and skidded along on one side with fire roaring past the windows on one side. Then the plane came to a halt. We were upside down, suspended in our seats by our safety belts and deoriented because the plane had flown around as well as overturning."

"I got free and unclasped my wife's seat belt. The only light was the glow from the fire. We heard no commotion from the rest of the plane. While I was looking for an emergency exit, the steward got is quite open and popped out, but flames enveloped the exit immediately after."

Official List

The official senior list for commencement tomorrow in G. Rollie White Coliseum has been posted. It is in the Richard Coke Building.

Bonsal Returns from Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States summoned Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal home from Havana today, less than two weeks after he returned to his post.

There were strong indications of official exasperation at indignities, authorities feel America has suffered at the hands of Fidel Castro.

The big question remained, what can Washington try next to change the course of the bearded Cuban Premier without hurting its relations with the other psychologically sensitive Latin American states?

Diplomatically, Uncle Sam was in the unhappy shoes of the visitor being kicked in the shins by a small boy of the family while not daring to lift his fist in reprisal.

Bonsal was expected to arrive in the late afternoon. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said Thursday the career diplomat was being returned for "consultations." He had returned to Havana on Jan. 10 after a month of similar consultations.

The new move falls short of a break in relations with the Castro regime. But U. S. officials made plain they are in no hurry to send Bonsal back. The Havana embassy meanwhile will be tended by the No. 2 man there, Daniel M. Braddock.
