

Tops Loop Cagers

Texas' Wayne Annette and Arkansas' Clyde Rhoden pace the Southwest Conference scoring statistics in games through Feb. 9.

Annette maintained the leading spot of the loop in scoring for the season, while Rhoden boasted a 10-point bulge over Del Ray Mounts of Texas Tech in the conference scoring.

Annette has a 19.5 average in 17 games and carries 331 point and Rhoden has totaled 144 points in seven league clashes.

A&M's Carroll Broussard trails Annette in the season scoring race with 301 points in 17 games with a 17.7 average. Broussard is also third in the loop scoring with 115 markers in seven league tilts. However, John Garner of Arkansas is tied with the Port Arthur soph in this department with an identical total.

In team stats, Broussard paces the Cadets while Wayne Lawrence is second with an 11.7 average on 199 points in 17 clashes. The Stanley twins, Pat and Don, are next with Pat carrying a 9.4 average on 160 markers and Don slightly behind with an 9.1 average on 156.

Consolidated Tigers Humiliate Rattlers, 54-31, in League Tilt

By RUSSELL BROWN
CHS Correspondent
A&M Consolidated Tigers combined all the elements of a winning basketball team in Tiger Gym Tuesday night as offensive efforts, tough defensive work and control of the backboards gave the hosts a 54-31 victory over the Navasota

Rattlers in a District 21-AA contest. Bruce Thompson led the efforts of the Tigers, pumping in 21 points and clearing the offensive and defensive rebounding for the Bengals. P. D. Gandy followed Thompson with eight points on long set shots and jumpers. Cook Swanson paced the losing efforts of the Rattlers with 15 tallies while Shelton Boone had six counters.

After erasing an early 6-5 Navasota lead in the first eight minutes of play, the Tigers began to bombard the bucket, hitting a total of 40 per cent for the night, and were never in serious trouble from the second period.

The rough Tiger defense allowed only 11 points in the first two stanzas and came back to hit 26 points. With Coach Jack Churchill substituting liberally in the last half, the Tigers still outdistanced the Rattlers with 50 per cent accuracy in the last half to complete the sweep.

The only dark point of the night was the preliminary "B" contest as the Rattlers walked away with a 37-33 victory over the listless Tigers.

Bob Adams led the Tiger scorers with 11 points while Thomas Mitchell leantured with 12.

Navasota jumped off to an early lead but the Bengals kept on the heels until the final stanza when Mitchell's shooting dropped the Tigers too far behind.

Texas High School Assn. Adopts Unnecessary Code of Ethics

Associated Press
The Texas High School Coaches Association has adopted a code of ethics. It didn't really need to since most of the members of this association are as ethical as they come. There never has been much criticism of Texas high school coaches in their dealings with the boys and the public.

Ethics in Print
But the association wanted to put in print the things it expected of its coaches.

"The code of ethics could be developed to protect and promote the best interest of the high school athletic program," says the association's magazine "Texas Coach."

It says the coach is involved in three areas of relationship which entails certain obligations for which some definite standard of conduct may be described. These areas are the players, the school, and other coaches, teams, officials, and sports writers and others.

Control Attitudes
Mindful that the coaches, no matter how substituted they may be, sometimes are suspicious of the officials, the code says "the attitude of coaches toward officials during the progress of the game should be controlled."

That's assuming that the coaches are going to boil inwardly toward the officials. Well, doesn't everybody hate the umpire?

Critical of Films
The association doesn't think the coaches should show films of critical plays to sports writers or quarter-back clubs.

"It should be remembered that slow motion study of controversial decisions by officials is far different from spot decisions made during the course of the game," says the code. In other words the official can't compete with the camera, which doesn't make an error, since it isn't human.

The association considers it unethical conduct to show such films and lead to officials being labeled incompetent.

Aggie Bowling Team Will Compete In National Tournament in Toledo

The Aggie Bowling team, one of the most powerful in the nation, will realize a longtime dream by going by air to Toledo, O., to compete in the National American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Participation in the Toledo tourney is decided by taking the winners of different regions and sending them to the bowl-off. The Aggie representative will compete in a region IX tourney.

Larry Dantzer was the Cadet's entry to last year's meet.

Last year the Aggie bowlers ran rough-shod over their collegiate competition by downing SMU, Houston, Arlington State, San Antonio College, Kansas University and Oklahoma State.

They placed eleventh nationally in the Association of College Unions Tournament and ninth in the Texas ABC tournament in Dallas.

This year the Memorial Student Center Bowling Committee was instrumental in forming the Texas Intercollegiate Bowling Conference which included A&M, Texas, San Antonio College, Arlington State and Houston. The Aggies are currently leading the league with 43 wins against only five setbacks. Arlington State is second with 28 victories and 20 defeats.

Saturday the Ags will travel to San Antonio to compete in a tourney at the San Pedro Lanes.

On Feb. 20 the Association of College Unions Bowling tourney will be held in the MSC.

Mid-term had its adverse affects on the bowlers as well as the other branches of athletics at Aggieland. Three top men were lost for various reasons.

Donations being made by former members of the Bowling Committee will enable the team to travel to Toledo. Team members will pay their own expenses for entry fees, food and room.

Marvin Butler, professor of economics, and Les Palmer, physical education instructor, are the faculty advisors. John Pocina is the bowling chairman.

Myers Says Aggie Athletics in Shape

Coach Jim Myers told members of the Washington County A&M Club that he believes Aggie athletics are in the best shape in several years.

Myers praised the fine job the other head coaches had been doing at Aggieland.

"He said the three or four football staff meetings held in connection with the beginning of spring training have been some of the most constructive since his arrival at A&M two years ago.

Myers stated that he thought his assistants are the finest in America and believes they can get the job done.
