Ross Volunteers Receive Good Comments on March

By ROBBIE GOODWIN
Battalion News Editor

The Ross Volunteers returned Wednesday from four days at New Orleans and the Mardi Gras.

The company arrived at Camp Leroy Johnson on the banks of Lake Pontchartrain Saturday and Sunday. Several other schools stayed at the camp, including Citadel from Virginia, several high schools and the Lowman Rifles from Sam Houston State College.

Greeted at Dinner

The New Orleans Hometown Club hosted the group at a dinner Monday in Arnaud's Restaurant. They were welcomed to the city by Councilman Fred Castlebury, who gave commander Wade Dover an honorary membership. John Cuthrell, president of the club, served as master of ceremonies at the dinner. He introduced Dr. Dick Winters, who gave the group a talk on some background on the parades and activities of the Mardi Gras.

Tuesday and the Parade

Tuesday morning the RV's were up early preparing for the Rex Parade which was to start at 10:30 a.m. The group assembled and got their final briefing at 8:15 and left on the buses at 8:30 a.m.

Arriving downtown, the RV's took their position at the lead position of the parade and had about 30 minutes before the parade got under way. The band from Tarleton State College welcomed the Aggies with a few bars of the "Aggie War Hymn" which the RV's joined in on the chorus. Before long a high school band joined the fun and there was a series of jitters and "Hootchie-Kootchie's."

Just before the parade the traditional yell practice was held, led by Ken Moore and Sonny Todd. The Spirit ended the ceremonies.

Six Miles of Marching

The parade began rolling at 10:30 with the RV's following the police guard. Six miles and three stops later the group reached the new City Hall. As they marched by the mayor's stand, a colonel from New Orleans told another bystander, "By George, you can't beat that!"

All along the route crowds of people pressed in from all sides, and several comments were heard. The group received many rounds of applause as they marched and performed their maneuvers.

After the March

The parade was over about 1:15 p.m., but the buses were held up by traffic until 3 p.m. It was cold and many of the Aggies passed the time by hailing the passing floats and collecting souvenirs of the parade.

Many of the Aggies attended the Rex Ball Tuesday night in the City Auditorium.

Commander Wade Dover said last night that the ball was colorful and a spectacle with its professions and dancing.

A Long March

Platoon Leader Joe Leeper leads the third through crowds like this thronging the streets. The group received many favorable comments along the entire route of march as they led the parade.

Pride of the law school, Blackstone has never lost a moot trial. But there's nothing moot about his preferences in dress. He finds that when he's comfortable, he can trap a witness and sway a jury like Clarence Darrow.

So he always wears Jockey brand briefs while preparing his briefs. Exclusive Jockey tailoring gives him a bonus of comfort he gets in no other underwear. Fine Jockey combed cotton is more absorbent, smoother fitting, too.

To look your best, feel your best, take a tip from Tort. Always insist on Jockey brand briefs, $1.25. Your campus store has them now! COOPERS INCORPORATED - KENOSHA, WIS.

Fuchs To Address ACS March 11

Dr. Richard Fuchs, assistant to the chairman of the Department of Chemistry at the University of Texas, will address the A&M-Baylor Section of the American Chemical Society at 7:45 p.m., Friday, March 11, in Room 231 of the Chemistry Building, according to John B. Beckham, associate professor in the Department of Chemistry and secretary of the local ACS section.

Fuchs will speak on "Ring Opening Reactions of Epoxides."

"In his talk, Fuchs will note that the ring opening reactions of 1,2-epoxides have become increasingly important in recent years, both in synthesis and in mechanistic studies. The highly strained three-membered rings are attacked by nucleophilic, electrophilic and radical reagents to give a large variety of products," Beckham explained.

Fuchs' has contributed research articles in the fields of organometallic chemistry, epoxide ring opening and kinetics of displacement reactions.

He is a member of the American Chemical Society, Sigma Xi, Phi Lambda Upsilon and Alpha Chi Sigma. In 1958-59 he was secretary of the Central Texas ACS Section.

Preceding the meeting there will be an informal dinner for the speaker with members of the section at 6:15 p.m. in the Dining Room of the Memorial Student Center, said Beckham.

A social hour will be held following the meeting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Jache, 307 Timber, Beckham said.

Sears Praised For Promoting Better Relation

The Sears-Roebuck Foundation was praised Wednesday in Bryan as promoting improved relations between Mexico and the United States.

The plaudits came during a banquet at the Briarcrest Country Club held in honor of 12 visitors from Mexico's National School of Agriculture and 11 A&M student recipients of Sears Scholarship Awards.

Sears sponsors many agricultural awards and activities for agricultural students, among them being the scholarships, an annual trip to Mexico for a group of A&M students and a reciprocal trip to Texas for students at the National School of Agriculture in Mexico.

"Standard of Learning"

Jose M. de la Puente Espinosa, a forestry professor accompanying the Mexican students, said the Sears program is helping the "standard of learning" at the National School of Agriculture. Each student making the trip to Texas, he said, is selected on the basis of high scholastic standing.

President Earl Rudder said no other scholarship system offers Aggie students more inspiration than does the Sears Program.

Grant Winners

Scholarship winners were James E. Ward of Houston; Arthur Crocker, Godley; Bob Carter, Deatur; George W. Powell, Kopper; Melvin C. Young, Lockhart; Alfred W. Hughtel, Amarillo; James A. Dotson, Hearne; Lee Stanley, Raymondville; James E. Wright, Kerrville; Gary P. Willeford, Garland; and James E. Schroeder of Winters.

An A&M student, Jose L. Buenteloo of Matamoros, acted as speaker-interpreter at the banquet.

Cal Johnson, director of Southwestern public relations of the Sears Foundation, said a trip to Mexico in June is being organized for a group of A&M agriculture students.

Leave for Beeville

American Cancer Society Sets Widely Acclaimed Film March 10

The Brazos County Unit of the American Cancer Society will have an exclusive showing of the new movie "Time and Two Women" at the First Baptist Church of College Station on Thursday, March 10, at 2 p.m., according to Dr. Fred Kasten, president of the county unit.

This American Cancer Society movie deals with early detection of cancer of the female organs by the routine Papanicolaou smear technique. Thousands of lives have already been saved by this approach, and the film has been widely acclaimed in this country, said Kasten.

Kasten said all presidents, program chairmen, and other designated representatives of all women's clubs and organizations in Brazos County are invited to view this important film. A public showing of the film to all women in Brazos County is planned for early fall.

Mrs. Virgil Parr is hostess for the occasion. During the showing, a physician will be present to answer questions.

James A. Garfield, 20th President, was shot by a frustrated government employe in a Washington, D.C., railroad station in 1881. He died from his wounds in Elberon, N. J.
