

Wildlife Students Invade Tivoli Wilderness Saturday

Approximately 25 wildlife management students will invade the wilderness Saturday as they take part in the annual field meet of the Texas Herpetological Society, according to Dr. R. J. Baldauf, associate professor in the Department of Wildlife Management and past president of the organization.

The group, along with some 100 other people, will assemble on the T. P. Traylor Ranch near Tivoli, Tex. They will begin collecting Saturday morning and hunt as many different species and varieties of reptiles and amphibians as possible, Baldauf said.

Although there is no definite information as to the size of the area to be used, local game wardens have estimated the ranch to be between 2,600 and 4,000 acres. According to reports, the collection area will be low, damp and swampy.

The herpetologists will assemble Sunday morning to evaluate the collections and to judge them on the basis of the number of animals collected, the number of species in the exhibit and accuracy in labeling, with extra points given for rare finds, unusual specimens, etc.

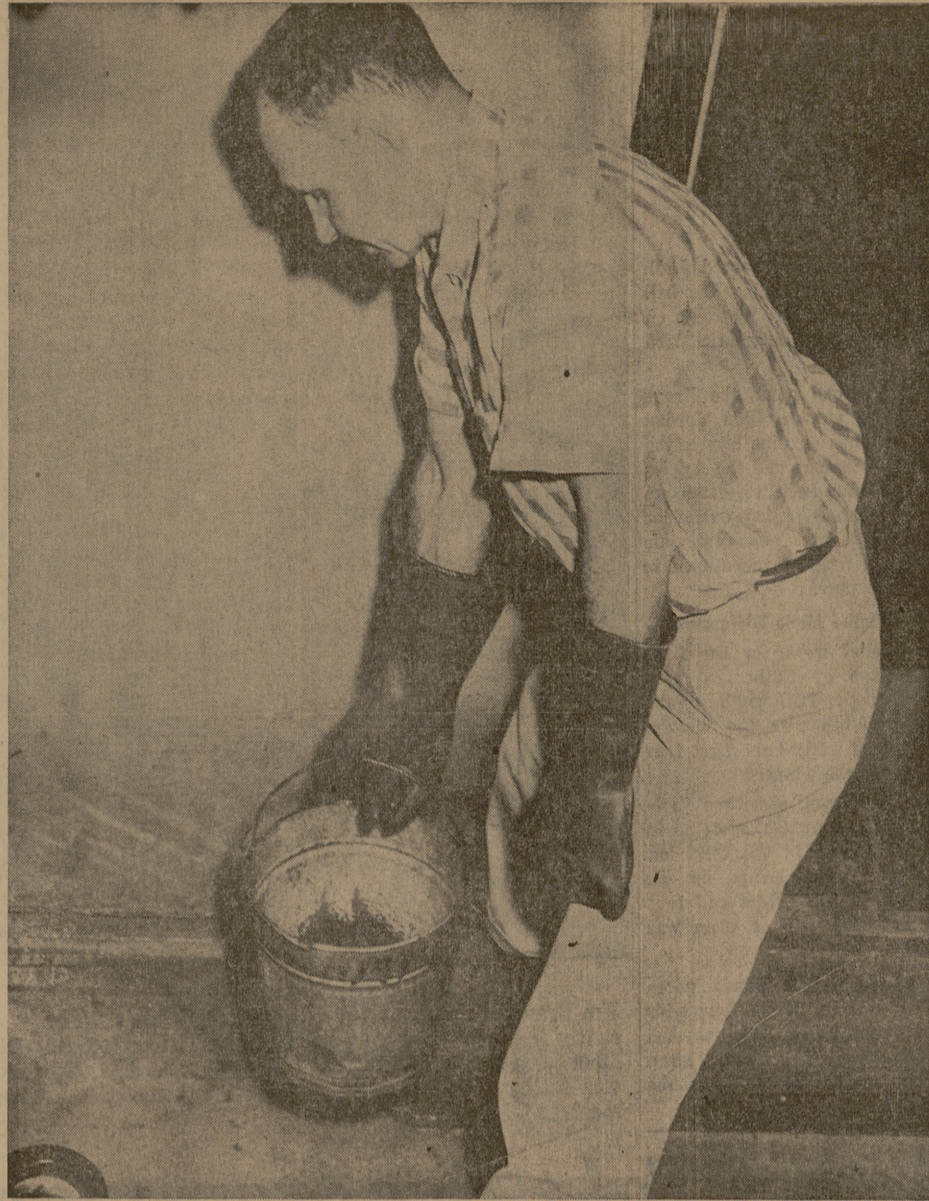

At last year's meet on the 65,000-acre Fawcett Ranch in Val Verde County a new kind of snake was discovered, Baldauf said. That same year the A&M group won a certificate recognizing them for an outstanding exhibit.

No firearms are permitted in the collecting area and, because of the nature of the terrain, society members are required to bring their own water containers.

A dual purpose of the meet will be to provide the Department of Wildlife Management with a large variety of animals for their annual Mother's Day exhibit May 7, the Wildlife specialist explained.

The students hope to bring back all types of reptiles and amphibians, and perhaps even capture an alligator, he added.

From Ford Motors A&M INSTITUTE HEARS KATHKOV SPEAK TONIGHT

Robert B. Kathov, an executive of Ford Motor Company's Aeronutronic Division in Newport Beach, Calif., will address the A&M Institute of Aeronutronic Science tonight at 7:30 in Room 231 of the Chemistry Building.

Kathov, manager of Vehicle Engineering for Aeronutronic's Tactical Weapon Systems Operations, will present a paper on "An Introduction to the Philosophy of Engineering Management and Control." His talk, being presented at the invitation of Professor A. E. Cronk, head of the Department of Aeronautical Engineering, is intended to acquaint engineering students with some of the management aspects of their future environment.

In introducing the students to present-day technical language and the philosophy of engineering management, Kathov will develop a "college analogy," in which attainment of a degree in engineering is assumed to be the equivalent of a weapon systems contract.

In MSC Wednesday Activity Placing Meet Scheduled

Officers of organizations interested in placing dates on the All-College Calendar for 1960-61 may attend a meeting for this purpose Wednesday at 5 p.m. in Room 3 of the Memorial Student Center, according to Mrs. John H. Johnson Jr., MSC student program adviser and in charge of the printing of the calendar.

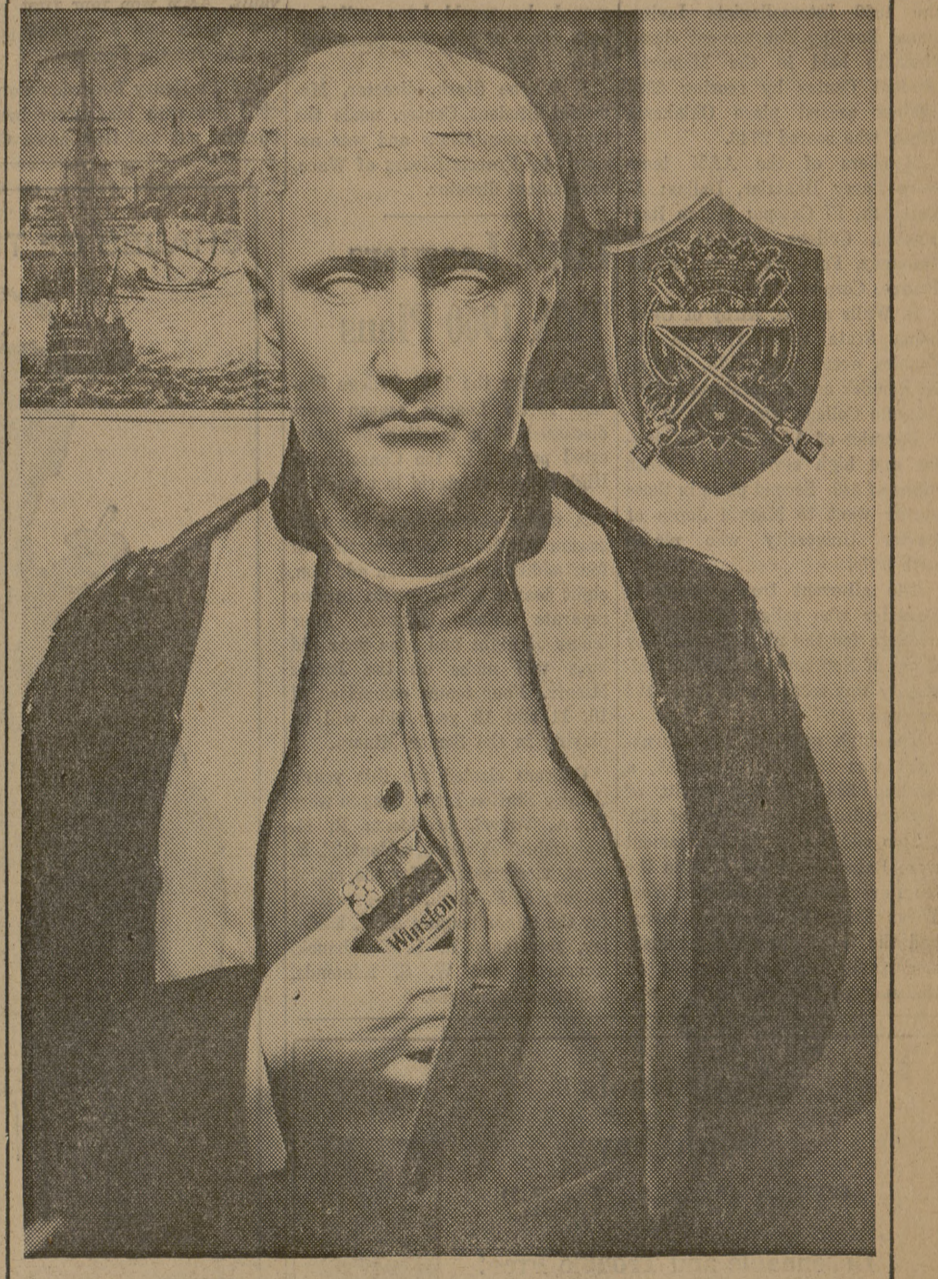

Dates for all student functions, such as class and organization meetings and balls, military balls, shows, rodeos, stock shows and other similar events will be served at this meeting. In order to avoid conflicts, it is important that organizations planning events around the same time of the year be represented at the meeting, Mrs. Johnson said.

Groups wishing to schedule events on week nights may place their events on the calendar by mail. Deadline for placing dates is May 20. According to College Regulations dates for events concerning more than two percent of the Student Body should be cleared with the Memorial Student Center Directorate No. 1.

Student organizations must meet according to the following schedule: Monday—honorary societies, school councils, and organizations not mentioned below; Tuesday—technical and departmental clubs and societies; Wednesday—religious activities; Thursday—home-town clubs and Student Senate; and Friday—called meetings.

"Oh, to be in Elba... now that Winston's there!"

IT'S WHAT'S UP FRONT THAT COUNTS
The mystery is solved! Napoleon's famous gesture was just to reassure himself that he had plenty of cigarettes. His army may have traveled on its stomach, but the old boy himself wouldn't have been caught at Waterloo if he hadn't been checking the Belgian bistros for a spare carton of Winstons! There's a rare smoking treat that comes from Winston's famous Filter-Blend—which means a careful selection of fine, mild tobaccos specially processed for filter smoking. Try a pack real soon, and you'll agree that...

Winston tastes good—like a cigarette should!
