

Eighty Top CHS Students Recognized

By RUSSELL BROWN
CHS Correspondent

The Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, IBM Corporation of New York City and the faculty of A&M Consolidated High School recognized the outstanding students for 1959-60 during the annual awards assembly held in the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon.

Over eighty students received plaques, pins, ribbons, trophies, certificates and other various awards during the hour-long assembly. E. P. Ozment, principal of the high school; Dr. A. M. (Tony) Sorenson of the College Station Kiwanis Club; Dr. A. I. Flowers of the College Station Lions Club, and Jim E. Russell, Houston Branch Manager for the IBM Corporation presented the honors for outstanding achievement.

Ozment saved the "most important award in the high school" until the closing of the assembly when he announced the introduction of a new honor. This award, for contribution to and working for the school, academic achievement, attendance, participation in school activities and overall representation of the school was a lettered sweater. Molly Martin and Russell Brown, who "both have put in long hours and great effort," were the initial recipients. In future years the sweater again will be awarded to honored juniors so they will be able to wear them during their senior year.

Dr. Sorenson presented the Kiwanian awards as follows: Star Green Hand—FFA, Sidney Coufal; Star Chapter Farmer—FFA, Calvin Schein; Club Work—FHA, Janelle Yeager; Homemaking Construction—FHA, Anne Rudder; Outstanding Senior Homemaker and Outstanding Homemaking I awards, Charlene Matejka and Sallie Sheppard; Music-Band's Outstanding Boy and Girl, Jay Pruitt and Judy Rasmussen; Music-Choral's Outstanding Boy and Girl, Michael Gay and Anita Mowery. Miss Rasmussen for band and Dorothy Berry for choir also received the Arion Awards.

High School FFA's To Hear Dr. Gray

Dr. Jarrell D. Gray of the Department of Agricultural Education, will be the speaker for the annual Future Farmers of America banquet at Troy High School Friday. His topic will be "You, Agriculture and the Next 25 Years."

In lieu of the usual athletic banquet sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, Dr. Sorenson awarded the athletic trophies and plaques. All-District Tackle Victor Clark was voted outstanding lineman in football and most valuable player in baseball, while Condy Pugh was elected outstanding back in football. Other most valuable honors went to center Joel Mills in football, post man Thompson in basketball, discus thrower Jim Wright in track, James Baldauf in golf, and District champion Jody Rush in tennis.

Russell recognized Howard Mitchell for his outstanding work and was present to award him with his scholarship grant in connection with the National Merit Awards Committee. Russell commented, "Only one in 2,000 graduating seniors earn this record."

Bruce Thompson was also recognized for his scholarship grant to Rice University under the Merit Scholarship Award, along with his first place in slide rule in state AA competition, Best All-Round Boy award, membership for two years in the National Honor Society, an honor roll student and the Basch-Lomb Science award.

John Calhoun, the third finalist in the National Merit Scholarship testing, was honored as a member of the National Honor Society, the Lions Club Mathematics award and a top student in the National Mathematics Association's state contest. Calhoun did not attempt to receive a scholarship grant from the Merit awards.

Dr. Flowers awarded the Lions Club's honors to the outstanding students in scholarship achievement: chemistry, Mitchell; biology, John Southern; English, David Howard; history, Pamela Sperry; mathematics, Calhoun; home economics, Patsy Beckham and Janice Hall; Spanish, Neil Sperry; Latin, Howard and Miss Sperry; commercial, Kay Duke; agriculture, Coufal; FFA, Schein; art, Frank Duran; music, Barbara Beasley and Ann Elkins; craftsmanship, Sidney Loveless; slide rule, Thompson; all-round boy, Thompson; all-round girl, Miss Sperry, and highest academic averages: Southern, freshman; Janet Durst, sophomore; and Judith McCorvey, junior.

Many special awards were given in these same fields, including certificates to 29 students for perfect attendance; certificates to 28 students for honor roll; and the announcement of the National Honor Society: Mary Ann Harris, Miss Berry, McCorvey, Martin, Rasmusen, Matejka, Rudder, and Sperry. Dee Smith, Larry Gosch, Brown, Mitchell, Pugh and Thompson.

Miss Harris was recognized for second place regional showing in girls' extemporaneous speech and Smith and Lyman Hardeman were singled out for achievement in mechanical drawing.
