Little League

by Russell Brown

The American League South's last week of activity before the post-season All-Star playoffs was a slow one but the Orioles took the opportunity to grab the second-half championship.

Although hampered by the scattered showers, the league All-Stars have been molded into a playing squad within a week's time by Coaches William Hemphill and Manuel Garcia. The Stars will battle the American League North (Bryan) All-Star squad in the first round of post-season playoffs on College Station's park at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Both coaches are still looking over their prospects, 14 strong, to get the best possible combination of nine starters. Probable starters will include Walter Varvel (.622) on the mound and Jerry Davis (.522) or Jimbo Robison (.276) behind the plate while Duke Miller (.471), Billy Elder (.219) or Robison (.276), Duke Butler (.489) and John Skrabanek (.423) round out the infield. Willie Edmonds (.311), Tommy Cartwright (.275), and Mike Stevenson (.238) will be the College Station outfield.

With the completion of the season hanging on the outcome of Friday's contest, the Orioles have already copped the second half crown with a 5-3 win over the Sens during the week. The Senator contest marked the comeback of a team that had rested in the cellar with a total of three wins over the two previous seasons. This year the Orioles bounced back with 10 wins to cop the second division title after placing third in the first half.

Dennis Chaney paved the way for Orioles win Friday by hurling three innings of runless ball while his teammates were scoring twice in the fourth and fifth to take a come-from-behind victory. Willie Edmonds started for the Birds and pitched the first three frames giving up two runs on four hits in the first and one run on three walks and a wild pitch in the second. The Orioles tallied once in the initial stanza, but were unable to solve Joe Williams' slants until the fourth and fifth. Then the Bird's bats began to boom as seven hits, including Jerry Davis' seventh homer, sent across the deciding tallies. The win was Chaney's sixth against one loss while Williams dropped his fourth without a win. Davis, John Baldauf, and Edmonds each had two hits to pace the nine-hit Oriole attack.

Thursday found the White Sox romping over two rookie Red Sox hurlers for a 17-5 slaughter. Andy Dean started his first Little league tilt for the Red Sox and was battered out of the box in the first inning. Sidney Atwater came on to mop the damage, 10 White Sox' runs on six hits and four Red Sox' misdeeds. Duke Butler hurled a two-hitter at the losers in return, giving up five unearned runs. John Skrabanek had a perfect 3-3 night including two circuit clouts while Butler, Jim Butler, and Tommy Cartwright each had two hits for the Pale Hose.

If the College Station All-Stars drop the Friday tilt, the make-up tile scheduled for Monday between the White Sox and Orioles will be played and the Birds and Sens will decide the league championship. The Red Sox and Sens tied the first half and the Orioles took the second half.

CAMPUS CLEANERS

Twins and Father at Summer Camp

Recent retreat ceremonies at Otis AFB, Mass., found Col. Leonard M. Rohrbough, Deputy Commander for Material, 551st Airborne Early Warning and Control Wing, instructing his two sons, Stephen W. and Frank G. in the proper methods of folding the flag. The twin brothers, both to be seniors at A&M this fall, are attending the summer ROTC encampment at Otis. Stephen is majoring in economics while Frank is specializing in general business. (U. S.
