

SOPHS HALF OF GRID SQUAD

With almost half—27—of his 56-player squad composed of sophomores, Coach Jim Myers will be relying heavily upon the sophomores to fill places in his lineups. Several of the sophomores could blossom into top-notch Southwest Conference players, depending upon how well the Aggies fare in grid competition this fall. Below are pictures of some of the outstanding sophomores:

Ronnie Brice
... Andrews quarterback

Lee Roy Caffey
... Thorndale fullback

Sam Byer
... Morlin fullback

Jim Phillips
... Freeport guard

George Hogan
... Longview tackle

Jim Harper
... Borger guard

James Walton
... Dumas tackle

Jerry Hopkins
... Mart center

Keith Huggins
... Houston guard

New Coach Guides Tennis Team to Fifth in SWC

Under the guidance of Omar Smith, first-year tennis coach at A&M, the Aggies drove to a fifth-place finish in the Southwest Conference last spring and should be stronger next year.

Two members were lost through graduation—Captain Bob Jones of Garland and Frank Blazek of Elizabeth, N. J. Returning will be Richard Halter of Baytown, Tommy Morris of Waco and David Knox of Greenville. Halter will be a senior this season while the other two will be juniors.

Members of last year's frosh team include Larry Cannon of Corpus Christi, Jerry Cox of Palo Alto, Calif., Bill Miller of Coronado, Calif., and Mike Young of Beeville.

Football Began At A&M in 1893

Texas A&M football began in 1893 when the Aggies fielded a team but played no games with out-of-town teams.

In 1894 the Aggies, then known as the Farmers, played road games including the first of the traditional battles with the University of Texas, then known as the Varsity.

The late Dean Emeritus Charles Puryear, who had joined the faculty in 1888, was the first manager and one of those responsible for football being established at the college. A&M played no out-of-town games in 1895 but resumed a schedule in 1896 and have continued to do so ever since.

The first undefeated season was in 1902, a year in which the Cadets won seven and tied two. A&M also was champion of Texas in 1909 and 1910, but in 1910 there was a loss to Arkansas, and TCU held the 1909 team to a scoreless tie. The 1912 team was hailed as "Champion of the South" in spite of a loss to Kansas State.

A&M was a member of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association until the Southwest Athletic Conference was formed in 1914 and is a remaining charter member of that organization along with Texas, Arkansas, Rice Institute and Baylor.

Southern Methodist was admitted when the University of Oklahoma dropped out and Texas Christian University took the place vacated by Oklahoma A&M. Texas Tech became the eighth member of the Southwest Conference in 1956 and begins participation for the football championship this season.

The Aggies have won the SWC championship eight times outright and tied with SMU another. A&M won the title in 1917, 1919, 1921, 1925, 1927, 1939, tied in 1940, won again in 1941 and 1956. The 1939 Aggie team was National Champions and defeated Tulane in the Sugar Bowl Classic. The teams of 1917 and 1919 were unbeaten, untied and unscored upon while the 1939 and 1956 teams were undefeated.

In 66 seasons of gridiron competition the Aggies have met 83 teams from 24 states for an all-time record of 341 wins, 196 losses and 39 ties. A&M has scored 10,048 points to 5,069 for the opposition.

The Aggies hold an edge on all opponents played a number of times with the exception of Centenary, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Texas. Centenary has beaten A&M six of nine games and Oklahoma holds a 7-5 edge. Texas, oldest rival of the Cadets, has won 44 games to 17 for A&M with five ties. Arkansas leads 16-14-3.

Bobby Conrad, John Crow and John Tracey, all former Aggie football stars, are teammates on the St. Louis Cardinals, professional football team.
