

Hubert Welcomes A&S Fish Students

To Arts and Sciences Freshmen: These are times for great adventures in higher education. At no other time in history have the opportunities been so great as they are today for college graduates in the areas of knowledge which constitute the arts and sciences.

The signals from each new satellite furnish testimony to the importance of science to mankind and college studies in the natural sciences become increasingly important to the curriculum which will prepare you for the professional career you choose.

Young scientists are being sought for places of leadership throughout the American economy, and the several science curricula in the School of Arts and Sciences will supply the capabilities required for this purpose.

The spotlight on science illuminates to an even greater magnitude the problems man faces on every continent with regard to making a life and a living. The social, economic and political sciences take on an air of new importance; life on a shrinking planet requires an intelligent citizenship strongly dedicated to perpetuate the traditions and freedoms of the American democracy.

The American business enterprise is based upon time-tested principles, but its management and direction require new skills and insights.

The science-social science complex brings new challenges to studies in human expression. Man communicates on a scale not heretofore imagined, but the requirements for him to be understood are still the same: he is thrust into the culture of another nation, and for his own well-being he must understand the new environment and react properly to it; he has a moment for relaxation, and its enjoyment depends upon his appreciation of beauty and goodness. Modern concepts of time and space bring a new importance to the studies you will pursue in the humanities.

Welcome to opportunities unlimited. Welcome to the great adventure of higher education. Welcome to the School of Arts and Sciences.

Very truly yours,
Frank W. R. Hubert
Dean, School of Arts and Sciences

College Gets Top Quality Quarter Horse

A celebrity arrived on the A&M campus last week to make his residence here. Buster Waggoner, a quarter horse, was presented as a gift to the college by Edgar Brown Jr., Pinehurst Ranch, Orange, Tex.

Buster Waggoner, P-8336, is a 16-year-old dun stallion and stands about 15 hands. He is by Blackburn P-2223 and out of Lady Buck Thomas II, P-2561, by Buck Thomas, all foundation horses of the American Quarter Horse Assn.

The W. T. Waggoner estate bred Buster Waggoner. Later, Lester Goodson, a rancher at Magnolia, Tex., acquired the horse from the estate. Under the Goodson colors, Buster gathered a reputation in cutting contests, beating some of the best horses in the country, judging from the many awards and championships he received.

In recent years, the horse was sold to Pinehurst Ranch and used in the ranch breeding program.

Age has crippled the horse and he will be used for breeding purposes only. The breeding fee for outside mares is $50, according to Frank Dahlberg, professor in the Department of Animal Husbandry, in charge of the college horses.

Dahlberg adds that Buster Waggoner has sired some good horses and is expected to contribute to the A&M breeding program.

Pinehurst Ranch donated another horse to A&M last October. He is King Swing, P-92000, a bay two-year-old stallion and son of King P-234. He was listed in the Pinehurst auction as sold to A&M for $11,600 in their October, 1959, sale, reported by the Quarter Horse Journal, official breed publication.

The stallions are located on the college farm at the stallion barn, and are open to inspection by the public.

ORIENTATION WEEK

eral meeting will be held in G. Rolie White Coliseum. J. Gordon Gay, general secretary of the YMCA and coordinator of campus religious life, will be in charge. At the meeting ministers of the local churches will be introduced and the freshmen will be invited to attend open houses at all the churches, following the meeting.

Meetings Continue

Thursday morning will be occupied with a continuation of meetings started Wednesday with departmental advisers.

Registration for classes will begin Thursday afternoon for those students with less than 15 semester hours of college credit. This registration will continue through Friday morning.

There are no formal activities scheduled Thursday evening.

Friday Assembly

Friday afternoon at 1:15 a general assembly for all new students will be held in White Coliseum. James P. Hannigan, dean of Students, will be presiding. Talks on "Student Life at A&M" and "Student Activity Programs" will be given.

At 3 Friday afternoon all cadets will remain in White Coliseum for a meeting with Commandant of the Corps of Cadets Col. Joe E. Davis. Talks will also be given by Professor of Air Science Col. Charles E. Gregory and Professor of Military Science and Tactics Col. Frank L. Elder.

Civilian students will meet at 3 in the Memorial Student Center Assembly Room with Director of the Department of Student Affairs Bennie A. Zinn.

MSC Open House

Friday night will be devoted to an open house in the Memorial Student Center. An informal reception will be held in the MSC Ballroom when officials of the college and the MSC will be introduced. Functions of the various MSC committees and activities will be explained during guided tours of the building.

Saturday morning at 8 cadets will meet in White Coliseum to hear a talk on "The Corps of Cadets" by Corps Commander Sydney Heaton and talks on Corps life by cadet officers.

Civilian students will meet again in the MSC Assembly Room for a talk on "Civilian Student Orientation."

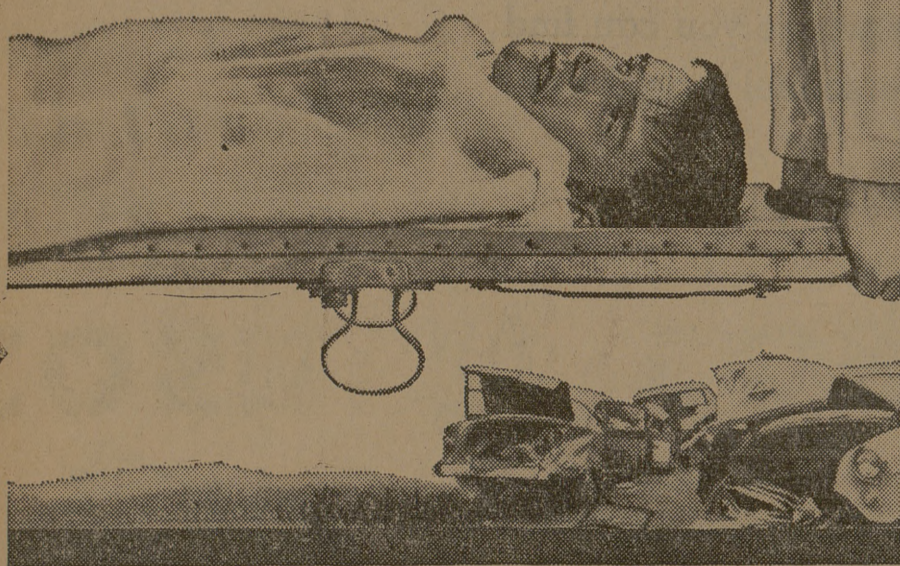

At 10 Saturday morning all cadets will meet with their respective units from cadet orientation.

From Saturday afternoon until Monday morning at 8 when classes begin, freshmen will be free to do as they please.

COURT'S
North Gate

AND WE DO THIS TO OURSELVES

No war crippled this man—nor thousands more injured day after day in traffic accidents. For this highway butchery, only we ourselves are to blame. We disregard laws made to protect us. Nearly every accident grows out of some violation. And casualties mount! They will lessen only if you help. So drive safely. Obey the law. Insist others do, too. Where traffic laws are strictly obeyed, accidents go down!

FACE THIS FACT

Drivers are the No. 1 cause of traffic accidents which last year injured 1,400,000 and killed 38,000. This year an increase is threatened. How long must this go on? YOU can supply the answer!
