

Enough Information To Start Library

When P. Stanley Perera leaves A&M this fall and returns to his native country, Ceylon, he will be armed with enough information and literature to start a small library on the subject of college buildings and maintenance.

Librarying, however, is not Perera's profession. He is Inspector of Works in charge of all maintenance and construction work at the University of Ceylon.

Sponsored by the International Co-Operation Assn., the technician came to A&M in early April to find out all he could about the latest developments in civil engineering and to study the organization and administration of the college's physical plant.

Set About Building
He will return to Ceylon about the end of September and then set about building a better maintenance workshop at the university.

Perera's training at A&M is under supervision of Howard Badgett, manager of the school's physical plant. In addition to observing the organization of the physical plant, the Ceylonese visitor is studying sanitary engineering and the hows and whys of soils, building materials, pre-stressed concrete, asphalt, drainage and architecture.

During July, he attended a physical plant management short course at Purdue University. And in May, he joined the National Assn. of Physical Plant Administrators of Universities and Colleges while attending the organization's annual meeting in Boston.

Draw Plans
One of his projects at A&M was to draw up plans for a low level atomic energy project building. The list of nuclear instruments to equip the laboratory was prepared by John D. Randall, assistant professor in the Nuclear Department of Engineering, and Vernon S. Bishop, A&M College System radiological safety officer.

Perera attended the University of Ceylon, where he studied civil engineering. During World War II, he was lieutenant of Ceylon engineers of the Ceylon defense force.

For Discipline
Later, he was put in command of the Military School of Engineering at Ceylon Technical College, where he was responsible for discipline and arranging courses and training army personnel in plumbing, lathe work, auto mechanics, carpentry, masonry, metal work, drafting and electricity.

Perera praised A&M, its faculty and staff members. "Everyone has been most cordial and helpful," he said.

Walk a Mile a Day And Live To Be 100

By The Associated Press
Mrs. Mattie Vickery takes a little stroll of a mile and return almost daily. The exceptional thing about her walks is that she is more than 100 years old.

The mother of College Station baker Dee Weatherly says: "It doesn't tire me 'I walk all the time. That's why I've grown so old and am still healthy."

Mrs. Vickery has never been inside a hospital and has never taken medicine, she says.

Full-Time Job
She is frail and bent with years, but still very active.

On top of that, she has a full time job of keeping house for herself and her youngest son. She also tends to a few chickens around the place.

The centenarian and her son, Rufus (Fuzzy) Vickery, live in a small house north of this city. Her mother, Mrs. Julie Roverts, was 115 years and 5 days old when she died and Mrs. Vickery plans to live longer than her mother.

Married Twice
She has been married twice and has six children, three by each husband. She gave birth to her last child when she was 52. Rufus is 48.

Her oldest son is Weatherly, 62. Her other son is Leroy Vickery, 51, a Dallas carpenter. She has three daughters, Cora Vickery Opti, Cleburne; Effie Weatherly Jones, Dallas; and Lillie Weatherly Freestone, Dallas.

Mrs. Vickery has 35 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren.

Burgers Top Parent Night By Troop 802

Boy Scout Troop 802 held their annual Parents' Night Hamburger Supper and Court of Honor at Pleasant Acres Monday evening, August 29, 1960. Peter Fagan, Senior Patrol Leader of Troop acted as Master of Ceremonies and welcomed the parents.

After supper of hamburgers, baked beans, and eight kinds of dessert Scout David Holmgreen led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of the first verse of "America."

New Scout
A new Scout David Riedel was welcomed to the Davey Crockett Patrol. Scout Master Sid Loveless, who had just returned with the Explorers on the Historic Trek down the Brazos, explained what the Explorers were doing, congratulated all scouts who had attended the Jamboree, Camp Strake, and the Campcraft School.

Tim Erskine described the night compass hikes and the fifteen mile adventure hike taken at the school. Scout John Perry added more details on the adventure hike.

Troop Qualifies
Riedel gave an extemporaneous talk on the subject of "Why I Hate for Summer Vacation to Be Over." During a round table discussion between the parents and the boys led by Chairman J. W. Amyx, it was announced that the Troop had qualified for the national camping award.

It was also announced that Will Worley would take over as Troop Committee Chairman, succeeding Amyx, for the coming year.

At the Court of Honor the Star Scout Award was pinned on Don DeLucia by his mother and a large number of merit badges were awarded to David Brusse, Tommy Cartwright, Tim Erskine, Carl Gough, Paul Fagan, Peter Fagan, Mark Riedel, Tom Hannigan, Butch Hill, Bucky Irving, and John Perry.

New Patrol Leader
Scout Tommy Cartwright was announced as the new Senior Patrol Leader for the coming year with Carl Gough as Scribe, and Amyx as Quartermaster. Mark Riedel led the closing ceremony by asking all scouts to tell what good turn they had done that day and concluded by asking parents what good turn they had done, which proved most interesting.

FRESHMEN

Assembly Room with Director of the Department of Student Affairs Bennie A. Zinn.

Friday night will be devoted to an open house in the Memorial Student Center. An informal reception will be held in the MSC Ballroom when officials of the college and the MSC will be introduced. Functions of the various MSC committees and activities will be explained during guided tours of the building.

Saturday morning at 8 cadets will meet in White Coliseum to hear a talk on "The Corps of Cadets" by Corps Commander Sydney Heaton and talks on Corps life by cadet officers.

Civilian students will meet again in the MSC Assembly Room for a talk on "Civilian Student Orientation."

At 10 Saturday morning all cadets will meet with their respective units from cadet orientation. From Saturday afternoon until Monday morning at 8 when classes begin, freshmen will be free to do as they please.

TO QUALIFY FOR LICENSE

Blood Testing To Dominate Turkey Seminar and Course

Participants in the Turkey Seminar and Short Course to be held here Wednesday through Friday will be qualifying for licenses to do turkey blood testing work.

George Draper of College Station, program chairman and supervisor of the National Turkey Improvement Plan, said the first day of the seminar will be devoted to talks on turkey production and marketing. The last two days will be made up of blood testing work on turkeys, when the participants will qualify for their licenses.

Draper said that approximately 140 persons are expected to attend the session. The seminar will be held in the Memorial Student Center and the short course at the college poultry farm.

Guest speakers include Dr. O. L. Osteen of the Animal Disease and Parasite Division of the Agricultural Research Service at Washington, D. C., who will talk on turkey PLO testing; Raymond Schlar, poultry co-ordinator of the National Poultry and Turkey Improvement Plans, USDA, Beltsville, Md., "Proposed Restrictions on Interstate Movement of Poultry;" G. P. McCarthy, Allied Mills, Inc., Fort Worth, "Role of the Grower in Turkey Production," and L. E. Deason, B&D Mills, Grapevine, "Means of Reducing Production Costs."

A&M speakers and their subjects are Dr. C. F. Hall, School of Veterinary Medicine, "Result of the First Year of Salmonella Typhi-murium Testing;" Dr. L. C. Grumbles, School of Veterinary Medicine, "The New Hatchery Sanitation Program;" John McHaney, Extension Service economist, "Outlook for the Turkey Industry," and Dr. R. L. Atkinson, Department of Poultry Science "More poulters Per Breeder Hen."

Other Speakers
Also, Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, "Changes in Turkey Breeding;" Dr. W. F. Krueger, "Lighting in Relation to Year-Around Poultry Production," and E. D. Parnell, "Reducing Down-grading in Turkeys," all of the Poultry Science Department.

Draper will discuss breeder flock management for 1961.

TIPS

Your job is not to bid openly for the attention of the big boss.

Rather, it is to win a place in the hearts of the rank and file. This accomplishment is hardly likely to escape the boss' attention.

To some, you will automatically be one of the "fair-haired" boys. They will not welcome you with open arms.

The know-it-alls, the wise guys, who haven't the sense to refrain from ostentatious display of their intellectual superiority, who give the impression that their talents are being wasted when they are called upon to do actual work, make it tough for the organization, and can throw the whole shop into a tailspin. They usually do not last long, and bounce around from job to job until they settle into that mediocre spot where their limited talents are most likely to go unobserved.

Another point to watch for:

College men often have a way of associating only with each other. You cannot adjust your life to the lives of others with whom you work unless you learn to know their problems and interests, and "to talk their lingo."

First signs of your emerging leadership is the ability to earn the respect of all. When they feel that you appreciate their efforts, and come to realize that you are a REAL PERSON, your adjustment is well on the way to completion.

where are they going?

A familiar sight . . . men with briefcases daily through airports all over the nation, winging their way from one place to another. But where, really, are they going?

In this busy age of appointments, rush hours, and summit meetings, we search for success, for more money, for a better future, for a variety of things. Yet, like so many mid-twentieth century Americans, the harder we seek the less we find.

We need a job, a purpose, a home, a family. But also, we need a church. We need to go into that church to reaffirm our faith both in God and in our fellow beings. Only then does our quest — and our ultimate destination — begin to make sense.
