

Defense Prevails Before Tigers Top Cadets, 9 - 0

Bowled Over

Sam Byer, sophomore Aggie fullback, is tangled up with an unidentified LSU Tiger early in the second quarter during Saturday night's contest in Baton Rouge. Byer picked up two yards on this play before being hauled down.

After battling to a stalemate for almost three quarters, the LSU Tigers capitalized on a couple of Cadet bobbles to bring down a 9-0 win in Baton Rouge Saturday night.

The Tigers' first tally came after Babe Craig was rushed badly and only managed a 24-yard punt. Seven plays later the Tigers had rammed to the Aggie one where Wendell Harris crossed the double stripe with 56 seconds left in the third quarter.

Ags Threaten
A&M threatened the staunch defense set up by the Chinese Bandits early in the game, but Tiger end, Andy Bourgeois, hauled in a Powell Berry pass on the 13-yard line to halt the drive.

Another Aggie threat came when Randy Sims took a Tiger punt off the toe of Jerry Stoval and ran it back 66 yards to the Tiger 18, but again the LSU pass defense tightened and another interception bogged the chance to score.

Harris put three more points on the scoreboard for the Tigers as he booted a 32-yard field goal, facing a fourth and seven situation.

Tight First Half
Action during the first half came from "40 to 40" as the Tigers had 63 yards to the Cadets' 66. Also the first downs were about as close.

The Tiger defense was sharper in the second half and held A&M to only two first downs.

Fans got quite an aerial exhibition during the game; however, it wasn't the traditional pass from the quarterbacks, but instead the action came off the toes of the Ags' Craig and Bengal Jerry Stoval. Craig averaged 38.1 for the night on nine punts and Stoval kicked 11 times for 40.9. Although Craig's average was marred by one 21-yarder, he managed two for 51 yards each.

Mistakes Cost
Coach Jim Myers was all but dissatisfied with his Cadet charges and remarked, "We have a good young team and I'm proud of the way our boys played, but we made too many mistakes."

All the Aggies were in good shape physically yesterday as they went through a two-hour workout preparing for the opening home game with Texas Tech Saturday. Between the grunts and groans of the busy Cadets were the familiar sayings of "Get a Raider," or "Let's get Tech."

Saturday will officially open conference play for the Ags and Red Raiders and will also mark Tech's debut into the Southwest Conference.

Intramural Meet Slated By Welch

The first meeting of all athletic officers will be held tomorrow at 5 p.m. in Room 303 in the YMCA building, according to Barney Welch, intramural director.

Welch also reminded all sophomore intramural managers during last year who want to be junior managers to contact him at the intramural office.

Any sophomore who is interested in becoming a manager should come by the intramural office, Welch added.

In tomorrow's meeting Welch will map plans for the coming year, explain the changes in the intramural program and answer any questions that might arise.

Only Ten Texas College Football Teams Undefeated

Here the football season has scarcely started and only 10 Texas colleges are undefeated and untied. Three of these just haven't begun the campaign yet.

Howard Payne leads the way with two victories while Texas Tech, Sam Houston State, Sul Ross, Austin College, Texas Lutheran and Abilene Christian have each won the only game played.

Baylor, Rice and North Texas State open the season this week and that will mean that all 27 of the Texas colleges will have seen action.

The alarming thing about the showing of the Texas colleges thus far is the fact that they have lost 12 out of 17 games played against teams from other states.

CHS Records First Victory; Edge Madisonville, 16 - 14

Battalion Sports Writer
Two long touchdown marches and a spirited goal line stand by the A&M Consolidated Tigers counteracted almost 300 yards of total offense by the Madisonville Mustangs as the Bengals finally nailed down their initial win of the 1960 season, 16-14.

Dropped 16-14 by St. Anthony's of Beaumont when their final extra point try failed last week, and run out of the park by the Navajota Rattlers 16-0 in their season opener, the District 19-AA favorites' offense began to jell for two touchdowns, and a victory.

Madisonville used the long scoring march to their advantage behind the running and passing of all-district performer Charles Grizzle and the charging of Bob Ellisor. The Mustangs, victorious in their opening tilt against 19-AA Caldwell 25-0 but downed by the tough Huntsville Hornets 19-0 last week, ground out 225 yards on the turf and went to the air for 70 more. But, Grizzle's attempt for the two-point conversion after the Red and Blue's first TD meant the difference.

Tigers Take Lead
The Bengals wasted no time in pleasing the partisan crowd on Tiger Field, trekking 63 yards in 10 plays for a quick 8-0 lead. With Condy Pugh directing the attack, Cyril Burke, John Pedigo, and Jim McAfee ground three first downs from the Tiger 37 to the Mustang 29. Pedigo rammed for eight quick yards before grabbing a Pugh aerial for the remaining 21 yards. Pugh rolled out for the two extra points, giving the locals an 8-0 margin.

Madisonville began to move, but a series of penalties set the visitors back to the Tiger 41 where Grizzle punted deep to the Tiger 10. The Tigers seemed goalward bound again but Burke's fumble on the Mustang 23 ended the threat.

Grizzle took over and began to move the highly-rated Mustangs with quick precision. Seven plays took the ball from the 'Stang 23 to the Tiger 12, with Grizzle racking up 52 of the yards in three tries. Ellisor and Grizzle moved the pigskin to the one where fullback Joe Taylor hit paydirt with 3:30 remaining before the half. Grizzle's extra points try was foiled by the alert Tiger defense and the Tigers held on to their slim 8-6 margin.

Madisonville took the second half kickoff and marched steadily again toward Tigerland. Grizzle and Ellisor carried most of the mail as the Mustangs moved from their own 33 to the Tiger eight in 11 plays. There the leaky Tiger defense took a foothold and held Taylor, Ellisor, quarterback Bill Hopkins and Grizzle to six yards, taking over on the two.

Fumble Stops Threat
The Tigers moved the ball out to the 28 before punting, with the visitors taking over on their 28. Sparked by a 29-yard pass play from Grizzle to Ellisor and a 16 yard jaunt by Grizzle, the Mustangs again moved deep into Tiger territory. But, Grizzle bobbed a pitch-out on the 15 and Pugh pounced on the ball to stave off the threat.

Two plays later the Tigers played give-back as the Mustangs fell on a loose pighide on the Tiger 19. Ellisor rammed for four and Grizzle carried it over in two tries, the last a 12 yard scamper. Grizzle made it 14-8 by fumbling the extra points try into the end zone where a couple of his linemen retrieved it.

The Bengals came back with a Pugh to Larry Randolph completion for 20 yards playing a key role, the Tigers moved to the Madisonville eight. Burke rammed the ball within six inches of the promised land and McAfee took it over to knot the count at 14-14. Pugh ran the option play to the left and plunged for the game-winning two points.

Coach Pleased
Coach Ed Logan was pleased with his offense, but stressed the fact that the defense needs a good deal of work. He singled out the efforts of Pugh, who ran both quarterback and fullback and Russell Welch, who piloted the club a good part of the night; Burke, whose extra yards came at opportune times; and tackle Alex Quisenberry for fine jobs.

Pugh was the Tigers' leading offense man, rounding up 61 yards in nine cracks while Burke had 54 in 12 tries. Grizzle stole the whole show however, blasting for 134 yards in 18 tries while Ellisor had 54 yards in 12 attempts. Grizzle also completed four of seven passes for 70 yards, hitting Ellisor three times for 64 yards.

The Tigers journey out of town for two weeks in succession beginning next Friday against the Giddings Buffs of District 20-AA before meeting the co-favorite of 22-AA, Crockett, the following week. The Bengals complete their non-district slate against the Huntsville eleven on October 7 on Tiger Field.
