Fallout Project To Be Talked For Bryan - College Station

A team of state and federal civil defense leaders will arrive here Monday at Easterwood Airport to help launch a project to encourage construction of home fallout shelters by Bryan and College Station citizens.

Heading the team will be Welcome W. Wilson of Denton, director of the Southwestern Regional Headquarters Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, and James H. Garner of Austin, state co-ordinator of Defense and Disaster Relief for Texas.

Brazos County Judge W. C. Davis, county civil defense co-ordinator, and Joe Barron, chairman of the Brazos County Fallout Shelter Board Committee, will direct local participation at the meeting. The session is set for 3:30 p.m. in Rooms 2A and 2B of the Memorial Student Center.

Two-Months Tour
The state-federal team is making a two-months tour to organize local shelter building programs in 100 cities of the five-state southwestern region.

"Operation 100," as it is called, is to help the 100 cities in the formation of a local shelter and the construction of at least one demonstration model shelter in each city. In Bryan and College Station, as in the other cities, the demonstration model would be open to the public and used as a guide by private citizens in building their own home fallout shelter.

Seeking Participation
Garner said civil defense leaders are seeking the participation and co-operation of numerous private and public groups in the cities they visit. These include home builders, contractors, real estate men, architects, manufacturers, suppliers, labor unions, churches, schools, civic clubs, women's organizations and major business institutions, such as banks.

Promotion of shelter buildings has been given top priority to receive 95 per cent of OCDM staff's time during September and October, Garner said. Construction of adequate shelters for the civilian population is regarded as the best defense against the threat of radioactive fallout following a nuclear attack.

No Area Too Remote
He said that since radioactive particles can be carried hundreds of miles by wind before settling to earth, no area would be too remote to be affected by fallout.

Meeting the team officials at 3 p. m. Monday at the airport will be Judge Davis, Barron, Jake Cangelose, county civil defense director; John Hill, College Station civil defense director, and Fred Sandlin, Bryan civil defense director.

Aggie Pistol Team Planning Meeting To Get Organized

The A&M Pistol Team, sponsored by the US Army ROTC Instructor Unit of the Department of Military Science, will have its first meeting of the 1960-61 school year Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Birch Room of the Memorial Student Center.

The agenda for the meeting includes selecting a program of matches to be fired here on campus and discussing plans for possible matches away from College Station.

One match has already been approved for the Pistol Team, coached by Maj. John H. Irving, Jr., of the Department of Military Science. The Aggies are matched "shoulder-to-shoulder" with a team from the US Air Force Academy, Feb. 11, in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Maj. Irving has urged all persons interested in trying out for the team to be present for the organizational meeting. The coach has particularly urged all new students at the college who have had previous experience shooting .22 caliber and/or center-fire handguns to attend.

Release Given Physician; Police Probe

By The Associated Press

HOUSTON — A physician was released under $5,000 bond Wednesday as police investigated the death of a model whose body was found in her apartment. The body of Mrs. Diane Graham, 29, was found Tuesday night.

Chester J. Brew, Detroit, Mich., told Houston newspapers by long distance that Mrs. Graham was his daughter, Mary Lou. He said she also was known as Diane Harris and formerly resided in New York.

Diane Harris, then 21, was held in custody under $25,000 bail in 1953 in New York City as a material witness in the Mickey Jelke vice case. She testified before the grand jury but did not appear at the Jelke trial.

Mrs. Graham had resided here about two years.

Dr. William W. McClellan, 47, and two attorneys were in the expensively furnished apartment when police arrived Tuesday night. On the advice of his attorneys, McClellan refused to answer any questions to police.

The attorneys, Tom White and Wilton R. Hill, arranged for McClellan's release applying for a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Milton A. Love set the bond pending a hearing on the writ Friday.

No charges were filed against Dr. McClellan. The bond was posted for his appearance at the habeas corpus hearing.

Asst. District Atty. Joe Guarino said Love would reset the hearing if the cause of Mrs. Graham's death had not been determined by Friday.

Kyle Seating Sectors Same As Last Year

Student Seating Capacity Is 8,282

The seating plan in effect at Kyle Field will be basically the same as the plan used last year, according to Billy B. Hudson, chairman of the Student Senate Life Committee.

A total of 8,282 seats will be available for students and their dates, stretching from the 50-yard line in the east stands and extending to the halfway mark on the north end zone seats as in years past, said Hudson.

No one will be admitted in the student seating section unless they have a student activity card or student date ticket, he added.

Avoid Confusion

All students are also urged to have their dates meet them in the proper section of the stands to avoid confusion, said Hudson.

He said students and their dates will be expected to sit only in the seating section reserved for the student's class.

Civilians will be admitted to their respective sections by showing the Kyle Field Seating Card issued them when they paid their student activity fees during registration.

Ropes separating the sections will be taken down after the kickoff as in the past, said White. This means that once a section is filled, the ropes will be removed and everyone will move over if they desire.

3,000 Senior Seats

Seniors will have 3,000 seats available extending from the 50-yard line to the 15-yard line. These seats include sections 132, 131, 130 and one-third of 129. Civilians and graduate students will have seats in this area from Row 22 to the top of the stands. The band will also be seated in this area.

Juniors will have seats from the 15-yard line to the goal line. The 1,500 seats allotted the Class of '62 includes two-thirds of sections 129 and 128. Civilian juniors will sit from Row 22 up in the junior section.

A total of 3,782 seats have been allotted to the freshmen and sophomores in sections 123-127. Civilian freshmen and sophomores will sit in seats in the section from Row 32 up.

Seniors will enter through Ramps Q and P. Juniors will use Ramp O and sophomores will enter through Ramp N. Ramp M will be used by freshmen.

The civilian cards are pink for seniors and graduate students, white for juniors and blue for freshmen and sophomores.

Three Students Win Scholarships For New Year

Three students have been selected by the faculty of the Department of Floriculture and Landscape Architecture to receive awards available in the Department for the 1960-61 academic school year, Dr. A. F. DeWerth, head of the Department, has announced.

Those selected for the awards include Henry M. Haswell, Jr., of 8612 Files, Dallas, the F. W. Hensel Scholarship, worth $500.

George Hederhorst of 114 Crow Rd., Baytown, to receive the Tom J. Wolfe Scholarship, worth $250. Walter G. Dahlberg of 760 S. Rosemary, Bryan, the George B. Wolfe Scholarship, for $250.

Ike-Khrushchev Meeting Doubtful

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—Prospects of an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting got a fresh throw-down Wednesday despite announcement that President Eisenhower will stay here longer than first planned.

A U. S. spokesman said he knows of no suggestions from the Soviet Union for a get-together by Premier Nikita Khrushchev with Eisenhower, nor is he aware of any from the Asian-African bloc or other United Nations members.

One Killed in Cuba Power Clash

HAVANA (AP)—One insurgent was killed and a militiaman was wounded in a clash Wednesday between Fidel Castro forces and an antigovernment band in the San Cristobal region of Pinar del Rio Province, informed sources here reported.

Nixon-Kennedy Clash Over Policy

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy hammered at one another Wednesday in their dispute over whether America is losing ground to the Soviet Union and how much the question should be argued while the U.N. General Assembly is meeting.

Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, said Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Cuban Premier Fidel Castro "should hear the voice of the opposition which does not want appeasement."

Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, agreed that it isn't wrong to point out things to be corrected. But, he declared, "there ought to be some emphasis on things that are right about the United States."

Nikky May Go To Cuba Next

HAVANA—Reports persisted here Wednesday that Nikita Khrushchev and his satellite leaders will come to Cuba with Fidel Castro when the prime minister returns from New York.

These reports say the Cuban leader will join the Soviet premier and other Communist bosses in a voyage to Cuba aboard the Soviet liner Baltika, which brought Khrushchev to the United States.

The presidential palace and other official sources said they had no confirmation of such plans. But some sources close to the Castro regime insist that detailed plans are already formalized.

Panama Flag Flies Over Canal Zone

By The Associated Press

PANAMA—Amid student jeers Panama's flag was raised beside the Stars and Stripes over the Panama Canal Zone Wednesday for the first time since the United States took over the zone under a perpetual lease 57 years ago.

The flag-raising was marred by the shouts of some 50 high school students, chanting "Yankee go home," and the stabbing of an American broadcaster. In addition, the president of Panama refused to attend.

Flag to Be Flown

President Eisenhower directed Saturday that the Panamanian flag be flown at one point over the canal zone with the U. S. flag as a concession to Panamanian sovereignty.

Panama's President Ernesto de la Guardia, Jr., said he could not attend the ceremony because no provision had been made for him personally to raise his nation's flag.

Rifle Team Leader Announces Meeting

Capt. William D. Old, II, announced Wednesday all members of last year's rifle team desiring to participate again this year will report to the range at Kyle Field Monday at 3:5:15 p.m. for an organizational meeting.

COMMITTEES TO BE NAMED

CSC Starts Work Tonight

The Civilian Student Council will hold their first meeting of the 1960-61 school year tonight at 7:30 in the Senate Chamber of the Memorial Student Center.

President Mike Carlo said the CSC Executive Council has drafted several important items to be discussed at the meeting.

"Last year we made considerable progress toward raising the status of the civilian student at A&M. This year we want to continue working toward better relations with the Corps and more cooperation between civilian students themselves," he said.

Old Business
Among old business to be introduced at this year's first meeting will be the Third Annual Leadership Conference for Aggie civilian leaders to be held at Lakeview Methodist Assembly Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

Carlo said he expected around 30 civilian student leaders to attend this year's conference.

Other old business to be brought before the Council tonight will be a report on the sale of Civilian Activity and Government tickets.

Proceeds
The tickets are being sold in the civilian dorms on a voluntary basis. Proceeds from the sale of the tickets are to be used to finance civilian student government, activities such as the Civilian Weekend, and various dormitory projects such as dorm barbecues, repairs to dorm TV sets, and sending dorm representatives to out-of-town conferences and meetings.

New Business
Several vital pieces of new business will also be brought before the council.

An election committee will be appointed to bring the Civilian Student Council membership up to its full authorized strength.

Right now, according to Carlo, the Council needs a freshman representative, a representative from Project House, and several Civilian dormitory representatives.

A constitutional committee will also be appointed. Last year, the council approved giving the Civilian Yell Leader a vote in CSC affairs, however, an amendment to the constitution must be made to that effect.

Ushers
The Council will also discuss selecting 10 civilian students to usher at each of the three home games.

Also to be discussed at the meeting will be civilian parking. A special traffic committee will be appointed.

A special "Aggieland" committee will also be appointed at the meeting.

The invocation will be given by Barney Stumbo.

The Council members will also elect a secretary to take the place of James Beal.

Coats and ties will be worn to all meetings of the Civilian Student Council this year, Carlo said.

Russian Premier Truculent At UN General Assembly

By The Associated Press

Nikita Khrushchev displayed increasing truculence Wednesday night as a fateful U. N. General Assembly session waited anxiously for spectacular Soviet and American declarations on the prospect for world peace.

While the Soviet premier, in two separate balcony scenes at the Russians' U. N. headquarters in New York, was issuing blasts at U. S. culture, diplomatic circles here discussed the possibility that President Eisenhower would make two U. N. appearances, one before and one after Khrushchev's major address.

Speaks Thursday
Eisenhower speaks Thursday and is expected to issue several challenges to the Russians on the issues causing world tensions. Khrushchev speaks Friday.

But the President is due in New York again Monday for a scheduled address to a Catholic charities group. Diplomatic sources speculated he would be available to rebut Khrushchev should he deem it necessary.

Khrushchev, Communist bloc sources said, was carrying one of his characteristic oratorical bombshells with him—what the Communists called "dramatic new proposals." They would say no more than that about it. Khrushchev sat in for about an hour of the forenoon session of the General Assembly, listening while new member nations implored the assembly to offer them some prospect of relief from the cold war's perils.

The Soviet leader seemed glum at that moment, though unimpressed by a report of the Soviet trading agency, Amtorg, of an assassination plot against him involving a gun concealed in a camera.

Cast Doubt

Police cast doubt on the story, and there was speculation it was a piece of complicated Communist propaganda.

As he left for Soviet U. N. headquarters on Park Avenue, Khrushchev seemed dour and out of sorts, arousing speculation about his health.

But suddenly, at the Park Avenue building, he appeared in his shirt sleeves for a shouted give-and-take with reporters below, and his mood was back effusive again.

And, once again suddenly, he reappearing on the balcony in the evening. This time he seemed in a mood to bait Americans. Obviously he was angry at being confined, for security reasons, to Manhattan.

But once again, his mood changed with lightning swiftness. He was back to joking again.

In the first balcony scene, Khrushchev complained he was "under house arrest" because of being confined to Manhattan. He insisted the American people "more than ever" were welcoming his visit.

Cafe Rue Pinale

Cafe Rue Pinale makes its debut for the fall tomorrow night in the Memorial Student Center. The Richard Swift Combo will play for the three hour dance at 8:30 p. m. preceding Midnight Yell Practice in The Grove.
