Annual Extension Service Conference in Progress

More Than 700 Attending Meet

By MORRIS ASBILL

The largest Annual Conference of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is now in progress on campus. The conference started Tuesday and will end Friday.

"Approximately 700 staff members and 25 guests are here for the conference this week," according to J. D. Prewitt, Associate Director, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The purpose of the meeting is to take a look at the program generally and decide what changes need to be made to move ahead in our agricultural work here in the state, said Prewitt.

All Represented

All counties were represented, based on figures received from registration which started Monday afternoon.

The first general session was held in Guion Hall yesterday morning. This session consisted of a welcome to the campus by President Earl Rudder; presentation of Administrative Officials and Remarks on Purpose of conference by R. E. Patterson, Dean of Agriculture; an address by Helen Hurd, Dean of Students and Assistant Professor of Sociology, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.; and an address by W. A. (Bill) Porter, Porter Farms, Terrell.

The agenda for yesterday afternoon was workshop sessions on the scope report. The purpose of these studies and reports is to determine the direction of future study and emphasis for the overall program, according to Prewitt. Among these studies are Efficiency in Agricultural Production; Efficiency in Marketing, Distribution and Utilization; Public Affairs; and Community Improvement and Resource Development.

The program for today was an address on "Public Relations and You" by D. B. (Woody) Varner, Chancellor, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich., and Workshop Sessions on Public Relations.

This afternoon's program was the presentation of the scope reports given by the various areas of program emphasis.

Tomorrow's sessions will be spent on Public Relations Reports and an address by President Rudder on "Your A&M College of Texas."

The Joint Agent's Assn. Banquet in the Sbisla Hall Annex will wrap up the day's activities.

Bonfire To Spark Tiger Homecoming

By RUSSELL BROWN
Consolidated Correspondent

tomorrow night when the A&M Consolidated High yell leaders touch off the biggest bonfire in Consolidated's history, the wild Tiger homecoming week will hit its beginning note.

The opening of the homecoming activity began Monday when the four classes began work on the bonfire. Tomorrow at 8 p.m. is the ignition time. The Tiger pep rally will be sparked with speeches from exes and the student body.

The Tigers and the Tiger exes will gather near the U. S. D. A.

Building at 6:30 p. m. for a snake dance around the campus to the school where the fire will be lit.

Following the bonfire, Friday night finds the Tigers of Consolidated and the Tigers of Rockdale battling for the league lead in District 19-AA, the inner probably becoming the eventual loop winner.

At halftime one of nine beauties picked by the footballers will be crowned homecoming queen of 1960, along with two princesses. Linda Harvell, Donna Dozier, Carol Ann Kincaid, Sherry Smith, Nancy Beamer, Margaret Patterson, Shirley Rogers, Blair Perryman, and Sue Ross are the candidates for royalty.

The week of frenzy will be brought to a close after the game with a homecoming dance honoring the queen and the Tiger exes. A dance band will provide the music in the gym.

Jackson, Carlo Named Student C of C Officers

The Student Chamber of Commerce Executive Committee has elected Clifford Jackson president and Mike Carlo vice president of the chamber for this year.

Jackson is an industrial education major from Houston. Carlo is a chemical engineering major from Alamo.

At an earlier meeting, Bob Roberts, senior journalism major from Kerrville, was elected secretary and Edmond Winston, senior Business Administration major from Lufkin, was elected treasurer.

Jackson said the group has asked the Department of Architecture to build a rack to hold brochures from the various departments in the Memorial Student Center.

The chamber has encouraged each department to send brochures describing their courses and their activities so that the chamber may assemble them. They will be put in the MSC so that anyone interested in a specific department may get a brochure on it.

Jackson said the group intends to continue its program of guiding tours on campus and bettering relations between student and professors.

World Wrap-Up

By The Associated Press

Fighters Buzz English Queen's Plane

LONDON—Two jet fighters marked with the iron crosses of the West German air force zoomed within 50 feet of Queen Elizabeth's plane Tuesday as she flew home from a visit to Denmark.

"A very nasty moment," said a crewman on the queen's jet liner when it landed here safely, after the buzzing.

The close call occurred while the plane, manned by members of the Royal Air Force, flew near the German border at 30,000 feet about 20 miles north of Eelde, the Netherlands. It was reported to traffic controllers at Amsterdam airport as a near miss.

Soviets Give Up On Disarmament Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The Soviet Union has virtually written off U.N. disarmament debate at this time as useless. It said Tuesday the only way to resolve the East-West deadlock is to hold a special General Assembly session next spring at the summit level.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin told the 99-nation Political Committee that unless the United States and its allies accept Soviet Premier Khrushchev's approach on disarmament, "we shall have no other choice" than to terminate Soviet participation in committee debate.

U.N. To Air Cuban Aggression Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The U.N. Steering Committee Tuesday agreed quickly to a full United Nations airing of Cuban complaints that the United States is preparing an invasion of Cuba.

The decision was taken without opposition after Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa accused Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon of making Cuba a scapegoat in the U. S. presidential campaign. He called for urgent U.N. action.

The United States denied his charges, but said it would not oppose U.N. debate.

Airliner Lands On Foam Minus Tail Wheel

FORT WORTH—An American Airlines 707 jet with 118 passengers and a crew of eight aboard nosed over at Carswell Air Force Base Tuesday in making an emergency landing. All aboard were believed to be uninjured.

The tail wheel on the huge aircraft could not be lowered when the plane, which took off from Los Angeles, attempted to land at Love Field in Dallas. It was diverted to Carswell where Air Force ground crews covered one of the main runways with foam.

The plane circled the area for more than an hour to exhaust its fuel supply before attempting the landing here. Coming in its main landing gear lowered, the huge ship skimmed along the ground, sliding on its nose.

KYLE FIELD VS. THE GROVE

Midnight Yell Practice Locale Opinion Split in Random Poll

By TOMMY HOLBEIN
Battalion Feature Editor
"Midnight Yell Practice will be held in Kyle Field instead of The Grove."

This news released a siege of opinions across the campus concerning the decision; many feel it is wise, many others disagree.

Mickey Metcalf, a junior from Dalhart living in Dorm 17, said, "Under the circumstances, I am glad to see it happen. Midnight Yell Practice has turned into mass confusion, and maybe this will help."

"There was no excuse for the injuries incurred at the last one; I believe moving the location to Kyle Field will make it an all-around better event," said Metcalf.

George Vogt, senior from Weimar living in Dorm 16, said, "I'm definitely against moving the location, but if it must be moved to control it, I'll back it. What happened at the last yell practice is not right, but it could be properly controlled in The Grove. A person just won't get a feeling of togetherness in Kyle Field like there is in The Grove.

"Also, I have always looked upon Kyle Field as a more sacred place, where we see the Aggies whip somebody; not just have a yell practice," he added.

Harry Brand, junior from Houston living in Dorm 15, said "I think it is all right, and a very good idea to move Midnight Yell Practice to Kyle Field. There is a lot more room over there, and everyone can fit in. At the last Midnight Yell Practice in The Grove, there were scores of people that couldn't even fit into The Grove."

"It might be another improvement if we could arrange separate gates for the upper and underclassmen to enter Kyle Field, also. If the freshmen and sophomores could enter at one gate, and the juniors and seniors through another, that would split the packing almost in half, and create less confusion," he added.

Frank Hall, junior from Megargel living in Dorm 3, said he was totally against the change.

"It is another direct breach of tradition, and we've already had too many traditions go down the drain this year as it is," said Hall.

Arlon Ragsdale, freshman from Alba living in Dorm 10, said, "It should be much better in Kyle Field. There is a lot more room, and the field of vision is much better."

"In The Grove, a person is lucky if he can even see the yell leaders, much less hear them. In Kyle Field, this problem is totally eliminated, since the crowd will be elevated, and the yell leaders can be seen from everywhere," Ragsdale added.

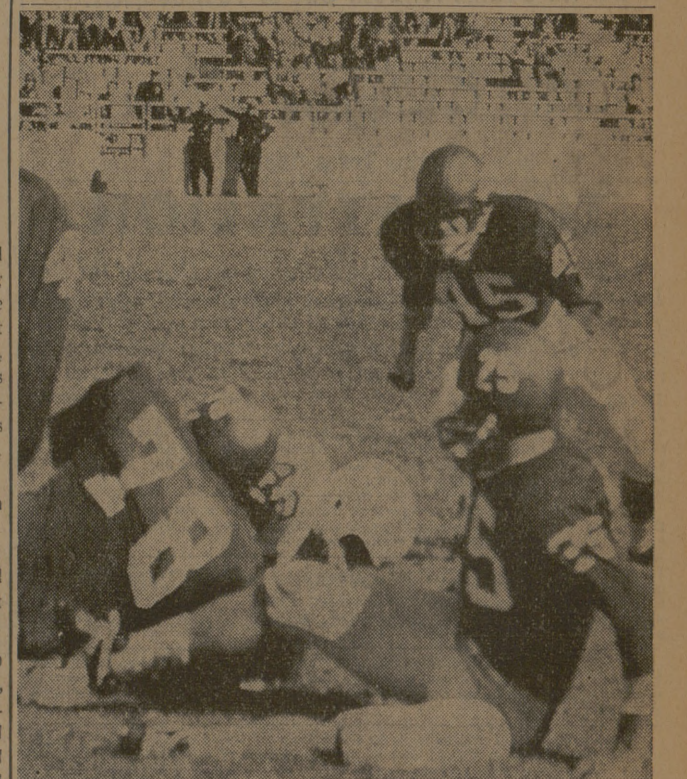

Raul Garcia, senior from Hebronville living in Leggett Hall, disagreed.

"I can't see where there would be any improvement over holding the midnight yell practice in The Grove. I believe there will be just as much confusion in Kyle Field, and actually it is more dangerous there, with so many more obstacles in the way, such as the rows of seats for people to trip over the trees and other obstacles."

Morris Tate, sophomore from Houston living in Dorm 15, said "It would make the yell practice much better. Seems like we will be yelling louder, and it is just better in Kyle Field."

Charles Robinson, freshman from Orange living in Dorm 14, said, "It looks like moving the midnight yell practice to Kyle Field will cut out a lot of spirit. It will be just like a normal, ordinary yell practice except that we will not be in uniform."

These opinions, taken at random across the campus, show great diversification. Next Friday night will be the initial test on the decision of having Midnight Yell Practice in Kyle Field.

Bruins Bury Murphy

Jim Murphy (42), almost hidden by a mass of green Baylor jerseys, is halted after a short gain near mid-field in second half action in Waco last Saturday. Baylor passes proved to be the difference as the Bears dropped the Ags, 14-0, handing the Cadets their first conference loss to go with two ties. Making the tackle for Baylor are Royce West (78) and Ronnie Bull (25) as Horace White (45) looks on.
