The Aggie football team hasn't won a Southwest Conference game in two years and the last one they did win was a 28-21 decision over the Rice Owls.

Although most football experts will probably predict another Owl victory this weekend, it never means too much in an A&M-Rice clash, nor in any other SWC battle this year.

The closeness of the race was well illustrated last week as the last place Southern Methodist University Mustangs fought to a deadlock with the Aggies; Arkansas beat the league-leading Owls; and Texas dropped the "has been" Baylor Bears.

After reviewing the A&M-SMU action last week, Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas was fully convinced that there couldn't be any eight teams in one conference more evenly matched. Broyles said, "Those SMU players have a lot of heart because those Aggies can play football with any team in the league and they beat us in everything except the score."

In years past whether the SWC has been as equal as this year, A&M and Rice still have provided plenty of thrills in their annual meeting.

During the new John Crow era of 1955, Rice was leading the Cadets 12-0 with less than five minutes to play when the game was broken wide open with an Aggie scoring spree that ended the ball game 20-12.

In 1957 the Cadets were favored to win, but the Owls came out on top, 7-6.

It was the Owls' time to be favorites in 1958, but Charley Milstead and crew upset the apple cart and brought home a booming 28-21 victory.

Last year, according to recent trends, it was Rice's time to win and that's exactly what they did, 7-2. It was their only win of the year, even though they were underdogs before the contest.

So—about the safest thing to say about any Rice-A&M tilt is no matter who is favored, undefeated or winless, the outcome seems unpredictable.

CHS Tigers Try Yoemen Tomorrow

By RUSSELL BROWN

The league-leading Cameron Yoemen try to sack the District 19-AA football title this Friday night on their home grounds as the undefeated Yoe battle the second place A&M Consolidated Tigers at 8 p.m. The Yoe's homecoming tilt will mean an outright championship for the Cameron eleven or else a two-or three-way tie with A&M or Rockdale.

Coach Billy Bates' bunch has racked up three straight 19-AA wins to up their 1960 slate to a 5-3 showing. The Yoe have run into pretty stiff competition all along the way, dropping a 34-6 decision to Taylor, the number two AA team in the state. West beat the Yoe 26-18 and Elgin toppled them 20-6 for their other two losses. Before downing Caldwell 30-21, Hearne 20-18, and Rockdale 14-6, the Yoe whipped Rogers 40-0 and Georgetown 28-21.

The Yoe are lead by two outstanding backs in the personages of quarterback Carroll Fikes and fullback Ed Liermann. The Yoe use a spread and wing-T variations in their offense, featuring the sweeping scampers of Liermann. Big center David Barkmeyer heads the list of linemen.

The Tigers could very well rest atop the league when the far ceases to fly Friday, for a Bengal victory coupled with a Caldwell upset over Rockdale would hand the Maroon and White their second district win in three years. The other possibilities number two: should Cameron beat A&M, the Yoe would win the title outright, or should the Tigers beat the Yoe and Rockdale whips Caldwell as expected, then the loop would remain in a three-way deadlock between Rockdale, A&M, and Cameron. The bi-district representative would be decided by a flip of a coin.

The Tigers (2-1) took last week off, watching the present situation develop when the Rockdale Tigers (2-1) were trimmed by Cameron. Practice sessions were slowed considerably last week, with quarterbacks Condy Pugh and Russell Welch working on passing during signal drills. But Thursday the two squads lined up for a simulated game scrimmage, playing ten minute quarters and stressing defense and passing.

The Bengals have been without a coach this week, as death in Coach Ed Logan's family have kept him out of town. Assistant Coach Jack Churchill and junior high Coach Edsel Jones, mentor of the 19-AA junior high Kitten Club, have taken over the reins. The Bengals looked sharp both on defense and offense Monday, but Tuesday both coaches expressed disappointment in the first team showing.

Friday's melee ends the regular season for the 1960 Bengals, as eleven seniors will see final action.

Texas Playing All Angles For Froggies

By The Associated Press

Texas is playing all the angles in its effort to beat Texas Christian Saturday and thus stay in the Southwest Conference race.

The Longhorns don't plan to get caught short this time like they did last season when they came out in short-sleeved jerseys with snow on the ground. They lost 14-9.

So when cold weather came Wednesday, Coach Darrell Royal said his Longhorns would take their long-sleeved jerseys along for use if the weather is bad at Fort Worth Saturday.

Royal also was worrying about injuries as were most of the Southwest Conference coaches. He had sophomore guard Johnny Tredwell and regular fullback Ray Poage out with hurts.

Texas Christian had its quarterbacks limping with knee hurts but they were expected to be able to play. The quarterbacks, Sonny Gibbs and Don George, took part in a 90-minute workout.

Arkansas, which meets Southern Methodist at Fayetteville, had end Les Letsinger and guard Paul Henderson on the doubtful list.

Southern Methodist had four players on the ailing list, fullback Gene Sherman, halfback Glynn Gregory, end Pat Neill and guard Bobby Hunt.

Baylor and Texas Tech play inter-sectional games.

At Least 73 Texas HS Districts To Have Champs

By The Associated Press

At least 73 of the 96 districts of Texas schoolboy football will have champions when the smoke of battle settles this weekend.

Thirty-nine representatives in the state races of Classes AA and A already have been determined. The other 25 are due Friday and Saturday.

In the top divisions — Classes AAAA and AAA — there will be only a smattering of district kings decided this week. The state playoffs in these clashes do not begin until Nov. 25.

The headline game comes in Class AA where two undefeated, untied teams clash for the District

2 title. They are Floydada and Olton, each with a 9-0 record. The winner will be one of the state favorites.

Olton and Floydada battle at Floydada Friday night.

Houston Bellaire can sew up the District 10 Class AAAA crown by beating Houston Jones Friday night while Port Arthur can wrap up District 11 by downing Orange.

But the big one in this division comes in District 12 where unbeaten, untied Brazosport of Freeport clashes with Baytown, top-rated team of Class AAAA. Baytown lost to Galena Park 7-6 in a jarring upset last week and now must beat Freeport to get back into the race.

Six titles go on the line in Class AAA. Monahans can win District 2 by beating Andrews, Brownwood District 4 by defeating Breckenridge, Huntsville District 10 by downing Jasper, LaMarque District 12 by defeating LaPorte, Port Lavaca District 15 by downing Beeville and Pharr San Juan-Alamo District 16 by beating Falfurrias.

Favorites in Classes AA and A already are safely past the district hurdle. Olney in AA awaits the playoffs as does Stinnett in A. Nineteen district representatives already have been determined in Class AA and two bi-district play-off games have been set. Denver City and Crane clash at Crane Nov. 19 and Belville and Crockett play at College Station the night before.

Class A has 20 district champions with three playoff games already set. Farwell and Idalou meet at Plainview, Copperas Cove and Albany at Brownwood and Crowell and Keller at Jacksboro Nov. 18.

There are 29 undefeated, untied teams left in the state with nine
