

Wayt Wiped Out

Bob Wayt (14), Rice's ace left halfback who scored all three Owl touchdowns Saturday, (45), Bob Phillips (80) and Jerry Hopkins doesn't go on this play. He was met with a welcoming party composed of Kenneth Kipp (54), who is behind Wayt.

SPORTS

Intramurals

Intramural sports had a busy day yesterday as the finals in several of the sports are nearing.

In Class A basketball, H-1 out-shot A-1, 24-15 and Sq. 4 halted M-B for a 31-15 victory.

In the only game in Class B horseshoes, Sq. 10 took Sq. 6, 3-0 by forfeit.

Class A handball had only three games yesterday as Sq. 8 edged B-1, 2-1; B-2 beat M-Band, 2-1; and A-2 won over G-1, 2-1.

In Class B football, Sq. 3 blanked E-1, 14-0; B-2 and C-2 fought to an 8-8 tie; and Sq. 2 shut out G-3, 6-0.

Flip Of Coin Boosts Tigers Into Bi-District Playoffs

By RUSSELL BROWN

The flip of the coin fell A&M Consolidated's way for the first time in 14 years as the Bengals copped the District 19-AA football title last weekend in an exciting season finish.

The Tigers began the fun in a second place tie with the Rockdale Tigers with 2-1 league records, resting one full game behind the undefeated Cameron Yoe. The Bengals took care of Coach Billy Bates' semi-crippled eleven 44-6 Friday night and then won the flip to break the three-way tie among the three clubs.

The second loop crown in three years for Coach Ed Logan's Maroon and White will send the Tigers against the number two AA team in the state in the personages of the Taylor Ducks. The Ducks, holders of a perfect 10-0 season mark and a 42.1 point average per game will journey to Kyle Field Saturday night for a 7:30 p. m. tilt in bi-district play. The winner will meet the winner of the Gatesville-Brady contest, the winners of Districts 17- and 18-AA.

Both the rugged offense and the equally tough Tiger defense snowed under the Yoe who were without the services of 188 pound full-back Ernest (Sam Byer) Bayer, quarterback Carrol Fikes, and guard Cris Gay. Bayer sat out the entire contest while Fikes was helped off the gridiron in the second period and Gay in the fourth.

The Tigers rolled up 295 yards rushing, 101 passing, and 26 first downs as seven different white shirts had a hand in the 44 point total. The Yoe on the other hand were only able to muster 95 yards on the ground and 56 more in the air while tallying their lone marker against Logan's reserves in the fourth period.

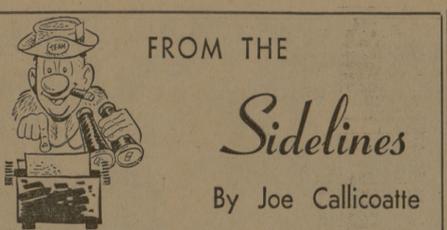

The winners icked up six points in the first period in Cyril Burke's nine-yard scamper with 2:20 to go, capping a 71 yard drive. Condy Pugh's extra point try fell short. The leading ground gainer Russel Welch and Pugh uncorked their passing arms in the second quarter as Welch fired a 37 yard TD pass to left end Bob Adams with 11 minutes before the half and Pugh chipped in with a 38 yarder to right end Johnny Williams with 1:33 to go. Welch added two more after the first TD for a 20-0 half-time lead.

The Tigers continued to roll up the count in the third stanza as John Perigo went the last two paces of a 41 yard, 10 play drive. Cyril Burke made it 28-0 with the extra points.

The senior-laden first squad then gave way to the second stringers, who grabbed 16 points of glory for themselves. Ozzie Burke opened the last period scoring with a one-yard plunge after a 43 yard drive as Welch tapped Williams for a two-pointer. Jim McAfee added the last six with a four yard burst and Welch set the final count a 44-6 with the final two-pointer.

Left half Ed Lierman saved the whitewashing with a four yard smash in the middle. Jimmy Wood- uly's extra points pass was too tall.

FROM THE Sidelines
By Joe Callicoate

"Why don't the Aggies win more?" That question has echoed throughout the Southwest Conference for some seven weeks now. And it was asked again last Saturday evening in Houston by Rice University graders and coaches after the Owls had eked out a 21-14 win over the Cadets.

Rice Assistant Coach Dell Morgan may have best expressed the feelings of the Owl personnel when he sighed, "I'm glad that one's over." Comments of that type were commonplace throughout the Rice Dressing Room:

"I can't figure out why they don't win more games."
"Nothing the Ags did surprised us, but their ball club surely impressed us."

"I just don't see why the Aggies don't win more. They are a real good team and, man, they hit hard."

Texas Christian University, Baylor University and the University of Arkansas all expressed similar reactions following contests with the Aggies. Yet in each instance the opponents chalked up a big "1" in the "W" column, or at least a tie, while the Cadets had to take satisfaction in another great effort that fell short.

One costly mistake has been incidental to each Saturday disaster. Against Baylor it was an intercepted pass that allowed the Bruins to romp 36 yards to pay dirt for the second back-breaking touchdown; against Arkansas it was a fumble at their own 20-yard line that granted the Hoers their lone score in a 7-3 triumph over the Aggies; against SMU it was a fumble inside the Pony 10-yard line that nipped the Ags best scoring threat.

Last weekend, the Cadets gave up a pass interception to the Owls at their 13-yard line early in the third stanza that opened the gate for the Rice win, albeit the Aggies brought back memories of the 1955 fairy tale.

The Cadets had turned back the Owls at their own one-yard line and, after an exchange of punts, opened an 80-yard march for the Rice end zone.

The clock gleamed 4:10 to play when high in the press box Rice Publicist Bill Whitmore, recalling the 1955 miracle when A&M tallied thrice in the closing three minutes to swamp the Owls, declared, "This, gentlemen, is where we get nervous."

But reality prevailed and the fiction department lost its chance to take over.

An onside kickoff after the final Cadet score failed to travel the required 10 yards and the Owls at 49 precious seconds before the Ags got another chance. Desperation passes in the final seconds failed to do the job and Rice bagged the triumph.

It was another statistical victory for the Aggies, as was the Texas Tech game, the TCU game, the Arkansas game and the SMU game.

A&M's traditional rival, the University of Texas, is next—and last—on the 1960 ledger. And if the past holds constant, it'll be the same story around dusk Thanksgiving afternoon:

Why don't the Aggies win more . . . ?"

Football 'Aplenty' for Locals

Football "aplenty" will be staged for local fans during the next ten days.

Things will get started Friday night as Crockett and Bellville tie up in a bi-district clash on Kyle Field.

Saturday afternoon the Texas Shorthorns come to Kyle Field with one of the best teams they have fielded in several years to meet the successful Aggie Fish, who have won three straight.

Kyle Field will get a double "going over" Saturday with the A&M Consolidated Tigers playing the Taylor Ducks at 7:30.

Consolidated got into the playoffs by the flip of a coin while the Ducks have racked up an impressive 10-0 record.

And of course the grandfather of all the games will be staged a week from Thursday in Austin as A&M's varsity meets their orange rivals, the Texas Longhorns.

So—there's the slate! Local fans should get their fill of football.

Fish Put 'Streak' On Line Saturday

Paced by speedy backs and stout linemen the Aggie freshmen put their 3-game win streak on the line here Saturday against a 15-game win streak of the Texas Yearlings.

Kickoff is 2 p. m. on Kyle Field with proceeds going to charity. The game is sponsored by the Brazos Shriners.

Coach Travis "Shorty" Hughes' Fish have improved each game this fall and after being blanked in the opener by the TCU frosh, have won three straight games with the scoring output increasing each game.

Latest win by the Fish was a come-from behind 27-13 effort over the Rice Owlets in Houston last Thursday night. A speedy set of backs led by Jerry Rogers of Corpus Christi, Travis Reagan of Wichita Falls, George Hargett of Linden, Jimmy Linstaedter of Brenham and Phil Peter of Houston paved the way to the victory.

Rogers picked up 113 yards on 10 carries to widen his rushing lead. His 91-yard touchdown jaunt broke the game wide open last week. Hargett picked up 56 yards on the ground while Reagan rushed for 52 yards and had a big night defensively. The Fish picked up 268 yards on the ground and 68 more pasing to out-offense the Rice-lets, 336 yards to 216. Following their 0-12 loss to TCU at Ft. Worth, the Fish won over the Baylor Cubs, 17-6; the Houston Kittens, 21-7 and Rice, 27-13.

The Texas frosh 15-game win streak dates back to 1957. This year the Yearlings have won over Baylor, TCU, SMU and Rice.

Hughes has been getting good line play from Ends Ken Bode of Brady or Ronnie Carpenter of Marshall, Tackles Jim Craig of Jasper and Johnny Kolacek of George West; Guards Terry McLeod of Jasper, Mike Swan of Athens and Jerry Pizzitola of Houston and Center Ray Kubala of West.

The Fish go into the game with one player out of action. He's No. 2 center, David Hill of Amarillo who had an injured knee. All other Fish will be on hand and in good physical condition.

Rogers is the leading Fish rusher with 265 yards followed by Hargett with 199, Linstaedter with 134 and Reagan with 115.
