French Seeking Bigger Voice

By J. M. ROBERTS Associated Press News Analyst mind.

Some people in Washington will provide the North Atlantic to drop her plans for national striking force of her own.

But the French decision to establish her own force was not a militatry decision. It is a politi-

The opposition defense force with nuclear is to any new national forces as weapons, France can be persuaded they are likely to incite creation of more and more. French experts say the Swedes are likely to be next after them. There have been reports that Japan is almost ready, and there is much speculation about Red China. And the more members there are in the Atom Club, the more complicated becomes the prospect of ever arriving at controls or abolition.

The nuclear striking force for NATO is expected to be one of the key topics at next month's conference in Paris, although it can be discussed on a tentative basis only pending installation of under the command of an Ameri- the new administration in Wash-
