

Leaders, Rather Than Scouts To Be Honored With Dinner

Awards of recognition and expressions of appreciation to adult leaders in the Arrowmoor District, Boy Scouts of America, will be the order of the day when approximately 600 boys hold their annual appreciation dinner Dec. 10.

An annual affair, the pot luck dinner will begin at 7 p.m. in the Jesse Jones Dining Hall at Allen Academy.

J. H. Quisenberry, general chairman of the dinner, said Saturday that this event is one of the most effective ways in which to show appreciation for the good work being done in Scouting at all levels in the district. "We hope that everyone interested in Scouting will attend the dinner. Only through unanimous support can our expressions of appreciation for voluntary work by so many people hold real meaning," Quisenberry said.

Plans now call for the presentation of a framed certificate accompanied by a letter of appreciation written by the recipient's nominating group.

E. L. Harvell, professional scoutmaster from the Arrowmoor District, said recently that too many times hard work and long hours spent in furthering the Scouting movement by volunteer workers have gone unrecognized and unappreciated.

Assisting Quisenberry in planning the dinner are Ralph McCormick, arrangements committee; James P. Hannigan, program committee; E. E. Burns, awards and recognition committee, and Bob Houze, attendance committee.

Nine-Block Route Revealed

Plans have been completed for Thursday morning's Corps Trip parade through Austin, with a nine-block route outlined.

The Corps of Cadets is due to move out at 9:45 a.m., going northeast on Congress Avenue, directly toward the State Capitol Building.

The units will begin forming on East 2nd Street behind Corps Staff with the marchers to follow the following pattern: 1st Wing, 1st Brigade, 2nd Wing and 2nd Brigade.

Eyes right will be given at the corner of Congress and East 8th, with the band to be stationed at the corner of Congress and West 8th, directly across the street.

The units will be dismissed at the front steps of the State Capitol Building, with the band van located to the east of the Capitol Building. Preceding the parade, the van will be stationed at the corner of Congress and East 3rd. Colors and guidons will be picked up at 8:30 a.m. at Congress and East 3rd from the van.

Bonfire's First Aid Team Praised

The bonfire first-aid team did another fine job of providing first-aid treatment to Aggies hurt during bonfire operations.

Robert J. Brown, head of the team, said that each of his men were thoroughly versed in first-aid procedures and techniques.

The team gave aid to over 150 slightly injured students.

The first-aid team established three aid stations. One of these was in the stacking area and the others were in the cutting areas.

The aid team maintained its own separate communications system. Each aid station had its own two-way radio unit and there was a relay station on top of Kyle Field. Standard 11 meter rigs were used.

Brown said that the injuries varied from cuts and lacerations to possible internal injuries.

The college hospital, which received all the delayed complaints, said that sprains led the list of injuries in the number reported. Lacerations, bruises, eye injuries, poison ivy, and a dislocated shoulder were also reported.

A hospital spokesman emphasized that all of the injuries were of a minor nature.

Cameroon Accuses Ghana Of Working With Soviets

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—An angry representative of Cameroon, today accused Ghana of working with the Soviet Union to set up a Communist regime in the Congo.

The delegate, Charles Okala, told the 99-nation General Assembly that the Communists were using Ghana as a bridgehead in Africa. He warned that the Congo problem was "a purely African affair."

Ghana's Alex Quaison-Sackey retorted that his country did not take dictation from anyone—either the Western powers or the Soviet Union.

He accused Okala of "bad taste and unparliamentary" behavior. Okala had taken the floor to reply to charges by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin that Cameroon was a lackey of some unidentified power.

The campaign, sponsored by the Brazos County TB Assn., opened Monday, Nov. 14, and will continue through December. It is the only appeal for funds which the association makes.

The TB Assn. carries on a program of Health Education, Case Finding and Rehabilitation with funds received from the Christmas Seal Campaign.

Okala had taken the floor to reply to charges by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin that Cameroon was a lackey of some unidentified power.

The Cameroon delegate told Quaison-Sackey that when he had addressed some remarks to Ghana he had expected an answer from an African, and not from the Soviet Union.

"Your master spilled the bean," Okala said.

The aim of the Ghana-Soviet efforts, he said, is to set up "Zorin-Quaison-Sackey Incorporated, with headquarters in Leopoldville, and I leave it to you to determine who will be the boss."

The exchange took place during a debate on a recommendation of the credentials committee that the assembly seat a delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu. The opposition was making a last ditch effort to block such action.

Junior Division Debaters Cop Only A&M Honors

The Junior Division A&M Debate Team, composed of freshmen Dick Stengel and Robert Denney, garnered the only local honors in the 12th annual A&M Invitational Debate Tournament, which concluded Saturday.

The Junior Team finished behind Baylor in their division, while the senior team failed to place as SMU walked off with both first and second place.

Rice finished third in the junior division.

Top speaker awards were distributed as follows: Senior Division, 1st, Rod Johnson, TCU; 2nd, Rod Brister, SMU, and 3rd, Larry Moreland, SMU. Junior Division, 1st, Calvin Kent, Baylor; 2nd, Becky Dawson, Baylor, and 3rd, Jim Doyle and Eugene Hielen, Rice.
