

First Of Two Agricultural Seminars To Begin Friday

Two seminars for the improvement of agricultural teaching have been scheduled for A&M.

D. L. Huss, assistant professor in the Department of Range and Forestry and chairman of the committee on Seminars for the improvement of Teaching in the School of Agriculture, said the first seminar will be held Friday and Saturday in the Memorial Student Center.

The guest speaker will be Dr. George White, director of general education and professor of humanities, College of Arts and Sciences, Oklahoma State University.

Guest speaker at the second seminar Jan. 6-7 is Dr. E. O. Milton of the University of Tennessee.

The first seminar starts at 7:15 p. m. Friday with a talk on "Plowing the Furrow" by Dr. G. M. Watkins, director of agricultural instruction. At 7:30 p. m., White will discuss "Student-Centered Teaching."

Dr. Otto Kunze, Department of Agricultural Engineering; Dr. H. O. Kunkel, Department of Animal Husbandry; and Dr. Fred Brison, Department of Horticulture, will then hold a panel discussion.

At 9:30 a. m. Saturday White will talk on "The Teacher—A Person in Relation To Colleagues." Afterwards, Dr. C. B. Godbey, Department of Genetics; Dr. W. T. Berry, Department of Animal Husbandry, and Dr. H. E. Joham, Department of Plant Physiology and Pathology, will conduct a panel discussion.

Other members of the seminars committee are Dr. R. E. Leighton, Department of Dairy Science, and Dr. A. M. Sorenson of the Department of Animal Husbandry.

Parents Attempt To Overrule New Orleans Integration Rule

By The Associated Press
NEW ORLEANS—Angry white parents boycotted two integrated public schools Monday, condemning four Negro first graders to virtual segregation once again.

"You've got the whole school to yourself now," yelled a woman as three of the 6-year-old pioneers in Deep South school integration entered McDonogh No. 19 school.

Seven U. S. marshals ushered the trio into McDonogh and three others accompanied the Negro girl who went into William Frantz School.

Howling and jeering spectators numbered about 100 at McDonogh but only about 15 women were at William Frantz, the quietest school opening since integration began two weeks ago.

A week's holiday for the city's 93,000 public school pupils wavered down the heat of those who demonstrated violently week before last.

Traucancy and absence in the rest of the city's white schools dropped to nearly normal for a Monday. There was a 99.9 per cent boycott of William Frantz and McDonogh No. 19.

Police cut down the number of men assigned to the two schools, but none counted the school crisis over.

At McDonogh, a building normally bustling with 467 pupils, three Negro girls sat in their first-grade room with their white teacher.

At William Frantz, where 571 pupils normally jostle and chatter, one Negro first-grade girl sat alone with her teacher. In Kindergarten, a white girl sat. In a higher grade, a second white girl studied.

There were no more white pupils there.

It was almost as if everyone were marking time—perhaps waiting for a three-judge federal court to rule on motions to temporarily halt integration, and to abandon integration plans.

Stanine Tests To Be Given Here Saturday

Stanine Tests, the Air Force Officers Qualifying Test, will be given to all interested cadets Saturday and Dec. 10. The testing will be held in Rooms 228 and 229 of the new annex of the Chemistry Building. Cadets are to be in their seats 7:30 a. m.

Any cadets who have not expressed a desire to take the AFQOT, but are interested in taking it are requested to notify Capt. Goode or Sgt. Anderson in Room 311 in the Trigon as soon as possible.

Saturday, all AS2 students with surnames Abbott, Ray E. through Puckett, John E. will be given the test. Also on that date the following conditional students will take the test: C. Bratton, C. E. Cormany, C. P. Connor, E. R. Maldonado, B. Knappe, G. A. Garcia and R. C. Smith. All other students will take the test Dec. 10.

Funds Totaling $137,800 Accepted By College System

Funds from private sources totaling $137,799.93 were accepted by directors of the A&M College System, at a meeting here last week.

The funds were earmarked for support of work in four parts of the statewide A&M System.

Directors accepted a total of $91,441.96 for A&M College, of which amount $41,109.45 was for support of scholarships, fellowships and awards. The college also received $20,670 for the Student Conference on National Affairs; $2,010.51 went to the Memorial Student Center, the major portion of this money supporting the Student Leadership Conference. A total of $25,000 was received for research grants-in-aid and $100 as a special gift, to the School of Veterinary Medicine. The college also received a gift of $2,552 to the Dr. John P. Delaplane memorial fund.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station was the recipient of $45,817.97, of which $30,528.44 was for grants-in-aid for twelve research projects; $10,489.53 was in gifts and $4,800 was in loans of livestock and equipment.

Prairie View A&M College received two gifts amounting to $525, to support scholarships, and the Texas Transportation Institute received a $15 gift in support of the McDonald Chair of Transportation.

Debaters Go To Arkansas For Weekend Tournament

Aggie Debaters will journey to Razorback Land this weekend to participate in the University of Arkansas Tournament. The Aggies will have a busy time for the next few weeks, because the following week they travel to Austin for the Southwest Conference Competition.

The Debaters will leave early Thursday morning and return sometime Sunday. Schools from the Southwest Conference as well as from Arkansas and other mid-west states are expected to participate in the contest which is viewed as an important practice session by the participants.

The Junior Division Team, composed of Robert Denny and Dick Stengel, missed out on first place by only one point in the A&M Debate Tournament held two weeks ago. The Junior Team will be a threat to the first place hopefuls.

The Senior Team, composed of Don Williamson and Dennis Shepps, gained valuable experience against some of the best teams in the nation in the Aggie Tournament and is expected to place high on the list of contenders.

H-2, Puryear Named Sign Cash Winners

Cadet Co. H of the 2nd Brigade and Puryear Hall were yesterday named winners of last week's two sign idea contests for the University of Texas Thanksgiving classic.

H-2 won the contest of signs placed around the drill field behind Duncan Hall for the bonfire and Puryear won the weekly dorm contest.

Prizes of $25 and $5 were awarded the winners by Loupot's Trading Post at the Northgate.

In the contest among bonfire signs, Squadrons 4 and 11 tied for second place, the band was fourth and Co. K-2 was fifth.

AH Department Adds Two New Instructors

Dr. John T. Morrow and Duane C. Kraemer have been appointed as instructors in the Department of Animal Husbandry.

In addition to his teaching duties, Morrow is working with radioactive isotopes in determining the origin and operation of sex hormones. Kraemer is teaching horse management and training, and is continuing graduate study toward his doctorate.

Morrow is a native of Birmingham, Ala. He received his BS degree in 1954 at Mississippi State College and his doctorate this year at A&M.

His honors include being high point individual in livestock judging from Alabama in 1953, and fourth in sheep judging in 1953 at Chicago's International Livestock Show.

Kraemer was reared at Reedsburg, Wis. He received his BS degree in 1955 at the University of Wisconsin and his MS degree this year at A&M. He was a member of the senior Honor Society while at the University of Wisconsin.

Both men are members of the American Society of Animal Production.

Biology Prof Named Editor Of Publication

Dr. Sewell Hopkins, a professor of biology, has been appointed editor of the National Shellfisheries Association Proceedings.

He is a recognized authority on parasites of oysters and related shellfish. For the past two summers he was a visiting professor at the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory where he studied the ecology of oysters beds.
