Virginia Educator Visits Tomorrow

A top educator of the nation will visit A&M this week. He will confer with Dr. Wayne Hall, Dean of the Graduate School; Fred Benson, Dean of Engineering; Dr. F. W. R. Hubert, Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, and Dr. T. W. Leland, Head of the Division of Business Administration.

The educator, Charles C. Abbott, Dean of the Graduate School of Business Administration, University of Virginia, will be accompanied to the College by George Maverick of the school.

Abbott will address a conference to be held in Room 107, Francis Hall, at 2 p.m. tomorrow, to which students and faculty members are invited.

The noted educator will explain the advanced studies in business administration as administered by the University of Virginia.

Soviets Fail To Get Congo Special Meet

By The Associated Press
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The Soviet Union failed Tuesday to get an emergency night session of the Security Council on the Congo. It bumped up against angry opposition from the Western powers, who said there was no reason for undue haste.

Soviet delegate Valerian A. Zorin, council president for this month wanted an 8:30 p.m. meeting to air Moscow's demands that Congo authorities grant immediate freedom to deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Consultations were under way among members of the 11-nation council, and a meeting may be called for Wednesday night.

This was the pattern of events: Zorin called on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold at 11:15 a.m. and notified him he planned to summon the council into an emergency night session.

When the United States and other Western members learned of Zorin's plans they charged Zorin was acting in an arbitrary manner and abusing his powers as council president.

A poll of the 11 members failed to win sufficient support for a night meeting.

U.S. Hurls Empire Charge At Soviets

By The Associated Press
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The United States accused the Soviet Union Tuesday of hiding under the "false banner of liberation" while heading the largest colonial empire in the world.

In a slashing attack on Soviet anticolonial activities, U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth told the U. N. General Assembly the Kremlin is "the arch practitioner of this new and lethal colonialism." He called the Soviet role "cynical and hypocritical."

Joining in the long and bitter debate on colonialism Wadsworth said the Soviet Union had appeared in its true colors last Sunday morning when it vetoed the membership application of the new African country, Mauritania.

INTERNATIONALLY-KNOWN FIGURES

SCONA Keynoters: Experts

Highlighting sessions of the Sixth Student Conference on National Affairs, which began this morning in the Memorial Student Center, will be keynote addresses by five internationally known figures, each well versed in the domestic and foreign policies of the United States.

Speaking at the five plenary sessions of the Conference will be Secretary of the Air Force Dudley Crawford Sharp, Pakistan Ambassador to the United States Aziz Ahmed, Ambassador Horace H. Smith, Assistant Secretary of State Thomas C. Mann, and Houston Post Managing Editor William P. Hobby.

Dudley C. Sharp
Sharp opened the sessions this afternoon at 1:30. He spoke on "World Disarmament."

Sharp graduated from Princeton in 1928. During World War II, he served as an executive officer and later a commanding officer in the Navy, serving on anti-submarine vessels and later in the Office of Procurement and Material in Washington.

After the war, he became Administrative manager of the applied physics laboratory, Silver Springs, Md.

Sharp was named Assistant Secretary of the Air Force in 1955. In August, 1959, he became Under Secretary of the Air Force and in December of that year was named Secretary of the Air Force.

Aziz Ahmed

Aziz Ahmed, Ambassador from Pakistan to the United States, will present the second keynote address tonight at 8 in the MSC Ballroom. Ahmed will speak on "Lesser Developed Lands."

A veteran of 30 years government service, Ahmed has served as Pakistan's Ambassador to the United States since March of 1959. When Pakistan became an independent sovereign state in 1947, Ahmed became chief secretary in charge of all services in East Pakistan, and later Secretary to the Cabinet of the Central Government of Pakistan.

In 1958, he was appointed Secretary General to the Government of Pakistan, a post he held until his appointment as Ambassador to the United States.

Horace H. Smith
Thursday at 8 p.m., SCONA delegates and the public will hear Horace H. Smith, state department adviser to the War College of the Air University, Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., speak on "The United States Foreign Policy in the Changing World."

Smith's address will be the only major speech given in Guion Hall. Smith entered the United States Foreign Service in 1938.

In 1954, he was sent to Korea where he helped negotiate the famous "Minute of Understanding" with Korean President Rhee.

Smith helped in the reorganization of the Foreign Service in 1955.

He served two years as ambassador to Laos before taking his current assignment as State Department Advisor to the Commander of the Air University.

Thomas C. Mann
"The Americas" will be the topic of the fourth keynote address, to be given by Thomas C. Mann, Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs.

Mann's speech is scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday in the MSC Ballroom.

Born in Laredo, Mann has served with the State Department since 1942 when he was named Special Assistant at the United States Embassy in Montevideo, Uruguay.

In 1950 he was appointed Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs, and in 1953 went to the American Embassy at Athens, Greece, as Deputy Chief of the U. S. Mission.

Mann has also served as Counselor of Embassy in Guatemala and United States Ambassador to El Salvador.

W. P. Hobby, Jr.
William P. Hobby, Jr., Managing Editor of the Houston Post, will be "Round-Up" speaker at the final SCONA session, 12:15 p.m. Saturday.

Hobby graduated from Rice University in 1953. He served in the Navy with the office of Naval Intelligence from 1953 to 1957.

He was special correspondent for the Houston Post during President Eisenhower's Far East visit, and special Post correspondent to the Democratic and Republican National Conventions this year.

He has served as managing editor of the Houston Post since April, 1960.

Hobby has published articles in The Reporter, The Texas Quarterly and the Journal of Southern History.

The public is invited to hear all the keynote speeches. There is no admission charge.

Rich in history and rich in promise, too—that's York County, Pennsylvania.

And the telephone company covering this prosperous and progressive community has recently become a member of the General Telephone family.

York's pattern of growth is typical of the areas Gen Tel serves in 31 states. Long famous for its fertile fields and well-kept farms, the county has enjoyed a remarkable industrial expansion since World War II.

Typical, too, of these growing areas is their growing need for more telephones. And that is where Gen Tel comes in with the experience to provide improved service and the willingness to invest in modern communications equipment.

This is just one of the ways we are working to supply more and better telephone service for a growing America—present and future.

Regalia For The January Commencement Exercise
All students who are candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy are required to order hoods as well as the doctor's cap and gown. The hoods are to be left at the Registrar's Office no later than 1:00 p. m., Tuesday, January 17 (this will be accomplished by a representative of the College Exchange Store). The Ph.D. hoods will not be worn in the procession since all such candidates will be hooded on the stage as a part of the ceremonies. Candidates for the Master's Degree will wear the cap and gown; all civilian students who are candidates for the Bachelor's Degree will wear the appropriate uniform. All military personnel who are candidates for degrees, graduates or undergraduates, will wear the uniform only. Rental of caps and gowns may be arranged with the Exchange Store. Orders may be placed between 8:00 a. m. Tuesday, January 3 and 12:00 noon Saturday, January 14. The rental is as follows: Doctor's cap and gown, $5.25, Master's cap and gown $4.75, Bachelor's cap and gown $4.25. Hood rental is the same as that for cap and gown.

AEROSPACE CORPORATION

are creating a climate conducive to significant scientific achievement

"Essentially, this corporation will be people—people of the highest quality. The United States Air Force recognizes that men of great scientific and technical competence can perform at their best only when they can exercise their initiative to the full under leadership which creates the climate for creativity. We expect Aerospace Corporation to provide that kind of environment."

Among those providing their leadership to this new non-profit public service corporation are: Dr. Ivan A. Getting, president; Allen F. Donovan, senior vice president, technical; Jack H. Irving, vice president and general manager, systems research and planning; Edward J. Barlow, vice president and general manager, engineering division; and Dr. Chalmers W. Sherwin, vice president and general manager, laboratories division.

These scientist/administrators are now selecting the scientists and engineers who will achieve the mission of Aerospace Corporation: concentrating the full resources of modern science and technology on rapidly achieving those advances in missile/space systems indispensable to the national security.

The functions of Aerospace Corporation include responsibility for: advanced systems analysis; research and experimentation; initial systems engineering; and general technical supervision of new systems through their critical phases, on behalf of the United States Air Force.

Aerospace Corporation is already engaged in a wide variety of specific systems projects and research programs—offering scientists and engineers the opportunity to exercise their full capabilities, on assignments of unusual scope, within a stimulating environment.

Immediate opportunities exist for MS and PhD candidates completing requirements in engineering, physics, and mathematics, and interested in:

- Theoretical Physics
- Experimental Physics
- Inertial Guidance
- Propulsion Systems
- Computer Analysis
- Applied Aerodynamics
- Space Communications

Those capable of contributing in these and other areas are invited to direct their resumes to:

Mr. James M. Benning, Room 164 P.O. Box 95081, Los Angeles 45, Calif.
