

INTERPRETING Kennedy Thought Favoring Break

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Although the incoming John F. Kennedy administration was not directly involved in the decision to break diplomatic relations with Cuba, one phrase of President Eisenhower's statement comes very close to the "moral support" of Fidel Castro's enemies for which Kennedy called during the campaign.

In it may be found a clue as to what the so-far-silent Kennedy thinks of the U.S. action.

Kennedy criticized Republican handling of the Cuban crisis and suggested the United States should support Castro's opponents—presumably those in the United States as well as in Cuba and other parts of Latin America. Later, recalling inter-American agreements against intervention, he said he meant moral support.

In explaining the break in relations, Eisenhower expressed his hope and conviction that normal relations could be resumed in the not too distant future.

That represents a public expression of hope from one of the world's most powerful figures—that the Castro regime will come to an end. Since it is a military regime, it is hardly likely that its end can be brought about except through application of at least some force, over and beyond the economic collapse which many observers consider overdue.

Castro, having forced his coun-

CADET SLOUCH by Jim Earle College Given Desk, Chair Of Richard Coke

"... great to be back, isn't it?"

"... I'm beginning to worry about Jethro—he's been just sittin' there every since he's been back!"

A&M has been given a personal desk and chair belonging to Governor Richard Coke, father of A&M College, President Earl Rudder has announced.

The gift will be placed in the Asbury Room of the Cushing Memorial Library, along with Governor Coke's books previously received and a number of pictures and portraits belonging to the former Texas governor.

The 'Coke Corner' of the Asbury Room, as it has become known, will be of considerable interest to all visitors throughout the years, Rudder declared.

The desk and chair will be placed alongside the bookshelves containing Coke's books. On the wall by the desk will be pictures of Governor Coke, his wife, Mrs. Richard (Mary Elizabeth) Coke, Coke's diploma from William and Mary College issued in 1848, a picture of the Texas capital building in 1874 and a reproduction of the marble memorial tablet in the main lobby of the Richard Coke Building.

While governor, Coke served as the first chairman of the Board of Directors of A&M. His speech of Oct. 4, 1876, the main address at the official opening of the college, is said to have been a truly inspiring address.

The gift was given the school by Dr. John S. McCelvey of Temple.

Second 'Christian Heritage Thought' Series Revealed

A second quarter of courses in the area of "Christian Heritage and Thought," begins Monday in the experimental Lay School of Christian Studies being conducted by campus chaplains. A first quarter series on advanced theology was completed in December.

Purpose of the lay school is to give laymen an opportunity to study Biblical and theological fields on a more advanced level than could normally be done within the framework of local congregations. The growing need for theologically-orientated laymen in all professions has long been felt in continental Europe, and massive lay schools have become major annual events, particularly in Germany. One national church body has already made inquiry regarding the local school in an attempt to learn more of what is being done for lay theological training.

Courses Offered

Courses to be offered in the quarter from Jan. 29-Mar. 9 will include the following: "The Early Church Fathers," a historical study of the great leaders of the apostolic church; to be taught Thursdays at St. Thomas Church by Pastor Alfred Johnson, Episcopal chaplain.

"The Existential Posture," a study of the basic approach and teachings of the existentialist school of theology; to be taught at St. Thomas Church on Thursdays by Pastor John Combs and Intern Bruce Felker of the Wesley Foundation.

On Monday evenings, at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, two courses will be offered: "The Mind of the Reformation," a study of the background and basic documents of the Reformation period, to be taught by Pastor Mel Bulgerin and Intern George Fry of the Lutheran Student Foundation.

"Protestant Christianity," a study of theological movements within Protestantism since the Reformation, will be taught at the same time and location by

1961: YEAR OF DECISION

Well sir, here we are in 1961, which shows every sign of being quite a distinguished year. First off, it is the only year since 1951 which begins and ends with the Figure 1. Of course, when it comes to Figure 1's, 1961, though distinguished, can hardly compare with 1911, which, most people agree, had not just two, but three Figure 1's! This, I'll wager, is a record that will stand for at least two hundred years!

1911 was, incidentally, notable for many other things. It was, for example, the year in which the New York Giants played the Philadelphia Athletics in the World Series. As we all know, the New York Giants have since moved to San Francisco and the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City. There is a movement afoot at present to move Chicago to Phoenix—the city, not the baseball team. Phoenix, in turn, would of course move to Chicago. It is felt that the change would be broadening for residents of both cities. Many Chicago folks, for example, have never seen an iguana. Many Phoenix folks, on the other hand, have never seen a frostbite.

There are, of course, certain difficulties attending a municipal shift of this size. For instance, to move Chicago you also have to move Lake Michigan. This, in itself, presents no great problem, what with modern scientific advances like electronics and the French cuff. But if you will look at your map, you will find that Lake Michigan is connected to all the other Great Lakes, which in turn are connected to the St. Lawrence Seaway, which in turn is connected to the Atlantic Ocean. You start dragging Lake Michigan to Phoenix and, willy-nilly, you'll be dragging all that other stuff too. This would make our British allies terribly cross, and I can't say if I blame them. I mean, put yourself in their place. What if, for example, you were a British workingman who had been saving and scrimping all year for a summer holiday at Brighton Beach, and then when you got to Brighton Beach there wasn't any ocean? There you'd be with your inner tube and snorkel and nothing to do all day but dance the Lambeth Walk. This, you may be sure, would not make you NATO-minded!

I appeal most earnestly to the residents of Chicago and Phoenix to reconsider. I know it's no bowl of cherries going through life without ever seeing an iguana or a frostbite, but I ask you—Chicagoans, Phoenixians—is it too big a price to pay for preserving the unity of the free world? I am sure that if you search your hearts you will make the right decision, for all of us—whether we live in frostbitten Chicago, iguana-ridden Phoenix, or narrow-lapped New Haven—are first and foremost Americans!

But I digress. We were speaking of 1961, our new year. And new it is! There is, for one thing, new pleasure in Marlboro Cigarettes. How can there be new pleasure in Marlboros when that fine, flavorful blend, that clean easy draw filter, have not been altered? The answer is simple: each time you light a Marlboro, it is like the first time. The flavor is such that age cannot wither nor custom stale. Marlboro never palls, never jades, never dwindles into dull routine. Each pack, each cigarette, each puff, makes you glad all over again that you are a Marlboro smoker!

So, Marlboros in hand, let us march confidently into 1961. May good fortune attend our ventures! May happiness reign! May Chicago and Phoenix soon recover from their disappointment and join our bright cavalcade into a brave tomorrow!
