Georgia Segregation Laws Dealt 'Killing Blow' By Judge

By The Associated Press MACON, Ga.—A federal judge dealt a killing blow to Georgia school segregation laws Thursday but took no action to return two Negro students to the University of Georgia from which they were whisked by order of the governor after campus rioting Wednesday night. U. S. Dist. Judge W. A. Boatle invalidated the state appropriation law against the use of tax money for the support of an integrated public school or college. He continued in effect an injunction granted Tuesday against Gov. Ernest Vandiver and other state officials which has kept them from closing the university by cutting off funds. Vandiver had planned a temporary shutdown for legislative repeal of the fund cut-off law. Attorneys for the Negro students asked for another injunction to cancel suspension of Charlayne

A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, and speed them back to classes at the University in Athens, Ga. Overruling them for the time being, Boatle told the attorneys to file a written motion and he would consider it as soon as possible. Donald L. Hollowell, counsel for the students and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, prepared to draw up the motion. Boatle said the funds cut-off provisions of the state statute were patently unconstitutional and that similar laws have been struck down time and time again in other Southern states. The new decree of Boatle, who last week brought on a series of developments culminating in the campus riots by ruling the Negroes must be admitted to the university, made it unnecessary for the legislature to do any amending of the funds cut-off law.

When Christopher Columbus began his probe of an unknown ocean there were many who predicted he would soon reach the edge of the world... and fall off into nothingness. Today we are probing that nothingness. The edge of the world is everywhere; and man eagerly reaches for whirling worlds that pioneers yet unborn may colonize. As we explore the vastness of God's creation we realize with greater awe His might and majesty. But greater, we know, is our need for understanding His Will, and His Love for man. For man can take to his new worlds tomorrow only the Truth and Faith and Life he discovers in this world today. Therefore, while a few gifted scientists are building highways from the edge of the earth, the Church is offering everyone opportunity to probe the spiritual depths which shall determine our destiny.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
