

Visual Workshop Slated Tomorrow

The Department of Education and Psychology will sponsor an Audio-Visual Education Workshop tomorrow at the Memorial Student Center.

The workshop is for all students in teacher education and the theme will be "More Effective Use of Modern Tools of Communication."

Robert Brown, educational consultant and manager of the Development Department, for Encyclopedia Britannica, will conduct the workshop.

Certificates will be given those persons participating in all sessions of the workshop, Dr. Grady Parker, Head of the Department of Education and Psychology, said today. There is no charge. "All education majors, both graduate and undergraduate, are urged to attend every session their schedules will permit," Parker says. Others are invited.

The workshop will be five hours in length, as follows: 8-8:50 a.m.—New Horizons in Education; 10-10:50 a.m.—Teaching With a Sound Motion Picture; 11-11:50 a.m.—Teaching With a Filmstrip; 1-1:50 p.m.—How to Evaluate a Sound Motion Picture; 2-2:50 p.m.—Preview and Evaluation Session in Curriculum Areas and Grade Levels.

"Practical suggestions and demonstrations will be given which will offer help to teachers in more effective use of filmstrips," Parker announced.

Ping Pong Journey Opens Next Tuesday

Are you good at ping-pong? If you will want to enter the Campus Championship Tournament, Tuesday and March 1 and 2. Winners in the Campus tourney will be sent to the ACU Region IX meet at a place and date to be set later.

Finals in the campus tournament will be held March 4. Entrants may secure entry blanks which will be available at the MSC game desk by the bowling alley. The contests will include both singles and doubles, and the winners in each division will be eligible to attend the district finals. It is important that all entries be in before noon, Friday.

Unconfirmed reports circulated of political killings at Stanleyville in revenge for the slaying of ex-premier Patrice Lumumba.

British diplomatic sources said a firing squad Monday executed opponents of Antoine Gizenga's Communist-backed Stanleyville regime—men plucked from about 20 Congolese prisoners. An account published in London said one of the victims was Alphonse Sombu, Lumumba's former communications minister who later broke with him.

This would be a Luxury to millions overseas

Fresh eggs daily, a bottle of milk, a potato—we take them for granted—but these basic foods would be a luxury to millions of people overseas.

Of all ages, races and colors—these people are victims of disaster: displacement, earthquake, poverty, famine, flood... war. Food is just one problem. And there are others—clothing, shelter, a lack of equipment to build lives anew.

How can you help? Give generous support to the Overseas Aid Program of your faith. These far-reaching programs provide food, tools, clothing, homes, jobs, farm machinery, education and technical training—hope for millions!

When your religious faith makes its appeal, do give generously

Rayburn Wins First Test In House Rules Committee

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., Wednesday won his first test of strength in the House Rules Committee which the House recently reorganized at his insistence.

By identical votes of 8-6, the committee killed Rayburn-opposed proposals to allow broadcasting of House proceedings and to curb federal spending without direct appropriations.

It put off until Thursday a vote on another measure opposed by Rayburn. There were indications it would modify the proposal to overcome the speaker's objections. The measure would create a committee to study national fuels policy.

The committee votes were the first since the House, by vote of 217-212, upheld Rayburn's plan to break the power of a conservative coalition by boosting committee membership from 12 to 15. Wednesday's action clearly demonstrated that Rayburn forces are now in control of the committee.

In the past, a coalition of four Republicans and two Southern Democrats had frequently blocked legislation supported by the six other Democrats.

The resolution to permit broadcasting of House and House committee proceedings was designed to overcome Rayburn's repeated rulings that present rules do not permit it. Senate committee hearings may be broadcast, and in 1953-54, when Rep. Joseph W.

Safety Contest Prize List Revealed

A complete list of winners in the annual Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Co. college newspaper safety edition contest that was won this year by The Battalion has been released.

Publications and journalists from 14 colleges and universities throughout the country shared the prizes totaling $2,400. Eighty-nine school submitted entries.

The first prize copped by The Battalion in the daily newspaper division was a $500 cash prize.

First prize for an over-all safety campaign in the non-daily field went to The Purple and White of Millsaps College in Jackson, Miss.

Second among daily publications was The Daily Texan of Texas University. In a tie for third place were The Daily Aztec of San Diego State College and The Daily Trojan of the University of Southern California.

In the non-daily field, a second place tie involved The Wartburg News of Wartburg College in War-bury, Iowa, and The College News of Murray State College in Murray, Ky.

Prizes other than the $500 won by the A&M publication and The Purple and White were $250 for second place and $100 for third place.
