

Industrial Education Lectures Revealed

By GERRY BROWN

Four prominent speakers are slated for the Department of Industrial Education's annual Industrial Safety Series.

The Department believes that the program which takes up phases of Laboratory and Industrial Health and Safety will prove interesting to all students who are majoring in engineering or science. The programs are scheduled to be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Biological Sciences Lecture Room.

The first of these programs will be Tuesday, Mar. 7, and the speaker will be Herb Lanier, Director of the Greater Waco Safety Council. Lanier directs one of the most effective and vigorous civic safety activities in the United States and has been long active in the National Safety Council. As an authority in the field of civic safety he will discuss the topic "Combating Industrial and Civic Safety Activities."

H. A. Hevis, Chief Engineer of the State Department of Health, will speak on "Radiological Health and Safety" Mar. 21. Hevis, representing a State agency, will present a vivid picture of the problems of radiation safety in the communities and the industries of Texas.

"The Magic of Fire" will be the subject taken up by Paul Witt, Health and Safety Engineering for the U.S. Department of Interior, Bureau of Mines, Apr. 6.

This program is one of several excellent and authentic programs which the Bureau of Mines has presented depicting the hazards of fire. As a well-versed expert in the sometimes overlooked dangers of fire, Witt has planned a spectacular program that should be of great interest.

Dr. D. K. Kilian, Head of Industrial Medicine for the Dow Chemical Co. at Freeport, will present an Industrial Safety Series program for the fourth consecutive year, Apr. 18. Those persons who have seen Kilian's illustrated lecture on chemical hazards, particularly to the eye, have judged the lecture to be of inestimable value to those lucky enough to have the unimpaired vision of healthy eyes. The program is especially recommended to safety students and chemical students.

The Department of Industrial Education will conclude the Industrial Safety Series with a program to be held May 4 but details on this last lecture will not be made available until later. All faculty and students who are interested in this year's Series program are urged to attend.

Jobless Bill Goes To House

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—A billion dollar aid-to-jobless bill—No. 1 on President Kennedy's priority list—cleared the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday and headed for passage by the House next week.

The committee approved emergency extension of unemployment compensation benefits after changing the financing provisions to meet objections from Republicans and business groups.

Democratic leaders docketed the bill for House consideration next Wednesday. It was expected to be brought up under a procedure permitting only a "yes" or "no" vote, with no amendments.

The Kennedy administration's objective is to start these additional payments to the long-term unemployed by Apr. 1, and Democratic leaders said they hope to meet that deadline.

The bill would provide up to another 13 weeks of benefits to jobless workers who have exhausted their rights since last June 30. The emergency program would run for two years from that date.

The Kennedy administration has estimated 500,000 or more persons already have reached the limit of their benefits under regular unemployment compensation programs, and that another 2.4 million will do so in the future.

Passage was assured when Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana announced support of a temporary extension of jobless aid.

This help is needed, Halleck said, because of "conditions which have developed" since last November—when Kennedy was elected.

At a news conference in advance of the committee's action, Halleck said Republicans believe the cost should be met by a temporary increase in the current 3.1 per cent pay roll tax paid by employers.

That is the method the committee adopted, rather than providing for a permanent increase from $3,000 to $4,800 in the annual base on which the tax is levied. Kennedy had sought the increase in base.

As cleared by the committee, the estimated $990-million cost—paid by employers—would be advanced out of the Treasury—would be repaid during next year and the year after by a temporary boost of four-tenths of one per cent in the payroll tax.

In hearings before the committee, representatives of business interests objected to any permanent rise in the payroll tax base on grounds it would discriminate among businesses. They also argued it was unsound to enact a permanent change as part of an emergency bill.

The administration has given notice it will ask Congress for permanent improvements in the unemployment compensation system, presumably to apply uniform federal standards.

At present, the size and duration of jobless benefits vary from state to state, with the maximum period running to 26 weeks.

Under the Kennedy proposal, accepted by the committee, payments would be extended up to one-half of the basis benefit periods. Thus, where a state now allows 26 weeks the emergency program would add another 13 weeks. The additional payments would be at the regular weekly rate.

States which already have put in force emergency extensions on their own initiative would receive refunds.

The effective date, last June 30, represents a four-month rollback from Kennedy's proposal that payments go to persons who have run out of benefits since last Oct. 31.

Young Farmers' Field Day Announced For April 17

About 200 young farmers will attend a field day to be held on the A&M campus Apr. 17. They are members of the State Association of the Young Farmers of Texas—an organization of young men interested in agriculture.

The association has the primary purpose of informing its members on measures affecting the welfare of agriculture and to promote, plan and improve farm family living.

Membership is composed of men who are out of high school and who are under 36. The organization is not limited to full-time farmers. Part-time farmers and young men engaged in agriculture-related occupations are eligible for membership.

The program is administered by the Agricultural Education Division of the Texas Education Agency in Austin.

The state advisor for the group is George Hurt, director of vocational agriculture of the Texas Education Agency. J. R. Jackson, of the A&M Department of Agricultural Education is associate advisor.

Area supervisors of vocational agriculture serve as area association advisors.

Serve As Advisors
Local teachers of vocational agriculture serve as local or district advisors.

The total membership of 2,000 is divided up into about 100 chapters.

State officers of the organization are John L. Hall, president, Kirbyville; N. E. Childers, vice president, Quail; D. V. Phipps, vice president, Welch; Bobby J. Tra-week, vice president, Dublin; C. B. Huddleston, vice president, Mabank; Elmer Beerwinkle, vice president, Moody; Gerald Ragan, vice president, Yantis; Ernest Grote, vice president, Fredericksburg; Gordon Koonce, vice president, Hungerford, and Alton A. Goebel, vice president, Cuero.

The field day, the first of two to be held this year, will consist of one morning session and four different afternoon sessions.

Topics to be discussed will include Dairy Cattle Breeding Research, Livestock Selection, Outlook for Poultry and Poultry Products and Better Corn and Grain Sorghums.

ASK - SEEK KNOCK

Everyone knows that success comes not to those who merely desire it, but to those who achieve it through long, hard work.

It is odd then, that in the spiritual area of life some people should expect blessings to come for the asking.

Those who really understand PRAYER know that it's more than mere asking. It is seeking. It is the hungry search for truth and moral enlightenment... digging for spiritual gold in the hills of life.

But PRAYER is something more even than seeking. It is knocking... meeting life's obstacles bravely... waiting with patient determination until closed doors open... entering portals that the more timid pass by.

We wouldn't really need churches if spiritual growth came for the asking. But we do need churches to help us seek the treasures of God. And through our churches, with the united strength of millions of Christians, we knock on the portals of the more abundant life—and there find it.
