

Film Conflict Rages Across U.S.

By The Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO—Rival demonstrators of American liberties are embroiled in a nationwide conflict of intensifying bitterness, roused by a pieced-together movie of the San Francisco City Hall student riot of last May 13.

The disturbances in the City Hall rotunda climaxed a protest demonstration by college students against a hearing by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Sixty-four students from San Francisco area campuses were arrested after police turned fire hoses on the demonstrators inside City Hall. Riot charges against 40 were dismissed. The one remaining accused goes to trial on March 6.

The movie, "Operation Abolition" was put together from television newsreel clips subpoenaed by the committee.

The 45-minute film has been sold and shown in all the 50 states. In the film, committee members declare the student demonstrators were "toying with treason" as the dupes of a Communist drive to destroy the committee and wreck the nation's security system.

"Dishonest Distortion" Committee foes charge the film is a dishonest distortion. They call the movie the principal instrument of "vivid stimulus" spreading a grass roots revival of McCarthyism—without a personal leader like the late Red-hunting Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said last summer the FBI investigation made it evident that students participating in the demonstration were incited and used as dupes by Communist subversives.

In a year-end report Hoover said in December that "the Communist hope to repeat the success which they achieved last May in leading mob demonstrations by college students and other young people against a committee of Congress."

The violent disagreement has spread into churches, schools and industry across the nation, and is continuing to spread.

Protests against the film have flared at universities and colleges across the country—at Rutgers, Harvard, Minnesota, Nebraska and in Indiana campuses.

Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike declared the movie's "distorted presentation" was encouraging a "growth of the radical right and the fellow travelers that has reached much greater proportions than in the days of McCarthy himself."

Student Vulnerability
 Dr. Fred C. Schwarz, Australian physician who heads the Christian Anti-Communist Crusade with headquarters at Long Beach, Calif., declared: "Almost everyone who views the film with an open mind is most profoundly aroused and disturbed by it. It suggests the vulnerability of the student to the clever Communist agitator."

The National Council of Churches, meeting in Syracuse,

N. Y., last week, voiced misgivings about the fairness of the film. It prepared an advisory to churches not to show the film without presenting supplementary facts about it.

The council said the film "does not contribute to a realistic understanding of communism and its dangers to the United States."

The Rev. Dr. Curtis Nims, pastor of San Francisco's First Baptist Church, resigned as director of the Northern California-Nevada Council of Churches in February because the council's board cautioned member churches about showing "Operation Abolition."

More than 600 print copies of the film have been sold, at $100 a copy, reported George Johnson, president of Washington Video Productions, Inc. Johnson said Fulton Lewis III, committee staff member and son of radio broadcaster Fulton Lewis Jr., edited the film and prepared the narration.

Because of questions raised in Minnesota, the St. Paul area Chamber of Commerce sent Jack McCauley, public relations director, to San Francisco in January to check.

"... Tell the Real Story" San Francisco Mayor George Christopher recorded for McCauley a statement saying: "The pictures speak for themselves. They are true. They are authentic. They tell the real story and, of course, they are most unfortunate."

The St. Paul chamber declared subsequently: "We feel the film will continue to be of benefit to our American ideals program."

Fulton Lewis III obtained Mayor Christopher's permission to use the mayor's statement on his father's radio network program.

Irving Hall, 24, California graduate student from Pomona, joined six other demonstration leaders in a statement disputing the mayor. It noted that Christopher did not witness the riot, but was speaking in suburban Burlingame at the time.

The Miami, Fla., school board purchased an "Operation Abolition" print for showing to high school classes. The board took under advisement a Florida Civil Liberties Union request that the classes be given "the whole picture" with a report of the criticisms.

The Lockheed Missiles and Space division with headquarters at Sunnyvale, Calif., shows the film to employees.

"But, we always advise the employe audiences that Lockheed neither supports nor opposes the House committee, but uses the film to show the actions of identified Communists in this area," said Ed Long, security training and education officer.

Following an October showing of "Operation Abolition" on the University of Minnesota campus, the student newspaper, Minnesota Daily, said editorially: "Yesterday we saw a spectacle—hardly a spectacular-conceived in fallacy and aimed at the third grade mind."

It urged: "The House of Representatives ought to take a long second look at the HCUA and a longer look at the Constitution."

John P. Greenagel, vice president of the Student Conservative Club which had sponsored the showing, sharply protested the student paper's news and editorial treatment as "applauding open defiance of the law."

A judicial review of the hotly disputed film report on the riot may be written in the trial of Robert J. Meisenbach, the one student against whom charges are still pending.

In dismissing charges against the others, Municipal Judge Albert A. Axelrod said, "I am convinced that they are not engaged in subversive activities, nor in spreading subversive propaganda."

"... Wrong Means"

"However, they chose the wrong means to accomplish their purpose and let themselves become victims of those who profit by creating unrest, riots and the type of conduct which is outlawed by the penal code."

Meisenbach, 22, an education senior at the University of California, is charged with beating a police officer on the head with the patrolman's own night stick.

"I believe all the facts surrounding the City Hall incident must be brought out to give him a fair trial," declared Jack Berman, Meisenbach's attorney.

"Neither Meisenbach nor any other student started the riot. The cause of the violence was the turning on of the hoses by the police without warning."

Robert Maurer, assistant district attorney, said the prosecution regards the trial as being strictly limited to the question—did or did not Meisenbach assault patrolman Ralph Schaumleffel?

While the trial could shed light on what happened May 13, the bitter debate over authenticity of the film goes on and on.

What's it take to make the right connection?

Plenty! Consider the problem. Western Electric manufactures the switching systems which connect some 60-million Bell telephones throughout the U. S. The average call over today's electromechanical system requires 420 relay operations. All together, this interconnecting equipment makes up the heart of what is, in effect, the world's largest machine.

That's where Western Electric and you come in. The switching equipment for this "machine" involves an enormous manufacturing job carried on by our plants throughout the country. Because of the size and service requirements involved, we require quality standards far exceeding those of ordinary manufacturing. The size of this job presents an unusual challenge to the engineer who may save the Bell System many thousands of dollars by even a small cost-reduction step.

While today's switching calls for a priority on engineering, tomorrow's will be even more exciting. For even now the revolutionary Electronic Central Office is under field trial and promises to remake the world of telephony. Future Western Electric engineers, working closely with their counterparts at Bell Telephone Laboratories, will concentrate heavily on developing manufacturing methods for this ECO equipment.

Your Western Electric assignments may cover many of our other responsibilities as the world's leading communications manufacturer. Perhaps you'll work on advances in microwave transmission, or even on satellite communications.

Joining Western Electric may well be your right connection.

Opportunities exist for electrical, mechanical, industrial, civil and chemical engineers, as well as physical science, liberal arts, and business majors. For more information, get your copy of "Western Electric and Your Career" from your Placement Officer. Or write College Relations, Room 6106, Western Electric Company, 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y. And be sure to arrange for a Western Electric interview when the Bell System recruiting team visits your campus.

Thieves Raid Poker Game

By The Associated Press
BEEVILLE, Tex.—Three bandits using tear gas robbed a rancher and his poker game guests of about $26,000 Thursday.

Melvin Sugarek, 39, said there were 17 other men in the room with him as the holdup men smashed a door at his Lazy S Ranch about 4 a. m., lobbed the gas inside and announced: "This is it. We're going to take it all or everything is going to get killed."

Only wise men and hungry children fully appreciate their blessings!

Many of God's gifts, like the air we breathe, are received without thought. Others, like the abundance of the harvest, we think about only in season. Still others, like our religious heritage, get varying degrees of attention and response according to our spiritual perception ... or the precariousness of our plight.

This isn't Christmas ... or Easter. And we hope it is not a time of personal crisis for you and your family ...

If it's just a normal week, full of the routine of life—then it's an ideal time to remember your blessings. And Sunday will be an ideal day to begin, renew or strengthen that wholesome habit of worshipping God in the church of your choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
