By The Associated Press
 Congressman Jim Wright quoted Kipling and Shakespeare on the floor for politicians Wednesday night but most of the other campaigners for U.S. Senate concentrated on ballot position.

A "don't plan to spend April in Paris" telegram was received by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson from supporters as he shook off an attack of "24-hour virus" in a Paris hospital. Wilson's headquarters said he probably would leave the hospital Thursday to resume campaigning.

From the East Texas town Wilson issued statements favoring the Pat Mayse Dam on Sanders Creek and expressed special interest in water projects in the state. He also commended Jefferson County citizens for Law Enforcement in "efforts to rid the county of or-

Red China Tension Relief Hopes Dim

By The Associated Press
 WASHINGTON — Rebuffed in its first move to relax tensions with Red China, President Kennedy said Wednesday his hopes were dimmed. But he declared America will not surrender to get better relations with Peiping.

Kennedy spoke at a news conference shortly after the State Department reported Communist China had spurned the Kennedy administration's initial attempt to narrow the bitter gulf between the two countries.

At a meeting of ambassadors in Paris Tuesday, the department reported, the Chinese Reds quashed a fresh U.S. proposal for an exchange of newsmen by demanding a condition that this country abandon Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime on Formosa.

Reject Pleas
 The Reds also rejected U.S. pleas for freeing the five Americans held in Red Chinese jails, and they declined to renounce use of force against Formosa.

Asked if he had hoped to move toward more harmonious relations with Communist China, Kennedy replied:

"That was our hope. They are unwilling to do that."

He added:

"They (the Red Chinese) have been, as we know, extremely belligerent toward us, and they have been unyielding in their attacks upon the United States. Of course, I think part of that has been because they recognize that the United States is committed to its own defense and the defense of freedom."

Extremely Harsh
 "They have been extremely harsh in their attacks upon us. I would like to see a lessening of that tension. That was our hope from the beginning."

"But we are not prepared to surrender in order to get a relaxation of that."

ganzed crime and corruption."

The most controversial issue Wednesday was the position of candidates' names on the ballots in different counties. Maury Maverick Jr. of San Antonio took a stand for the alphabetical order as the only way voters "can track their man down."

"I believe that the Maverick voters will come looking for me," he said.

Supporters of U.S. Sen. William Blakley of Dallas also called for the alphabetical order. Wilson's workers urged county election officials to draw lots "in fairness to all of the candidates."

State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez wants to place the candidates in the order they paid their filing fees. Gonzalez was the second of 71 candidates to file.

In a Fort Worth speech, Wright quoted Rudyard Kipling and William Shakespeare. In discussing standards of political conduct he recited lines containing Kipling's "If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue," and Shakespeare's "... to thine own self be true."

Verbal Poke
 He also took a verbal poke at Blakley.

Wright said in a prepared speech "our interim senator in Dallas last Saturday joked about unemployment and boasted that he has found only one item on which he could vote with the President... the confirmation of an appointment."

Maverick, in Temple, called for distribution of U.S. farm surpluses abroad and the protection of farmers from "price-manipulating middlemen."

L.R. Advises Qualified Help

According to the Internal Revenue Service, taxpayers seeking help in preparing their 1960 returns should consult only qualified sources.

Members of the accounting and legal professions usually provide top-notch assistance, an IRS representative noted.

Frequently, taxpayers find business associates in their bookkeeping and accounting departments, and in banks or other financial institutions are qualified to help them, he said.

The IRS representative suggests that taxpayers seeking assistance of a tax advisor in the preparation of their returns should:

1. Be sure the advisor has a permanent place of business or address where he can be reached in case IRS subsequently questions data on the return. You are responsible for the information on your return and you may need to counsel with the person who prepared it if question arise later.
2. If a refund is involved, insist that the refund check be sent to you, except where circumstances require a power of attorney relationship.
3. Beware of those advisors who claim the ability to get large refunds, or who ask a percentage of an anticipated refund as a fee; and
4. Reject those advisors who suggest claiming dependents or deductions to which you are not entitled.

BRITISH PACIFISTS UNIMPRESSED

Submarine Breaks Underwater Record

By The Associated Press

HOLY LOCH, Scotland—The U.S. nuclear submarine Patrick Henry proudly sailed into Holy Loch Wednesday with a world underwater cruising record of 66 days and 22 hours.

Four British pacifists were unimpressed. By canoe and rowboat they moved out toward the great ship but were shoofed off by British launches. One demonstrator's canoe sank. He was hauled out of the water and arrested for disturbing the peace.

The Patrick Henry—with a full load of 16 Polaris missiles aboard—eclipsed the old mark of 66 days set by a sister submarine, the George Washington.

Efficiently and quickly the Patrick Henry moored alongside the depot ship Proteus to take on a relief crew and fresh supplies.

The Patrick Henry is the first American Polaris submarine to arrive in the Holy Loch. Basing facilities are provided under a recent U.S.-British agreement that has touched off "ban the bomb" demonstrations from Scotland to London.

Sailors aboard the Proteus lined the rail and gave a hearty cheer for the Patrick Henry as the submarine glided in through the early morning mist.

Happy crewman on the submarine, wearing red and yellow life jackets, balanced on the black hull and waved back.

The Patrick Henry made the 11,000-mile cruise from Charleston, S.C., with 140 men aboard—13 officers, 122 enlisted men and five civilians representing manufacturers of some of the equipment.

The commanding officer, Capt. Harold E. Shear, said the voyage was made under fully armed patrol conditions with the submarine capable of launching the missiles at any time.

Liz Shows Improvement

By The Associated Press

LONDON—Film actress Elizabeth Taylor was on the road to recovery Wednesday from a nearly fatal bout of double pneumonia, her doctors said.

Dr. Victor Ratner, one of a team of seven medical men who have been treating the brunette star since she was stricken Friday, told a reporter:

"Miss Taylor is definitely improving. She is still, of course, on the danger list but I would not describe her condition right now as critical."

Ratner said Miss Taylor's temperature, which reached 103 degrees, "is now near normal—in fact, only slightly over 99." Normal temperature is 98.6.

Ratner said the 29-year-old Hollywood star is still using an artificial breathing apparatus and is being fed intravenously through an ankle.

"We are all much encouraged. She is a very brave girl," he said.

Twice she was pronounced at the point of death.
