Architectural students Edward Kemp and Donald McMasters have named the A&M winners in the first annual Reynolds Alumni Prize for Architectural Students Contest.

Six schools of architecture in the South Central States have selected local winners in the competition.

Each collegiate winner is receiving a check for $200 for submitting the "best original design for a building component in aluminum" in his school. In addition, the winning design from each participating college has been submitted in the national Reynolds Alumni Prize competition.

The national award, with a prize of $5,000 to be divided equally between the student designer and his school, will be presented April 25 during the American Institute of Architects convention in Philadelphia. The AIA administers the prize program.

Forty-five schools of architecture enrolled in the program of the first annual Reynolds Alumni Prize, which is sponsored by Reynolds Metals Company. Thirty-two submitted entries in the national competition. Schools that were not able to fit the competition

Candidates Lament Oil Industry

By The Associated Press
At least three of the major U.S. Senate candidates lamented Thursday about the Texas oil industry.

Republican John Tower courted the conservative East Texas vote and State Sen. Henry Gonzales addressed a high school assembly at Poteet. U.S. Sen. William Blakley had no announced itinerary.

Wilson left a Paris hospital Thursday after a 48-hour bout with the virus and predicted that his bandwagon is rolling. He also dug at John Tower with the statement that Texas, like Italy, "has a leaning Tower. The campaign of the leaning—or falling—Tower of Texas is giving way to one side because it lacks the foundation in our state."

In a two-day swing into West Texas, Wright addressed a San Angelo luncheon in which he outlined the new industries and air bases in Texas which he said were due in "large part to effective representation in Washington."

"Texas is now suffering its highest unemployment since 1941," said Maverick at a coffee in Commerce. He said 222,800 Texans now are out of work, or 6.3 percent of the total working force.

CLOCK WATCHERS

Are men becoming smaller than the clocks they watch? As we rush from plane to plane, city to city, appointment to appointment, are we shrinking rather than growing?

For centuries men have gone forth from their homes to work, either by foot, ship, horseback or in a jet that can cross a continent between lunch and dinner. Whether in the end it was "worth it" has always depended on whether a man found time as the years went by for those things even more important than success—his family, his home, and his church.

If the demands of your job—the pace of your life—have chained you to a clock that is getting bigger than you are, pause to remember: in any human life there are only so many hours, none of which may be reclaimed once they've ticked by. Pause to realize, too, that it takes only a minute to pray, only an hour to go to church on Sunday—yet the benefits reaped from even such brief dedication to God can be eternal.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
