Grand Jury Starts New Probe In College Basketball Scandal

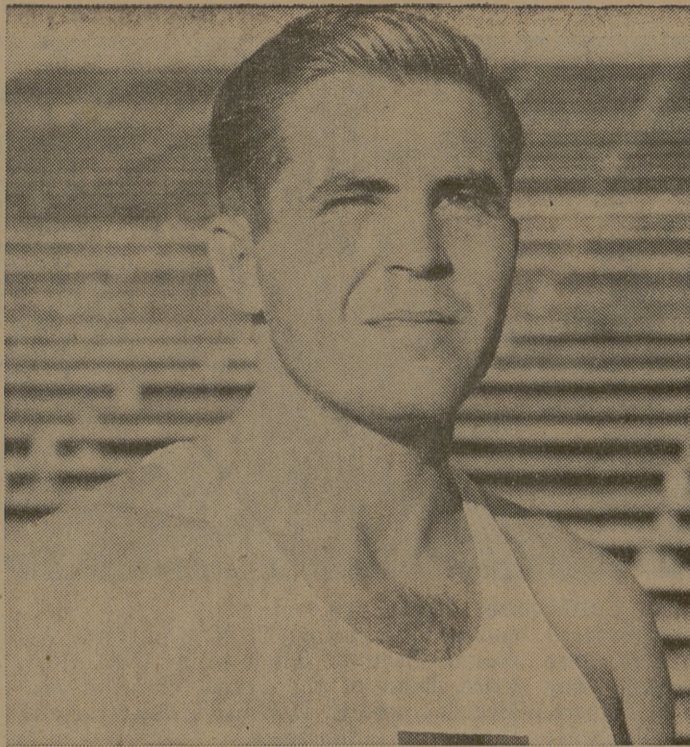

By The Associated Press NEW YORK—The grand jury Tuesday began its probe of the new college basketball scandals, taking testimony from unidentified witnesses in a two-hour session. A spokesman for Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan would not identify the witnesses or reveal if any were players. It was understood, however, that testimony was received from detectives and other investigators working on the probe which became public when Aaron Wagman and Joseph Hacken were arrested and charged with bribing three players to shave points on games in which their teams were involved. Meanwhile, the path was cleared for Wagman, 28, and Hacken, 41, both of New York, to appear before the grand jury, prompting reports that one was turning state's evidence. A New York police source has said the scandal could involve as many as 15 to 25 colleges.

Byron Barber, who was one of the top home run hitters in the SWC last year, is in the number four hitting spot with .357. Barber has added four round trippers to his count this season. From the mound position Spence is also leading with three wins and no defeats. His earned run average is 2.769. Bob Collins has also collected three wins for the season but has one loss charged to him. Jerry Warren's record is two wins and no losses; Don Costlow has a win and a loss; and Ed Singley is charged with one loss.

Baylor, the favorite of the meet, took second place with 36 points while Texas, who was expected to fight the Bears for the title, took fourth place one point behind SMU, who had 25. In all 14 records fell in the three division meet as two were tied. Most of the new records were in the university division. The outstanding performer of the meet was John Fry, the big weightman from Baylor, who set records in the shot put and discus with distances of 57-7½ and 159-9¾ respectively. Other Aggies who managed to get points were Jim Brewer, fourth place in the javelin, Charles Tiemann, fourth in the discus, Curtis Roberts, fourth in the 100-yard dash, and fourth place in the sprint medley relay composed of George Tedford, Gene Dornak, Roberts and Thad Crooks.
