

CADET SLOUCH

by Jim Earle

"... You'll notice on your quiz that the questions do not require 'true' or 'false', but instead 'heads' or 'tails'!"

BULL-HEADED BULL
UNION, S. C. (AP)—Herman Crocker believes he has a real bull-headed bull. Lightning struck the bull's nose ring and down went the animal.

But he was only unconscious, Crocker reports, and was up and about in 10 minutes.

'Texans Face Grave Issues'

Texans, as well as all Americans, face a number of grave and threatening issues all of which are of serious consequence to our way of life. "We must examine our goals and our methods of reaching them and outline a plan of action which will help guide us through the years ahead," Dean Wayne C. Hall said today at Texas A&M.

Dr. Hall was referring to the threat of international Communism and to economic, sociological, and political problems as are related to the role of government, urbanization of the population, scientific and technological advancement, expanding economy, and many others.

Clearly, he said, it is important that our present position be analyzed and a vision of the future be projected, particularly the period spanning the next 15 years.

He said that responsibility for leadership for such visionary efforts rests in large measure with those people engaged in higher education. "Our neighbors across the street, indeed those from every part of the world, look to colleges and universities for leadership of this kind," the Dean added. It is in institutions of higher education, he remarked, that ideas are born, nourished, and the good ones flourish to bring health, happiness, and well being to everyone. "We, at Texas A&M, have recognized this acute need for introspection and evaluation of goals and methods if we are to make our full contribution to the future well being of Texas and our nation," Dean Hall added.

Dr. Hall cited the forthcoming July 25 symposium, known as the Faculty-Staff Conference on Aspirations — the first major step in the extensive self-study effort by the College in conjunction with the Century Study —, as a good example of the College's foresight in helping to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

The one-day conference will be keynoted by three distinguished educators — Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University, Dr. Daniel Aldrich, dean of agriculture-statewide, University of California, and Dr. Paul A. Miller, provost, Michigan State University. Each of these educators will give the staff and faculty of Texas A&M the benefits of the experience gained through comparable internal studies previously conducted at their respective institutions.

Dr. Hall, who is general chairman of the conference, said the one-day meeting is open not only to members of the College's committee on Aspirations but also to each faculty and staff member. The afternoon sessions, he said, will be discussion and question-answer in nature to encourage and stimulate individual thought about the challenges ahead.

Gibbons To Present Paper in Tennessee

Dr. Derek Gibbons has been invited to present a paper at the fifth annual conference on Analytical Chemistry in Nuclear Reactor Technology at Gatlinburg, Tenn., Oct. 10-12. Dr. Gibbons is associate head, Activation Analysis Research Laboratory and associate professor of chemistry, Texas A&M.
