

Senate Drafts Protest Letter

(Editor's Note: Student Senate voted Thursday to send the following letter to the president of the Louisiana State University student body. Copies of the letter were sent to A&M Dean of Students James P. Hannigan and L.S.U. Dean of Students John A. Hunter.)
President of the Student Body
Louisiana State University
Baton Rouge, Louisiana

MR. PRESIDENT:

It is my unfortunate duty as representative of the Student Senate of Texas A&M College to inform you of the unpleasant treatment to which our Yell Leaders and student body were subjected before and during the football game of last Saturday night and to lodge protest against such treatment.

Upon arrival at your campus, A&M student body representatives failed to receive the courtesy of a formal greeting; in fact, their presence on the campus was completely ignored by the L.S.U. student body from the time they arrived, until the game was over.

The Aggie student body witnessed at this game perhaps the worst display of sportsmanship it has ever encountered on any campus. Our Yell Leaders were barraged by scores of coke cups and other pieces of flying litter and were harassed to the point that they were unable to effectively lead the yells. A&M students were continually heckled by L.S.U. fans and were made the targets of obscene oaths and gestures throughout the game.

The Student Senate of Texas A&M deeply regrets it was necessary to write such a letter, but it was felt that the matter should be brought to your attention so that in the future no repetition of this sort of conduct will occur.

It is sincerely hoped that relations between our respective schools will return to the traditionally friendly rivalry that has always prevailed in the past.

Kenneth G. B. Joyce, Chairman
Student Life Committee
Texas A&M Student Senate

MOVIE go ROUND

PALACE

Through Saturday—★★★ "The Millionaire" Savage-eyed Sophia Loren hips and dips through a role in which she is rather convincingly a woman with "everything. Innocent Peter Sellers is her reluctant beau.

Sunday through Tuesday—★ "Ada" Susan Hayward portrays a woman with a past. Dean Martin portrays a politician with a future. The movie hardly portrays anything.

QUEEN

Through Saturday—★★ "Battle Stations" and "Legion of the Nile". Neither movie is designed to revamp the artistic world. Mission accomplished, yet entertainingly so.

Sunday through Tuesday—★★ "Posse From Hell" The posse should have stayed there. Just another western.

CAMPUS

Through Saturday—★★★★ "Saturday Night and Sunday Morning" Albert Finney portrays an angry young Englishman who fights marriage, neighbors and himself. A solid cast helps him shine beyond belief. No children allowed—at least physically.

CIRCLE

Through Saturday—★★★★ "The Guns of Navarone" Also "White Feather" "Guns" is terrific both quantitatively and qualitatively. The viewer if he is wise, can time his arrival for the first of "Guns," thus missing "White Feather."

SKYWAY

Saturday only—★★ "When Comedy Was King," "The Hanging Tree" and "Hong Kong Confidential" Although sandwiched by losers, "The Hanging Tree" almost—but not quite—saves this trio.

Sunday through Tuesday—★ "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea" and "Esther and the King" Quite a pair. A science-fiction minus science and historical minus history.

GUION HALL

Friday night—★★★★ "The Apartment" and "Elmer Gantry" Attendance should be mandatory. Enough said?

Saturday and Sunday—"Surprise Package" Unreviewed. —Tom Nickell to the aid of the many Aggie gentlemen, that for Mrs. Allison's information, happen to grace this campus.

For two years I have observed our pseudo-beautiful secretaries on their pseudo-important missions. It seems that all secretarial paths lead to the MSC coffee shop. Furthermore, our secretaries, like all other women, can see no farther than the mirror in their compact.

Girls, I believe the procedures on most campuses (or elsewhere) is to look where you are going. And I must say that I have never seen a member of the fair sex "flattened" on this campus or anywhere else.

Contrary to Mrs. Allison, I have found that most women are impressed with a "Howdy, Ma'am," when delivered by a Texas Aggie. Speaking is usually directly associated with courtesy, but of course, Emily Post could be wrong.

It seems strange to me that people are always biting the hand that feeds them. Without these "pseudo-chivalrous" Aggies there would be no need for secretaries on this campus.
