

Napoleon Bonaparte says:

I'd never have lost
to Wellington*
...if I'd been wearing a Jockey
POWER-KNIT
T-SHIRT

Q: You mean...?
A: Oui! I spent so much time tagging at my baggy, saggy T-shirt... I couldn't concentrate on the battle.

Q: I see. Well do you realize that Jockey's new T-shirt is Power-Knit with a quarter again as much resilient combed-cotton yarn to stay soft and keep its perfect fit, even after countless washings? The new Seamfree® collar won't sag; the full-proportioned body won't bag. And the deep-neck tail stays every inch as long as the day your Jockey Power-Knit T-shirt came fresh out of the package.

A: NOW he tells me!

*Napoleon's final defeat came at the hands of the Duke of Wellington in the Battle of Waterloo, June 18, 1815.

College Station State Bank
... in new building Nov. 15

C. S. Savings and Loan
... brick and lava

C. S. Bank Builds Modern New Plant

The College Station State Bank will move to its new site Nov. 15. Located two blocks east of the present site, the charcoal grey brick building will have 7,000 square feet of centrally heated and air conditioned space.

The main attractions of the building are two drive-in windows, a walk-in window, eight paying and receiving teller booths, one collection window and a note department.

"The growth of College Station and the bank made it necessary to provide better banking and parking facilities," said Harold Sullivan, bank president.

Merrell and Vrooman were the architects. The building was contracted by the B-W Construction Company.

In 1946 the bank was established with a capital of $50,000 and a $10,000 surplus. At this time the bank was located in two small pre-fabricated buildings on its present site.

In 1949 the present building was built while the bank was operated in a small frame building one-half block east of its present location. Since its establishment the bank has grown to its present capital of $200,000 and $105,000 surplus.

Savings And Loan Building In Use

College Station Savings and Loan moved into its new building last summer.

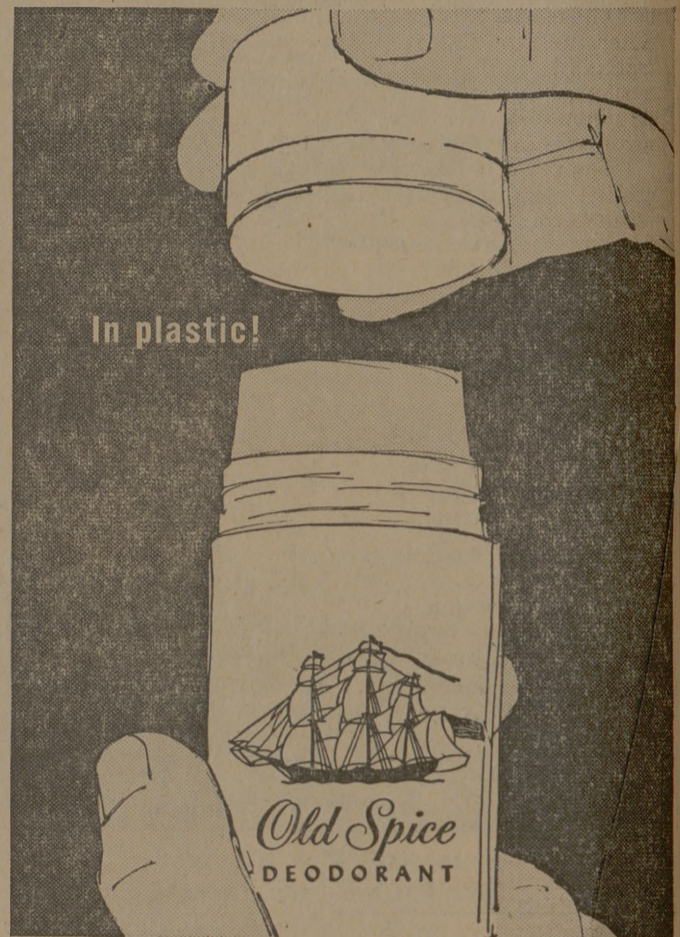

The modern 3,400 sq. ft. white brick building with panels of black lava was designed by W. R. Matthews and built by the Andrews Parker Company of Bryan. It was landscaped by Caldwell and Caldwell.

Features of the building include a drive-in window, plenty of parking space, central heating and air conditioning, recessed lighting, modern furniture and walnut paneling.

College Station Savings and Loan was established May 25, 1959, with a capital of $221,800 and a surplus of $55,450. It was located in the A. M. Waldrop Building until it moved to its new building last Aug. 29.
