Debate Club Begins Activities; Labor Topic Sparks Meeting

The A&M Debate Club started its annual round of speaking and debating last night with a clash on the subject of labor unions and the anti-trust laws. The "affirmative" team, composed of Charles Grey and Robert Denney, upheld the proposition that Labor should, in certain cases, come under the jurisdiction of anti-trust legislation, while Nik Lundy and Richard Heindrich upheld the labor movement and argued that further controls are unnecessary.

Blinn College of Brenham sent about 15 delegates to hear the debate, which was deemed very good for an opening to the season. Denney, president of the club, welcomed Mrs. Burgess, Debate Coach of Blinn College and her students. After the debate, Dr. H. E. Hierth, coach and sponsor of the organization, offered constructive criticism to the participants.

The Debate Club has its first major test of strength in the Texas Christian University tournament scheduled for Nov. 3-4. The club plans to enter a full complement of teams in the tournament and expects to do very well.

Anyone who is interested in debate or speech work, or anyone who just wants to sit-in on a debate is invited to attend one of the club's meetings. The debate club meets every Monday night in the Birch Room of the Memorial Student Center.

Farm Bureau Chief Hits Government Control Of Farmers

McALLEN, Tex. (AP)—The president of the American Farm Bureau hit at what he called "government interference" in agriculture in an address Monday night.

"After 80 years of government meddling in agriculture, it's time we realized the only thing federal government interference with prices can do is to make things worse," Charles D. Shuman said.

Shuman, of Sullivan, Ill., addressed a meeting sponsored by the valley farm bureau, Mercedes, Tex.

"The government route involves strict production controls and price fixing devices. This is the main reason we have surpluses and income troubles in agriculture today," he said.

British Guiana Hits US For $25 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cheddi Jagan, British Guiana's left-wing prime minister, met for almost an hour with Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday. Afterward he called the meeting "very useful and fruitful."

Jagan told reporters that Rusk expressed concern with economic underdevelopment in general particularly in British Guiana.

Jagan said he needed about $25 million for his $65-million five-year plan.

Wearing a sports jacket and red necktie, Jagan smilingly explained he had been scheduled to meet with Rusk for 15 minutes. "Here I am almost an hour later," he said, "so you can see that it must have been a very useful and fruitful discussion."

Jagan, a Chicago-trained dentist and an admitted Marxist, said that was no discussion of politics. That subject was covered in an earlier 40-minute session with U. Alexis Johnson, deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Jagan told newsmen his country would join the inter-American system when it attains independence from Great Britain. He said he did not think participation in the inter-American system would interfere with membership in the British Commonwealth.

British Guiana, under its present constitution, enjoys internal self-rule but foreign affairs and defense are under British jurisdiction. It can apply for complete independence in August 1963.

British Teacher Says Red Chinese Making 'Advances'

HONOLULU (AP)—A retired British educator returning from a trip to Red China, says she found the people there happy because they have "something to do, something to eat and some place to live."

Miss M. F. Adams said the Communists have made "tremendous advances since liberation in extending education to the children of the peasants." She said they study languages, mathematics, social studies, history, geography and subjects much like those taught in American classrooms.

Miss Adams, an English school teacher for 40 years and holder of the Order of the British Empire, said, "I am not a Communist. Make that very clear."

"The professors assured me that they have freedom of thought," Miss Adams said, but, she noted they have chosen "the Marxist-Lenin view of life." Those who have not accepted this view have quit teaching, she said.

Quick Dessert

Company coming? You can make a luscious quick dessert by splitting two sponge-cake layers (from the bakery or your freezer). Put one of the layers together with vanilla pudding; sandwich the other together with apricot preserves spiked, if you like, with rum or cognac. Frost the top of both cakes with whipped cream and serve a wedge of each, twin style, for each partion.

800 Protest Houston Port Training Red

HOUSTON (AP)—About 800 Houstonians turned out Monday night for the first Houston Chapter meeting of the National Indignation Convention.

They met to protest the training of a Yugoslavia port official in Houston; the training of that country's jet pilots in the U.S., and the sale of jet planes to Yugoslavia.

"If you train your enemy you are helping him," Maj. H. C. Knickerbocker Jr. of Dallas said. "And that's treason."

Knickerbocker was the Air National Guard officer who first made public the training of the pilots at Perrin Air Force Base in Sherman.

"You and I have had to cough up something like $2.4 billion for the Yugoslav government," he said.
