Saxton, Rhome Still Leading

Special To The Battalion
 James Saxton of Texas and Jerry Rhome of Southern Methodist increased their leads for ball-carrying and forward passing honors, respectively, but TCU's Sonny Gibbs held on to the total offense leadership in the face of their imposing totals Saturday.

Saxton fell only two yards shy of his school-record total of 173 yards the previous week and is now within striking distance of the Texas record of 841 yards for a season. Saxton has gained 706 while averaging 9.1 yards per carry and is only 135 yards off the Longhorn mark of 841 set by Byron Townsend in 1950.

For the second straight week Saxton gained more yardage rushing than his three leading rivals combined.

Rhyme bettered two season high marks as he increased his forward passing leadership to a 10-completion edge over Gibbs. Rhyme completed 17 of 26 passes, both tops for the year, for a gain of 141 yards and two touchdowns against A&M.

Rhyme rallied the Mustangs to two touchdowns to overtake the Aggies in the second half, but the better-balanced Aggies beat off the challenge to win. Rhyme has completed 56 of 101 attempts and his completion percentage of .554 is now second only to Texas Mike Cotten who has a .574 percentage. Cotten is also the leader in touchdown passes with seven, three more than the runner-up figure shared by Gibbs, Bobby Ply of Baylor and George McKinney of Arkansas.

Saxton, who had a 66-yard scoring run, gain 11 yards on Gibbs in the total offense department despite a good day by the Frog quarterback. Gibbs rushed for 51 yards and completed 10 of 20 passes for 109 yards in the loss to UCLA. Teammate Tommy Crutcher, sophomore fullback, took over fourth place in ball-carrying with again of 81 against UCLA. Jerry Cook of Texas and Coolidge Hunt of Texas Tech held on to third and fourth, respectively.

Jesse Branch of Arkansas was runner-up to Saxton for the week with a gain of 93 as Arkansas took rushing and total offense honors for the day. The Razorbacks gained 275 on the ground and 68 overhead to outdo Texas A&M which totaled 315 in whipping SMU.

Good punting for the week featured Bake Turner of Texas Tech, who averaged 47.3, Babe Craig of A&M and Bob Wayt of Rice.

The unbeaten Texas Longhorns maintained their commanding lead in the weekly Associated Press college football poll Monday while Purdue and Syracuse moved into the top ten.

The Longhorns, 33-7 victors over Baylor Saturday for their eighth straight triumph, were named the leading team by 41 of the 47 sports writers and sportscasters on the committee.

Alabama, which clobbered Richmond 66-0, remained in second place, followed by Ohio State, Louisiana State and Minnesota.

There were no changes among the first five, but there was some wholesale shifting in the next five, except for Colorado, which held onto the No. 8 spot.

Mississippi, 54-0 winner over Chattanooga, advanced one place to sixth. Purdue's 7-6 conquest of Michigan State resulted in two changes, the Boilermakers moving into seventh place and the Spartans dropping from sixth to ninth. Syracuse defeated Colgate for its third in a row and climbed from the also-rans to 10th position.

Georgia Tech, which lost to Tennessee 10-6, and Missouri, beaten by Oklahoma 7-0, dropped out of the first ten.

Ohio State, LSU and Minnesota scored victories over the weekend. The Buckeyes beat Indiana 16-7, LSU defeated North Carolina 30-0 and Minnesota, tied with Ohio State for the Big Ten Lead, upended Iowa 16-9. Colorado's hopes for its first unbeaten season since 1937 ended as it lost to Utah 21-12.

Texas collected 463 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. Alabama had 401 points, Ohio State 365, LSU 365 and Minnesota 307. Alabama had three votes for first place, Ohio State two and LSU one.

Texas and Alabama are the only unbeaten-untied teams among the leaders. The Crimson Tide is also 8-0. Ohio State, tied by TCU in its opener, has won its last six.

In the only meeting between teams in the first ten this Saturday, Purdue (5-2) is at Minnesota (6-1). Texas takes on TCU (2-4-1), Alabama meets Georgia Tech (6-2), Ohio State faces Oregon (4-4), LSU (7-1) goes against Mississippi State (5-3), Mississippi (7-1) plays Tennessee (4-3), Colorado (6-1) is at Nebraska (3-4-1), Michigan State (5-2) is host to Northwester (4-3) and Syracuse (3-2) is at Notre Dame (4-3).

The top teams with season record and first place votes in parentheses, and total points:

1. Texas (41) (8-0)	463
2. Alabama (3) (8-0)	401
3. Ohio State (2) (6-0-1)	365
4. Louisiana State (1) (7-1)	336
5. Minnesota (6-1)	307
6. Mississippi (7-1)	234
7. Purdue (5-2)	101
8. Colorado (6-1)	61
9. Michigan State (5-2)	60
10. Syracuse (6-2)	47
