

Vols' Sophomore Tailback Named To AP's Back of Week

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mallon Faircloth, a rugged sophomore who spearheaded Tennessee to one of the biggest upsets of the Southeastern Conference football season, was named Associated Press back of the week Tuesday.

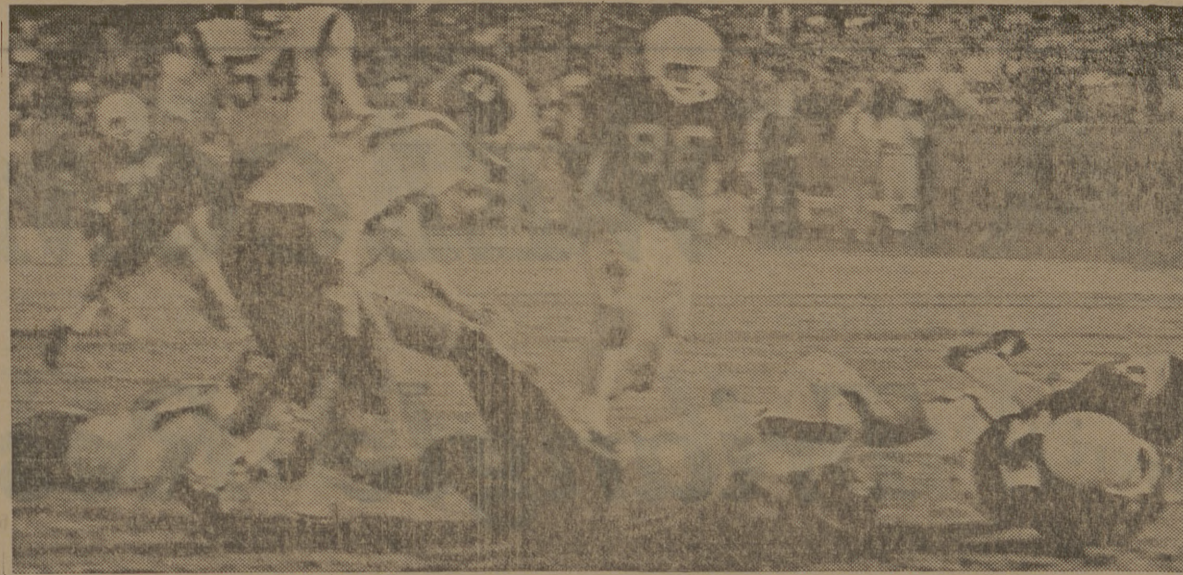

The 19-year-old tailback generated much of the impetus as the Vols turned back nationally ranked Georgia Tech 10-6.

Faircloth was closely pressed for the honor by another 19-year-old sophomore, quarterback Frank Budka, an all-purpose leader in Notre Dame's 26-20 victory over Pittsburgh. Other backs gaining wide support were Walt Rappold of Duke, Wendell Harris of Louisiana State, Tom Batten of Florida, Gary Hertzfeldt of Utah, Tom Haggerty of Columbia, George Reed of Washington State, Chuck Lamson of Wyoming, Jim Saxton of Texas and Kermit Alexander of UCLA.

Faircloth, a 182-pounder from Cordele, Ga., got the Vols vital yardage time and again in the bitter struggle with Georgia Tech.

Budka passed for one touchdown and set up another. On defense he intercepted a pass which led to a score and stole another of the game. Budka also recovered a Pitt fumble.

One of Brice's Runs

Ronnie Brice (11) is stopped on the one-yard line by SMU's Guy Reese (70) after an eight yard gain. Brice carried the ball four consecutive times from the SMU 39 (26) and Max Christian (54).

John Erickson Fifth Best Passer In The Conference

John Erickson, the Aggies' junior quarterback, has been one of the brightest spots in the sporadic Cadet attack this fall. In the eighth week of play he remains the only Aggie listed in the Southwest Conference's weekly roll of statistical leaders.

The six-foot, 184-pound man under is currently the league's fifth best passer. He has completed 32 of 59 passes attempted for a good .542 percentage. His passes have netted 452 yards, two touchdowns and a two-point conversion. Only Sonny Gibbs of TCU has a better gain per pass than Erickson's 14.1 yards per completion.

Erickson's longest pass completion came against SMU last weekend when he connected with Sophomore Travis Reagan for a 56-yard gainer.

Fullback Lee Roy Caffey dropped out of the top ten rushing leaders, but still leads the Cadets with 261 yards on 60 carries. Caffey has averaged 4.3 yards per carry this season and has yet to be thrown for a loss.

Jim Linnstaedter and Sam Byer are close behind Caffey in rushing chores. Linnstaedter has carried 56 times for 238 yards and Byer has carried 65 times for 221 yards.

Ronnie Brice, who runs and throws equally well, continues to be the team's second leading passer. He has completed eight of 14 passes for 111 yards and two touchdowns. His .571 completion percentage is second only to Mike Cotten of Texas.

Speedster Travis Reagan leads the Aggies in pass receiving, scoring, and pass interceptions. He has caught 9 passes for 188 yards, one touchdown and one conversion. His 38 points on six touchdowns and one conversion place him far ahead of his teammates in the scoring column. In addition to snagging A&M aerials, Reagan has managed to get in the way of three enemy passes and return them for 67 yards.

Second in pass receptions is Junior End Bobby Huntington who has grabbed seven for 65 yards, a touchdown and a conversion.

Third receiver is Halfback Bob Caskey who has caught six for 67 yards and one touchdown.

Linnstaedter, Reagan's soph running mate, has intercepted three passes also this season, but has returned them only 21 yards for second place in that category.

George Hargett, soph halfback from Linden, and Linnstaedter have been the busiest punt returners for the Cadets. Hargett has returned six for 61 yards and Linnstaedter, eight for 50 yards. In kickoff returns, Hargett boasts the best average, with two for 50 yards and 25.5 yards per return. Linnstaedter has been on the receiving end most often, returning seven for 104 yards.
