

SWC Touchdown Production Increases 27 Per Cent

DALLAS (AP)—Southwest Conference football teams achieved their objectives of stepping up their attacks in the 1961 season by increasing their touchdown production by 27 per cent.

Climaxing the campaign Saturday with one of the bigger offensive sprees of the season, five members counted an aggregate of 14 touchdowns to push the season total to 180, 38 more than were scored in the 1960 season. Co-champion Texas was the most improved offensively, scoring 42 touchdowns in contrast to only 22 the previous season.

Texas A&M and SMU also showed big gains in touchdown scoring, while Arkansas, Rice and Baylor scored the identical number they counted in 1960.

Field goal production increased at even a higher percentage with an all-time record of 26 kicked this season, almost twice as many as the 14 scored last year. The 1960 total was also a league record.

Butch Blume of Rice established both team and individual field goal records for a season when he kicked two in the 26-14 conquest of Baylor. That ran his season total to six, eclipsing the individual record of 4 set by Dan Petty of Texas last year and erasing the team mark that was shared by Rice and Texas.

Both Baylor and Texas Tech equaled the old team record this season, and H. L. Daniels of the Red Raiders matched Petty's standard by kicking three field goals in Tech's 16-14 come-from-behind victory over West Texas State Saturday.

Seven of the eight members stepped up their scoring in 1961, with only Texas Tech falling short of the 1960 figure. Although the Red Raiders failed to boost their scoring, they improved their total offense per game from 214.5 last year to 252.0 this season. Texas made the biggest gain in scoring, 164 to 291, but SMU and A&M accomplished the highest percentage increases with gains of 31 to 92 and 73 to 184, respectively.

Texas was the per-game leader in four of the six per-game statistical departments, was runner-up in a fifth and ranked fourth in the other. The Longhorns set a new rushing record per game (285.8) and threatened their own total offense mark. Arkansas, which shared the championship with Texas, took top honors in per-game defense against passing and was runner-up to Texas in four other categories.

Baylor led the passing gain per game, while SMU emerged with the best completion percentage for the season (.520). Baylor also led in touchdown passes (14) to 11 for Texas.

Texas A&M emerged as the team leader in punting with a thin 38.0 to 37.9 edge over Rice with just one more kick for the season, 59 to 58. A&M also led in pass interceptions (19).

Baylor Workout For Gotham Bowl

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Baylor hustled through its first workout Monday in preparation for the Gotham Bowl game next Saturday at New York.

Coach John Bridgers said "our reports and films indicate Utah State might well be the best team we have met this season."

The Bears had no important injuries from last week's season closing game with the Rice Owls and quarterback Bobby Ply, who was able to pass but couldn't run, will be back at full speed for the Gotham Bowl.

Bridgers said Merlin Olsen, Utah State line star, was regarded by the pros as the finest tackle in college football. "But they also have another fine tackle and a really great guard that would have to rank too as line leaders," Bridgers declared.

"Their line will be the biggest we have met this season and will outweigh us about 20 pounds to the man, which means we are going to have to spread out and throw that ball if we expect to stay with a fine, powerful team like Utah State."

ALL - SOUTHWEST 1961

1961 AP All-Southwest Conference Team

Ends: Bob Moses, Texas, and Johnny Burrell, Rice. Tackles: Don Talbert, Texas, and Robert Johnston, Rice. Guards: Ray Schoenke, SMU; Johnny Treadwell, Texas, and Dean Garrett, Arkansas (three-way tie). Center: Raymond Schoenke of Southern Methodist, one of the juniors on the team, made a guard position by himself but there was a tie for the other spot between Dean Garrett of Arkansas and Johnny Treadwell of Texas. Treadwell is the other junior.

Alworth, Saxton Lead All-SWC Team

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—An All-Southwest Conference team that includes two juniors and only two repeaters from last year — Lance Alworth of Arkansas and Johnny Burrell of Rice—was named Monday by the eight coaches.

The coaches were unanimous in their thinking about only two players. One was Alworth, the all-around backfield star of the Razorbacks. The other was Jim Saxton, the mighty runner of Texas.

However, it was in the backfield that there was no question about who would make the team. Saxton, Alworth, Mike Cotten of Texas and Roland Jackson of Rice were head and shoulders above all others. Saxton and Alworth are half-backs, Jackson is a fullback and Cotten a quarterback, thus the backfield was actually picked by position despite the fact that only the four top backs are supposed to be named and often it comes out with only halfbacks.

Bob Moses of Texas was an easy choice for one of the end positions but Burrell had to beat out Jimmy Collier of Arkansas for the other job. Collier lacked only one vote of tying Burrell.

There was no question about the tackles — Don Talbert of Texas and Robert Johnston of Rice made the positions easily.

Bill Hicks of Baylor won the center spot without real competition. The second team looks strong enough to play anybody a good game: ENDS — Collier and Buddy Iles, Texas Christian.

TACKLES—John Childress, Arkansas, and Bobby Plummer, Texas Christian.

GUARDS—Herby Adkins, Baylor, and Wayne Freiling, Texas A&M.

CENTER — Max Christian, Southern Methodist.

BACKS — Guy Gibbs, Texas Christian; Ronnie Bull, Baylor; Coolidge Hunt, Texas Tech, and George McKinney, Arkansas.

Patterson Retains Title Over McNeely

TORONTO (AP)—Floyd Patterson floored Irish Tom McNeely eight times Monday night while knocking out the previously unbeaten dead-game challenger in 2:51 of the fourth round of a free-swinging brawl to retain his world heavyweight boxing title.

McNeely also slipped down several times and managed to stagger the champion whose hand just about scraped the floor in the wild fourth round.

It was obvious that McNeely, a 10-1 underdog, came to fight. He went out a badly battered and beaten man but a brawler who won the cheers of the crowd.

Referee Jersey Joe Walcott, the ex-champion, counted out McNeely as he gamely struggled to get back on his feet after the last knockdown.

The 24-year-old challenger, unbeaten in 23 previous fights, drew an ovation from the fans as he left the ring. For a few fleeting seconds in the fourth round, he had Patterson on queer street but the sleek and fit champ snapped out of it and resumed his attack.

The champion, vowing he would be 100 per cent better than in his last title defense in March against Ingemar Johansson, weighed 188 while the beaten challenger checked in at 197.

Patterson won easily as expected but McNeely was hardly the sacrificial lamb he was supposed to be. He showed the Maple Leaf Gardens fans why he is known as boxing's angry young man.

McNeely rushed to the attack from the opening bell, shoving off the champ, but Patterson's left hook dropped him in the middle of the first round. He was up on one knee at 1 but had to take the automatic 8 under the Ontario commission rules. In a few seconds McNeely was down again on his green trunks with the white shamrock on the side. This time Walcott called it a slip.
