It is said that the reason the Southwest Conference is so popular in the bowl games is because the teams over the country feel they have a good chance to beat the conference representatives.
There also is another reason. The Southwest Conference is bowl conscious, feels it is good for its teams to play in the big football spectacles and moreover there's money in it. About a half million dollars per year.
The records show that the Southwest Conference has done absolutely the worst of any league in the bowl games. Since 1957 conference teams have been in 13 bowl games, lost eight, tied two and won just three.

This year the conference will have four teams in bowl games with Baylor starting the campaign this week by playing in the Gotham Bowl at New York. Then will come Rice in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston next week, Texas in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Jan. 1, the same time Arkansas is playing in the Sugar Bowl.

losses. It doesn't look too good for the conference's chances in bowl games coming up.
Mississippi certainly appears pretty tough for Texas. Kansas, which plays in the Bluebonnet Bowl, might be had by Rice. Arkansas doesn't figure to beat Alabama, the nation's No. 1 team, in the Sugar Bowl. Baylor is a tossup against Utah State in the Gotham Bowl.

Intramurals

Quarter-final competition in Class B intramural basketball will be held tonight in G. Rollie White Coliseum. Semifinals will be played Monday and the finals are Wednesday night.
Class B volleyball will begin Monday afternoon on the third floor of White Coliseum. Games will be played Monday through Friday at five p.m. and on Tuesday and Thursday nights.
Tomorrow's afternoon intramurals have been postponed but the evening bowling and ping-pong will be played as scheduled.

What are the prospects of the conference teams making a good showing for a change and getting rid of all this derisive talk over the country, where they say we're in the bowl games just for the money.

This year the conference made a most unusual showing in inter-sectional football, winning 13 out of 21 games and tying one. Victories over such worthies as Louisiana State, Pitt, Florida, Kansas and Oklahoma and Texas Christian's 7-7 tie with mighty Ohio State enhanced the league's reputation immeasurably.

But what did they do against teams that will be playing in the bowl games? First, there's Mississippi, which meets Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Mississippi made Arkansas look mighty bad in beating it 16-0 and thoroughly dominating the game.

While Rice beat Louisiana State, which will be playing in the Orange Bowl, Louisiana State licked Texas A&M. Rice lost to Georgia Tech decisively. Georgia Tech will play in the Gator Bowl. Texas Christian lost to UCLA, which will be playing in the Rose Bowl.

The record is two victories against bowl teams against four

Utah State Battle Baylor Saturday

NEW YORK—(AP)—Utah State's unbeaten football team held its first workout Wednesday in the Polo Grounds, scene of its Gotham Bowl meeting with the Baylor Bears Saturday.

The Aggies (Utah State that is), who ended their regular season with nine victories and a tie with Wyoming plus No. 1 ranking in The Associated Press poll, stressed pass defense in the 90-minute drill.
"After all, Baylor led the Southwest Conference in passing so we'll have to be on our guard," said John Ralston, the Aggies' coach.

The Gotham Bowl football game between Utah State and Baylor in the Polo Grounds Saturday will be nationally televised by the American Broadcasting Company, the network said today.

"We have watched movies of the Baylor team in action since last week and they have pretty good passers in Don Trull and Ron Stanley and two other fine backs,

Ronnie Bull and Sonny Whorton. "Washington State had an offense similar to Baylor's. We beat them 34-14, but they passed for 180 yards and both their touchdowns came on passes."

The 48-man Baylor squad was scheduled to arrive in New York Wednesday night. The Bears dropped their final game of the campaign Saturday, 26-14 to Rice, and wound up with five victories and five defeats.

"We haven't played since Nov. 18," Ralston pointed out, "so we have a lot of work to do. We'll have one practice, maybe two, tomorrow and one more on Friday. This is the first trip to New York for most of our guys and I'm hoping they'll concentrate on football at least until Saturday. We'll be here until next Tuesday so there'll be plenty of time for them to have a good time after the game."

Almost 20,000 tickets have been sold for the new bowl, according to Bob Curran, the game's director. The Polo Grounds seats 55,000.
