

O'Brien Injured; May Have To Quit

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Parry O'Brien, whose about-face technique revolutionized shot-putting, said Thursday an injured finger may force him to retire.

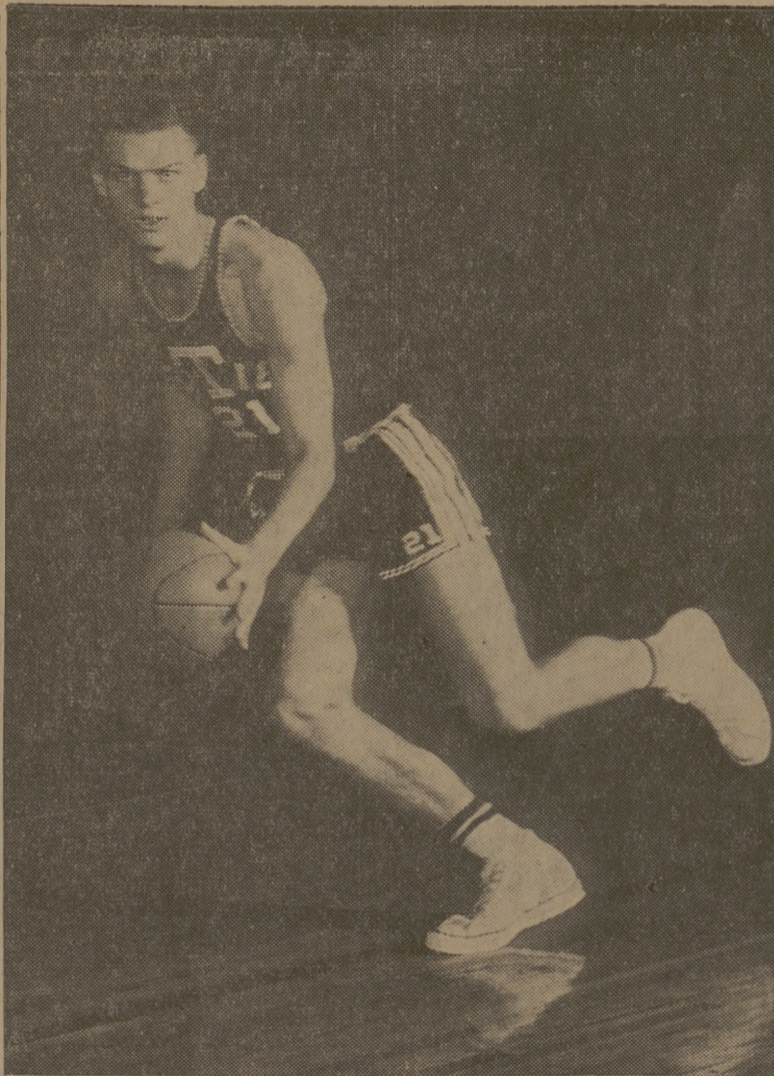

The two-time Olympic champion and first man to throw the 16-pound ball 60 feet said the recurring injury to his right index finger definitely would keep him out of the National AAU Indoor Championships Saturday in New York.

"It doesn't look like I will ever put the shot again," he said softly at his suburban Brentwood home.

He strained the first joint in the finger during a workout last week. He said his finger slipped on the leather-covered shot.

O'Brien was to face young New York University ace Gary Gubner in the AAU meet — the man who just two weeks ago handed 31-year-old O'Brien the first indoor defeat of his career.

Stanley Dancer led harness drivers in purse money won at the 1961 Yonkers, N.Y., meetings. He took down $270,327.50.

Keller Helps Ags In Two Sports

When the 1961 football season ended for the Aggies on Thanksgiving Day, most of the varsity team members were content to settle down to relatively quiet lives as ordinary students until time for spring training. But the following Monday found one of the grid-ders, junior quarterback Jim Keller, joining his teammates and Coach Bob Rogers for the ensuing basketball season.

Keller, a 6-3, 190-pound from Terrell, came to A&M in 1959 on a basketball scholarship. In the spring of last year he decided to try for a spot on Jim Meyer's football squad. He had no college experience but was an all-stater at Terrell High.

The 20-year-old physical education major has so far been an integral part of Roger's relief quintet in varsity basketball. He has scored 35 points and has the best free throw percentage on the team, .875. Keller's game high came against Seattle when he dropped in 11. He has collected 19 rebounds.

Jim was third string quarterback in the '61 spring training, backing up Ronnie Brice and Jim Linnstaedter. He saw plenty of action in actual season play, earning his first varsity letter. Playing safety, he was an important part of the Aggie defense.

Hogs Here Tonight

The Aggie cagers' Southwest Conference championship hopes were dimmed considerably in Houston when they were downed by the Rice Owls, but there is still a good chance for at least a tie for the title — providing SMU and Tech each lose a game.

Arkansas' Razorbacks invade Aggieland tonight and with them is the nation's outstanding free throw shooter — Tommy Boyer, a 6-6 forward from Fort Smith, Ark. Boyer has the best charity percentage shooting in the country, but he isn't the only one on the team who can hit from the line.

Jerry Carlton, a second team All-SWC choice last year, is also accurate from the free throw line. He is third in season scoring in the SWC with 376 points and an 18.0 average.

Boyer is the top scorer in SWC play with 214 points and is three points ahead of SMU's Jan Loudernilk. A&M's Carroll Broussard has 189 points.

Arkansas is a position team — one that works for the shots. The Razorbacks are a fine rebounding team as their team height is around 6-5.

Earlier in the season, the Razorbacks edged the Aggies in Fayetteville, 64-59. The Hogs have a 5-6 record in the SWC and are presently in sixth place, one game behind the Texas Longhorns. Coach Glen Rose's Hogs edged the Baylor Bears Tuesday night in Waco, 76-75.

Probable starters for Arkansas are: Carlton (6-1), Boyer (6-6), Jerry Rogers (6-2), Jim Wilson (6-6), and Larry Wofford (6-5).

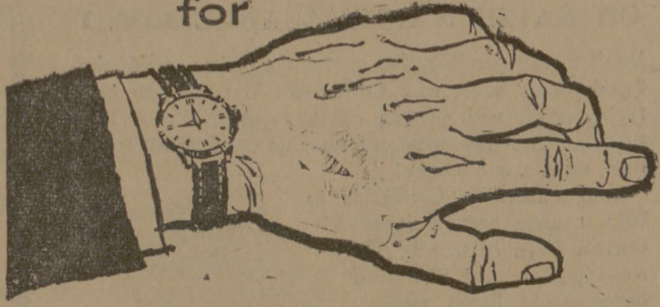

Coach Bob Rogers will probably go with Broussard (6-5), Benny Johnson (6-3), Jerry Windham

(6-6), Tommy Smith (6-5), Bennie Lenox (6-2).

The game was originally scheduled for Saturday night, but because the high school tournament was set for Saturday at the White Coliseum for Saturday, A&M - Arkansas was rescheduled for Friday night. Game time is 8 p.m. and there will be a man game.
