

Pass In Review

Batt men who recently returned from conducting a journalism seminar with the staff of The Echo, Inmate Publication of the Texas Department of Corrections at Huntsville, got a letter the other day. It was from the editor.

The Batt men, it seems, had preached long and loud on the virtue of typewritten copy. So last week the editor received a two-page news story, laboriously lettered by hand. At the bottom was this note from the convict-reporter:

"Next time I'm going to turn in typed copy if I have to steal a typewriter!"

Now, now. That sort of thing can get you put in jail. We can't help but notice; the ex-Texas Ranger staff's new endeavor, "Bacchanal," is going over great at A&M. Even Cadet Slouch creator, Jim Earle, had a cartoon in the new mag.

"... We're still celebratin' 'Carroll Broussard Day'—We haven't been to class all week!"

Teasip Lauds Senate Stand

The Battalion Editor:
I was quite surprised in reading about A&M's Student Senate decision to reject the constitution of the Southwest Conference Student Association. It now appears to me that the Aggies can at least think for themselves, and can't necessarily be led around as sheep like the typical college students who are so eager to jump on any bandwagon without first seeing who is driving or which direction it is going.

The Southwest Conference Student Association has not been sanctioned any authority to set any policies. It is only capable of giving out a few ego-building titles to be placed underneath the senior pictures in the annuals and getting undue publicity for expressing the whims of a small group.

I do not think that the Southwest Conference Student Association represents the views of the student bodies, faculties, board of trustees or coaching staffs of the Southwest Conference members. It is a privilege, rather than a right for students to have an intercollegiate athletic program. The abuse of privileges often results in the loss of privileges.

Please don't get me wrong. I am a staunch Southwest Conference fan and think it is the greatest. So... Gig 'em Aggies!

PROPHET WITHOUT HONOR

BALTIMORE (AP)—In a famous restaurant on Fayette Street, a visitor from the West asked if the place were a favorite of H. L. Mencken.

"I don't know," the waiter replied. "Does he play for the Colts or for the Orioles?"
